DELBERT HOSEMANN
Secretary of State

Fellow Mississippians:

For decades, Mississippi has published the Blue Book, the State's Official and Statistical Register. The Blue Book represents a snapshot of the Magnolia State's history, documenting everything from elected officials' biographies to university populations to the storied history of our various government properties. School children use the Blue Book for research projects. Libraries catalog it in their reference sections. Private businesses view it as a valuable background information resource. Simply put, the Blue Book is a staple in Mississippi.

This year, as Mississippi celebrates its bicentennial birthday, the 2016-2020 Blue Book holds special significance. Mississippi, like every state in our Nation, has seen many challenges in its first 200 years. But we in Mississippi are hard-working, resilient, and faithful people. From Statehood in December 1817 to the present, we have also seen many successes including progress in our voting process, unmatched creativity in areas such as music and the arts, and significant growth in our economy. This year's Blue Book details some of these successes.

Reminiscing about how far we have come together gives me great hope for Mississippi's next 200 years. Thank you for all you do to contribute to making our beautiful and unique State a wonderful place to live and work.

Sincerely,

Delbert

DEFINING MISSISSIPPI

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the inhabitants of the western part of the Mississippi territory be, and they hereby are, authorised to form for themselves a constitution and state government, and to assume such name as they shall deem proper; and the said state, when formed, shall be admitted into the Union upon the same footing with the original states, in all respects whatever."

The above quote is from an enabling act signed on March 1, 1817 by President James Madison which granted admission of the western section of the Territory as the State of Mississippi.

On December 10, 1817, President James Monroe signed the joint resolution granting Mississippi entrance into the United States as the nation's 20th state. Mississippi's statehood followed 20 years of governance as a U.S. territory; a century of colonial rule under French, Spanish, and British authority; and thousands of years of inhabitation by Native Americans of the Woodland and Mississippian cultures and their descendants: the Biloxi, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Natchez, and Yazoo tribes.

As Mississippi marks the bicentennial of its statehood, we celebrate our State's rich history and reflect upon our next 200 years. How shall we define our State for future generations? That decision is in our hands.

Our ties to the land we call home, combined with our creativity, generosity of spirit, and industriousness have defined many of the brightest moments of our past. With this strong foundation, our State is suitably positioned for success throughout the 21st century and beyond. But, ultimately, how we define Mississippi will be determined by the beliefs, goals, hopes, and dreams of our people. We alone have the honor and duty to define what our State represents to our fellow citizens and to the world around us.

The new Mississippi State Capitol building, our State's third, was completed in 1903 at a cost of more than $1 million. Mississippi Governor A.H. Longino presided over the dedication ceremony.

History Defined

Mississippi's history, from the earliest prehistoric civilizations to the present day, has all the characteristics of a gripping novel. There is opportunity, struggle, conflict, and redemption.

While our history may be behind us and our best years ahead, knowledge of our shared story is indeed the key to understanding our current times. As Mississippi's great novelist, William Faulkner, put it in his Requiem for a Nun, "The past is never dead. It's not even past."

Mississippi's past, of course, predates written history. We are archeologically rich among American states, with more than 19,000 prehistoric archaeological sites on record and one of the world's greatest concentrations of prehistoric archaeological sites found in the Yazoo Basin of the Mississippi Delta.

More than 10,000 years before the arrival of European settlers, Native American tribes built ceremonial earthwork mounds, and their artisans used clay, stone, wood, bone, and deer antlers to craft pottery, weapons, tools, and ceremonial items. Modern discovery of these artifacts has given us insight into our State's earliest occupants and fueled imagination and research activity around the world.

Natchez Under the Hill

Spanish explorer Hernando de Soto discovered the lower Mississippi Valley in the mid-1500s, but French explorers would be the first Europeans to establish colonies. Natchez, which celebrated its 300th anniversary in 2016, is regarded as one of the oldest and most important of these early settlements. The city was founded in 1716 with the construction of Fort Rosalie, a French outpost near the Grand Village of the Natchez tribe.

During Mississippi's antebellum period, Natchez boasted more millionaires than any other city in the United States and was frequented by many prominent American figures of the time, including Aaron Burr, Henry Clay, Andrew Jackson, Zachary Taylor, Ulysses S. Grant, Jefferson Davis, Winfield Scott, and John James Audubon. The "Under the Hill" region of Natchez boasted a notorious and decadent reputation due to the rowdy, and often dangerous, characters frequenting the popular river port.

Today, Natchez is known far and wide for its architectural marvels. Natchez showcases more antebellum homes than any other U.S. city and holds bi-annual pilgrimages cherished by lovers of architecture, history, and Southern culture. While Natchez was largely spared from the ravages of the Civil War, other cities were not so fortunate. Jackson, for instance, was burned to the ground by Union troops, leaving only brick chimneys behind and earning the city the nickname "Chimneyville."

Vicksburg had particular strategic importance. It was regarded as "The Gibraltar of the Confederacy" due to its heavily defended position overlooking the Mississippi River and its railroad connections to other Southern states. Confederate President Jefferson Davis called Vicksburg "the nail head that holds the South's two halves together." And Abraham Lincoln famously declared, "Vicksburg is the key. The war can never be brought to a close until the key is in our pocket." Those words proved prophetic. Following the 47-day siege and battle over the city, the Confederacy was effectively cut in two, and the Union soon had full control of the Mississippi River.

In commemoration of the siege and defense of Vicksburg, the Vicksburg National Military Park was established on February 21, 1899, making it the eighth oldest national park in the United States. The 1,800-acre park contains 1,325 historic monuments and markers and a National Cemetery where the remains of more than 17,000 Union soldiers – the most of any National Cemetery in the country – have been laid to rest.

A century after the ravages of the Civil War, Mississippi would become a pivotal battleground in the struggle for African-American civil rights. This period was a painful chapter in our State's history, but out of the era a great many transformative ideas and heroes of the movement were born.

The nation's first state-operated Civil Rights Museum is part of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History's Two Mississippi Museums project, which also includes the Museum of Mississippi History.

While the idea of a Mississippi Civil Rights Museum has long been discussed, it took the combined efforts of Mississippi governors past and present, a broad and bipartisan coalition of state legislators and supportive constituents, and the generous contributions of many private and non-profit organizations to make the project a reality.

The Mississippi Civil Rights Museum focuses on the period from 1945 to 1976 and tells the story of the struggle for equal rights and fair treatment under the law. The story of African-American Mississippians' journey to freedom and justice is expressed throughout seven exhibit areas surrounding a central gallery themed "This Little Light of Mine," a popular gospel song of the same name.

Adjoining the Civil Rights Museum, the Museum of Mississippi History tells the broader story of Mississippi's past, showcasing stories and artifacts from the Department of Archives and History's extensive collection. The museum's holdings include a rare 1818 20-star U.S. flag, an original Bowie knife, quilts made by enslaved people, and prehistoric Native American artifacts.

Mississippi was an important center of activity during the Civil Rights Movement and home to many of the movement's best known figures, including James Meredith (above, center).

Fannie Lou Hamer, Ida B. Wells, Medger Evers, and Emmett Till. The new Mississippi Civil Rights Museum will share their stories, and those of many other Mississippians.

Culture Defined

The rolling hills, scenic coastlines, and rural flatlands of our State have figured into the development of Mississippi's culture in a unique and profound way. Our artistic expressions, music, and even fondness for outdoor activities of all kinds are connected to our love of the land and its features.

Artists have been profoundly influenced by the beauty of our State. From the vivid scenes of city and country life illuminated in watercolor by Wyatt Waters and Gary Walters, to the expansive and contemplative rural landscapes of William Dunlap, to Walter Anderson's uniquely stylized impressions of coastal life, Mississippi artists evoke an inescapable sense of place.

Pottery artists inspired by the clay soils common throughout our State began a tradition that has been passed down from generation to generation. In the late 1800s, the eccentric George Ohr, often called the "Mad Potter of Biloxi, earned recognition for becoming the first art potter in the United States.

To this day, the Mississippi Gulf Coast remains a mecca for pottery. Walter Anderson's brother, Peter Anderson, founded Shearwater Pottery in 1928 and operated it until his death in 1984. His work helped establish a lineage of imaginative and skilled potters, including the McCarty family of Merigold and the Woods brothers of Peter's Pottery of Mound Bayou whose influences have spread throughout the State.

Mississippi photographers have been tremendously influential, earning worldwide recognition for their work. William Eggleston, of Sumner, is widely credited for his role in establishing color photography as a legitimate artistic medium worthy of display in art galleries. He is regarded as one of the medium's most important pioneers. Eggleston's first cousin, Maude Schuyler Clay of Greenwood, served as his assistant and went on to become a highly acclaimed photographer in her own right, with works exhibited throughout the country and two photography books to her name.

Our State's reputation for producing master storytellers is well-earned. Mississippi authors have explored the story of our land and its people from every imaginable angle through their poignant tales, humor, deep insight, and fictional accounts. The names Faulker, Welty, Foote, Grisham, and Iles are known to book-lovers worldwide, as is our most famous playwright, Columbus native, Tennessee Williams.

Faulkner, in particular, has enshrined Mississippi's literary reputation among the academic world. His works have inspired more scholarly articles than any other English writer, save William Shakespeare.

Mississippi's rich literary heritage continues into the present thanks to ambassadors like Gulfport's Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, Natasha Trethewey, who recently completed terms as both the United States Poet Laureate and Poet Laureate for Mississippi. Her critically acclaimed book, Beyond Katrina, combined poetry and prose to great effect in a meditation on lives forever changed by the 2005 hurricane.

The Mississippi Book Festival, one of our newest signature events, was organized in 2015 to celebrate the tremendous impact of our State's accomplished authors and their works. The 2016 event showcased more than 160 authors and boasted 6,200 attendees.

MYSTERY AND THRILLER

The first Mississippi Book Festival was held in 2015 and attracted nationally acclaimed authors, exhibitors including the Library of Congress, thousands of attendees, and live coverage from C-SPAN.

Natasha Trethewey has served as Poet Laureate for the United States and Mississippi. The author received a 2008 Mississippi Governor's Award for Excellence in the Arts.

Mississippi entertainers are known far and wide for their love for a good story and their creativity. Leland's Jim Henson blended entertainment and new ideas about education to become the creative force behind Sesame Street, a program that has been on air, continuously, from 1969 to the present day. Henson's Muppets and Kermit the Frog, in particular, are among the world's most beloved entertainment figures.

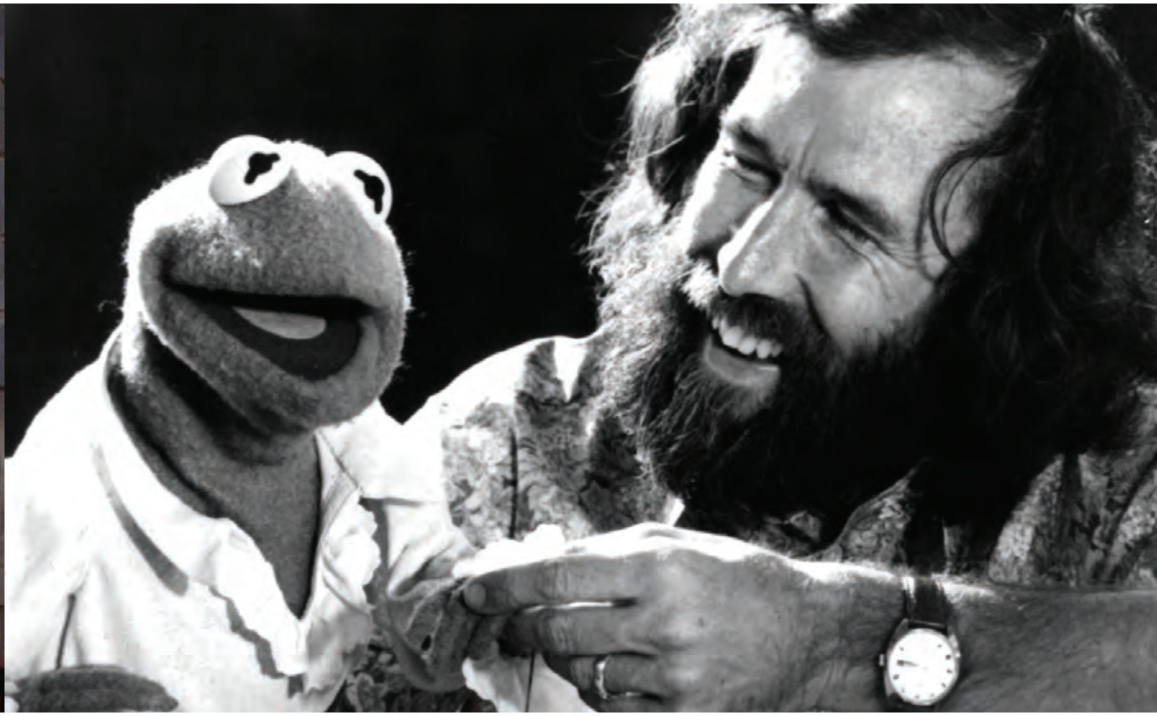
Increasingly, Mississippi storytellers are expressing their ideas through moving images on film and digital media. Our State's competitive film incentive program, local crews and actors, and Canton's recently renovated 36,000 square-foot soundstage, Mississippi Studios, have attracted more than 40 feature and television productions to our State in recent years. Their combined efforts are supporting a growing film industry and creating a vibrant production community throughout the State.

Jackson native Tate Taylor returned home to direct the Academy Award- nominated The Help and later filmed the James Brown biopic, Get On Up. Other recent productions include Dixieland with Riley Keough and Faith Hill; Strange Weather with Holly Hunter and Carrie Coon; The Hollars with John Krasinski, Margo Martindale, and Anna Kendrick; Same Kind of Different as Me with Greg Kinnear, Renée Zellweger, Djimon Hounsou, and Jon Voight; and Southern Fury with Nicholas Cage, John Cusack, and Adrian Grenier.

Others filmmakers have focused on documenting the people, places, and businesses in our State. Starting in the early 2000s, Blue Magnolia Films, a Mississippi documentary film company, began a journey to discover the economic jewels of homegrown innovation found throughout our State. To date, the company's co-founders, Alison Fast and Chandler Griffin, have produced short films highlighting Water Valley's Yalobusha Brewing Company, Clarksdale's Sweet Magnolia Ice Cream, Hattiesburg's Grin Coffee Company, Oxford's Blue Delta bespoke blue jeans company, and the Strawberry Plains Audubon Center in Holly Springs.

Change begins with a whisper.
the Help

Hundreds of excited fans attended the premiere of The Help, the Academy Award-nominated movie directed by Tate Taylor, based on Kathryn Stockett's best-selling novel. The Jackson natives who are lifelong friends, enjoyed a red carpet homecoming like no other.



Jim Henson, born in Leland, was one of our State's most beloved visionaries. His signature creation, Kermit the Frog, is known and loved by children and adults worldwide.

For millions of people around the world, Mississippi has an indelible and enduring connection to popular music. The mere mention of our State's name conjures up images of the various musical forms that were created and refined in our State. Mississippi is truly the "Birthplace of American Music."

The blues, perhaps our State's most defining art form, was born out of field hollers and work songs sung on plantations throughout the Mississippi Delta. Muddy Waters, Robert Johnson, and B.B. King are just a few of the influential blues musicians who paved the way for present-day artists and shaped the course of modern music history.

While blues musicians honed their craft at countless juke joints throughout the State, redemption came on Sunday in small country churches where gospel music lifted the spirit – and the bodies of parishioners out of the church pews and into the aisles. Large mass choirs brought the sound of gospel music to a higher level of musicianship and power, and none have achieved greater recognition than the Mississippi Mass Choir. The choir has recorded ten albums, and earned multiple Grammy nominations and Billboard Artist of the Year awards.

As the Muddy Waters' song says, "the blues had a baby and they called it rock 'n' roll." Homegrown musicians like Nesbit's Jerry Lee Lewis, combined fiery showmanship and raw talent to electrify crowds with his piano-pounding "boogie woogie" music, a blend of blues, gospel, rockabilly, and adrenaline. In Tupelo, Elvis Presley channeled the same influences and achieved an entirely singular result that would revolutionize the music industry. Presley would ultimately become the best-selling solo artist in the history of recorded music.

Mississippians also laid the foundation for country music. Meridian's "singing brakeman," Jimmie Rodgers, is called "The Father of Country Music" for his influence on the genre. Rodgers' early success paved the way for generations of Mississippi artists, including Charley Pride, Conway Twitty, Tammy Wynette, Faith Hill, and LeAnn Rimes to find success in the music industry.

Mississippi's influence on the recording arts is truly unparalleled. Our State has produced more Grammy Award-winning musicians per capita than any other state in America, an honor which led to the opening of the first Grammy Museum outside of Los Angeles. Located in Cleveland, the state-of-the-art museum opened its doors in 2016 on the campus of Delta State University.

The King of the Blues, Riley "B.B." King was known worldwide for his inimitable music, tireless touring schedule, and love for his home state. He died on May 14, 2015.

Mississippi's contributions to the American songbook are preserved in the new Grammy Museum Mississippi in Cleveland and also Indianola's B.B. King Museum.

You would be hard pressed to find any other state that has a deeper appreciation for competitive sports than Mississippi.

Parents fill the stands on Saturday mornings and afternoons across the State to watch their children participate in youth baseball and soccer leagues. But, without question, football reigns supreme. From the "Friday Night Lights" illuminating high school football stadiums across the State, to the tenacious rivalries of our college athletic programs, Mississippians are committed and fiercely loyal fans of the sport.

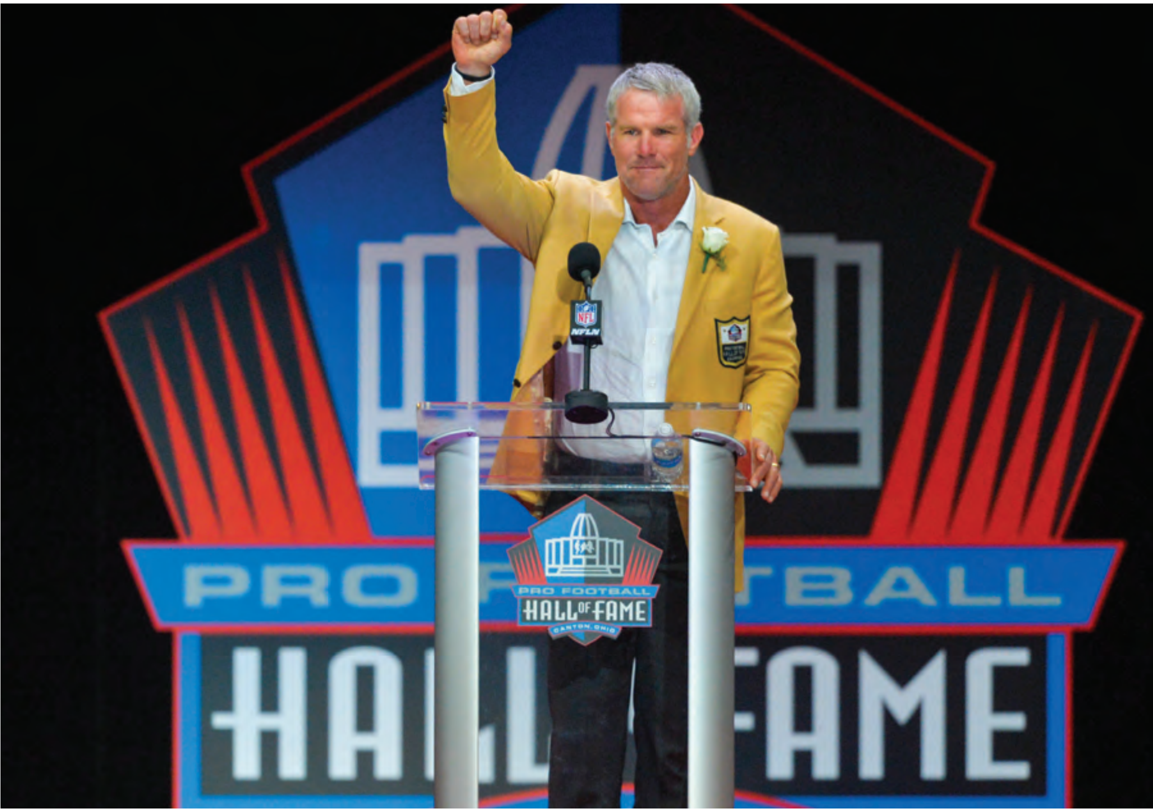
The Egg Bowl is an annual battle between Mississippi State and Ole Miss football teams. It is the tenth longest uninterrupted college football series in the United States, dating back to 1901. A similar rivalry between Alcorn State and Jackson State University exists with the annual "Soul Bowl" competition between the two historically black universities.

Mississippians are no strangers to professional sports, particularly pro football. The State holds claim to an impressive list of NFL legends, including Kiln native Jerry Rice, Walter Payton, Archie Manning, and his son, Eli.

Brett Farve, one of the most accomplished football players of all time, was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2016. Mississippi claims more Pro Football Hall of Fame inductees, per capita, than any other state. In addition to Favre, eight other Mississippians are among this esteemed group: Bruiser Kinard (Pelahatchie), Lance Alworth (Brookhaven), Willie Brown (Yazoo City), Lem Barney (Gulfport), Jackie Slater (Jackson), Walter Payton (Columbia), Billy Shaw (Vicksburg), and Jerry Rice (Crawford).

Mississippi women are breaking ground in professional football as well. In 2015, Sarah Thomas was hired as the first full-time female official in NFL history.

Sarah Thomas of Pascagoula became the first full-time female official in NFL history in 2015. She is also the first woman to officiate a major college football game.



Brett Favre, a native of Kiln, is one of professional football's top record-holders. He was inducted into the NFL Hall of Fame in 2016.

Mississippians love spending time in the great outdoors, and the State is uniquely blessed with abundant natural resources and plentiful plant and animal life. Mississippi is blanketed by more than 1.2 million acres of forest land with 119 public lakes, 123,000 miles of streams, and 255,000 freshwater acres distributed across the State.

Our many passionate hunters and fishermen enjoy diverse game populations and a wealth of habitats. In 2016, Mississippi was ranked as the top state for hunting white-tailed deer by Field & Stream. Duck hunting is also a perennial favorite in the Delta, and quail hunting is popular at a number of hunt clubs and lodges. Alligator hunting was introduced in 2005. Since then, Mississippi hunters have harvested alligators in excess of 13 feet in length and 700 pounds.

Sport fishing is popular on Mississippi rivers and coastal waters. Among freshwater fish, Mississippi is perhaps best known for bass and crappie. The world-record white crappie, at five pounds three ounces, was caught at a national championship fishing tournament on Enid Reservoir.

Trophy large mouth bass are frequently caught at lakes throughout the State. Speckled trout, redfish, and flounder can be found at inshore locations along the coastal areas. While amberjack, cobia, and red snapper are plentiful offshore along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Biking continues to grow as both a pastime and a sport in Mississippi. The 300-mile span of the Natchez Trace Parkway in Mississippi is a popular destination and thoroughfare for Mississippi bikers and tourists year-round.

The 41-mile Longleaf Trace, constructed in 2000, runs from Hattiesburg to Prentiss. It is one of the nation's first rails-to-trails projects, where unused railroads are converted into public bike and pedestrian trails. The State's newest rails-to-trails project is the 43-mile Tanglefoot Trail, which connects New Albany to Houston, passing through Ecru, Pontotoc, Algoma, and New Houlka along the way. Many municipalities have installed bike trails, including Ridgeland, which boasts a Bike Friendly Community designation from the League of American Bicyclists.

Duck migration along the Mississippi flyway makes the Mississippi Delta the State's most popular destination for waterfowl hunting. Pictured above: Labrador Retriever, "Bear."

The 33,000-acre Ross Barnett Reservoir hosts an estimated 2.5 million annual visitors at its 48 parks, nature trails, campgrounds, and other recreational facilities.

Competitive running events are flourishing, too. The Mississippi Blues Marathon, presented by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Mississippi, launched its inaugural race in 2008 and has since seen the number of participants rise each year. Many other half-marathons, 5Ks, and even a 50-mile trail run through the DeSoto National Forest offer a variety of experiences for beginning and experienced runners alike.

Not surprisingly, given Mississippi's mild seasonal climate, golf is a popular year-round pastime. More than 140 courses are located throughout the State. Mississippi's newest course, West Point's Mossy Oak Golf Club, opened in 2016 and represents a collaboration between George Bryan, the former Chief Executive Officer of Sara Lee Foods and owner of Old Waverly Golf Club, and Toxey Haas, the founder of the Mossy Oak outdoor lifestyle company.

Designed by course architect Gil Hanse, Mossy Oak was the first new course to be completed after Hanse designed the official course for the Rio Olympics. Another top Mississippi course is Saucier's Fallen Oak. The course was honored by Golf Digest as one of America's 100 Greatest Public Golf Courses.

Mississippi's PGA Tour event, the Sanderson Farms Championship, is held annually at The Country Club of Jackson. The event showcases world-class competition, as well as the generosity of our State. Since 1994, Century Club Charities, the host organization for the Championship, has raised more than $12 million to benefit Mississippi's Batson Children's Hospital and other Mississippi charities.

The Mississippi Blues Marathon features live music before and after the race and along the course. A portion of the race's proceeds benefit the Blues Foundation's support for local musicians.

Cody Gribble (above) won the 2016 Sanderson Farms Championship, which raised a record $1.125 million to benefit Batson Children's Hospital in Jackson.

Industry Defined

Mississippi's manufacturing economy has increased significantly over the course of the past several decades. Currently, Mississippi is home to almost 3,000 industrial businesses, employing more than 143,000 Mississippians.

Mississippi workers are responsible for building, both directly and via second- and third-tier support companies, some of the most advanced transportation systems in the world.

The shipbuilding tradition on the Mississippi Gulf Coast dates back to the 17th century with the construction of flat-bottomed bateaus by the French. Throughout the 1700s and 1800s, Mississippi shipbuilders focused on building ships to serve the seafood and shipping industries. Later, after the United States entered into World War II, shipbuilders shifted their attention to supporting the war effort.

In 1940, just two years after the company's founding, Ingalls Shipbuilding launched the world's first all-welded steel ship, the SS Exchequer, revolutionizing shipbuilding worldwide. Before the end of World War II, Ingalls would construct more than 60 ships, including aircraft carriers, troop and cargo transports, net laying ships, and submarine tenders. Today, Huntington Ingalls is the largest producer of ships for the U.S. Navy, having constructed 70 percent of their fleet. Ingalls shipyard is also the State's largest private employer, offering steady work to more than 12,000 employees.

VT Halter Marine, another shipbuilder with a long history in Mississippi, is the nation's largest designer and builder of medium-sized ships. The company has constructed more than 3,000 vessels at its three Mississippi shipyards, delivering ships to 29 countries. Our State is also home to one of the world's elite builders of custom superyachts, Trinity Yachts. Other shipbuilders operating in Mississippi including U.S. Marine Inc., Gulf Ship, Signet Maritime, New South Marine Builders, Signal International, and Rolls Royce.

Ingalls Shipbuilding LPD27 Launch

Our manufacturing economy is supported through the combined efforts and investment of our State's research universities. The Center for Advanced Vehicular Systems (CAVS) at Mississippi State University provides our State's automotive-related businesses with research and development capabilities and workforce training services. The University of Mississippi's Center for Manufacturing Excellence (CME) maintains close relationships with employers to prepare engineering students for advanced manufacturing careers. The Mississippi Polymer Institute (MPI) at The University of Southern Mississippi provides contract research and development services, rapid prototyping, incubator space, and testing services.

Our State's network of 15 community and junior colleges supports industry by offering low-cost job training services to companies wanting to acquire highly skilled employees or advance the skills of existing workers. Mississippi was the first State in the nation to have a planned system of junior colleges, and our community college system remains one of the nation's strongest to this day.

Mississippi's aerospace industry has a long and storied history as well, dating back to the construction and repair of single-engine biplanes during World War I at Payne Field in West Point. In more recent times, Mississippi has emerged as a major player in the manufacturing of airplane components. The Jackson-based operations of Eaton Aerospace produce hydraulic and motion control components that power hundreds of military and commercial aircraft. It's said that every commercial airplane in the world has at least one component made in Mississippi, thanks in large part to the popularity of Vickers line of products from Eaton.

Mississippi began manufacturing helicopters with the arrival of American Eurocopter, now Airbus Helicopters, in 2012. The company's Columbus location manufactures helicopters for the U.S. Army and civilian markets. Other prominent aviation companies with research, manufacturing, and support operations in Mississippi include G.E. Aviation, Boeing, Lockheed Martin, and Zodiac Aerospace.

Zach Rowland, left, of Mississippi State's Center for Advanced Vehicular Systems, looks on with Katy Lusky and Dale Aspy of the Environmental Protection Agency as they discuss the "Car of the Future" project which demonstrates leading technology in vehicle performance and energy efficiency.

Built in Columbus, Airbus H125 helicopter is America's most popular helicopter model. It is used for civilian, air medical services, and law enforcement applications.

Unmanned aerial systems, commonly called drones, have surged in popularity for commercial and military applications. Companies like Northrop Grumman Corporation, Stark Aerospace, Aurora Flight Sciences, and Boeing's Insitu division rely on our State to manufacture and research these vehicles.

Research and development programs led by the Raspet Flight Research Laboratory at Mississippi State University support industry through material design and testing, technical training, and manufacturing support services. Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) flight training is offered at Hinds Community College in partnership with Pearl River Community College and the Camp Shelby Joint Forces Training Center.

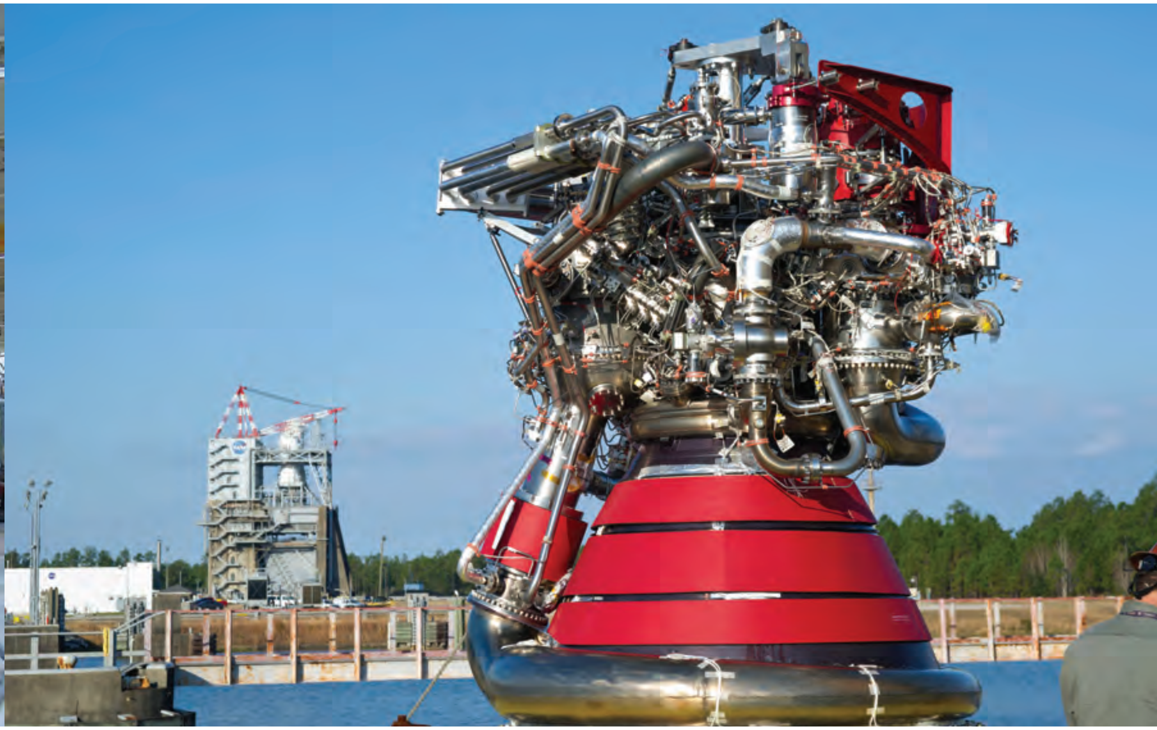
In 2016, the Federal Aviation Administration recognized Mississippi's leadership in this field, selecting Mississippi State University as a Center of Excellence for Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS). The university will conduct research for integrating drones into the national airspace.

Northrop Grumman's Moss Point manufacturing facility builds MQ-8C Fire Scout unmanned helicopters for the U. S. Navy.

Mississippi's John C. Stennis Space Center has played a vital role in our nation's space program since its earliest days. The 13,500-acre site tested engines for the Saturn V rocket used to transport Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin to the moon in 1969. Indeed, it was often said during these years, "If you want to go to the moon, you first have to go through Hancock County, Mississippi."

The nation's largest rocket engine testing facility, Stennis Space Center, remained in operation throughout NASA's Space Shuttle program and is now testing engines for the space agency's "Journey to Mars" mission.

In addition to NASA operations, the Center hosts more than 30 government agencies and corporate tenants, including Space-X, Rolls-Royce, Aerojet Rocketdyne, United Launch Alliance, and Lockheed Martin. The U.S. Navy, Mississippi State University, and The University of Southern Mississippi also have research and development centers on-site.

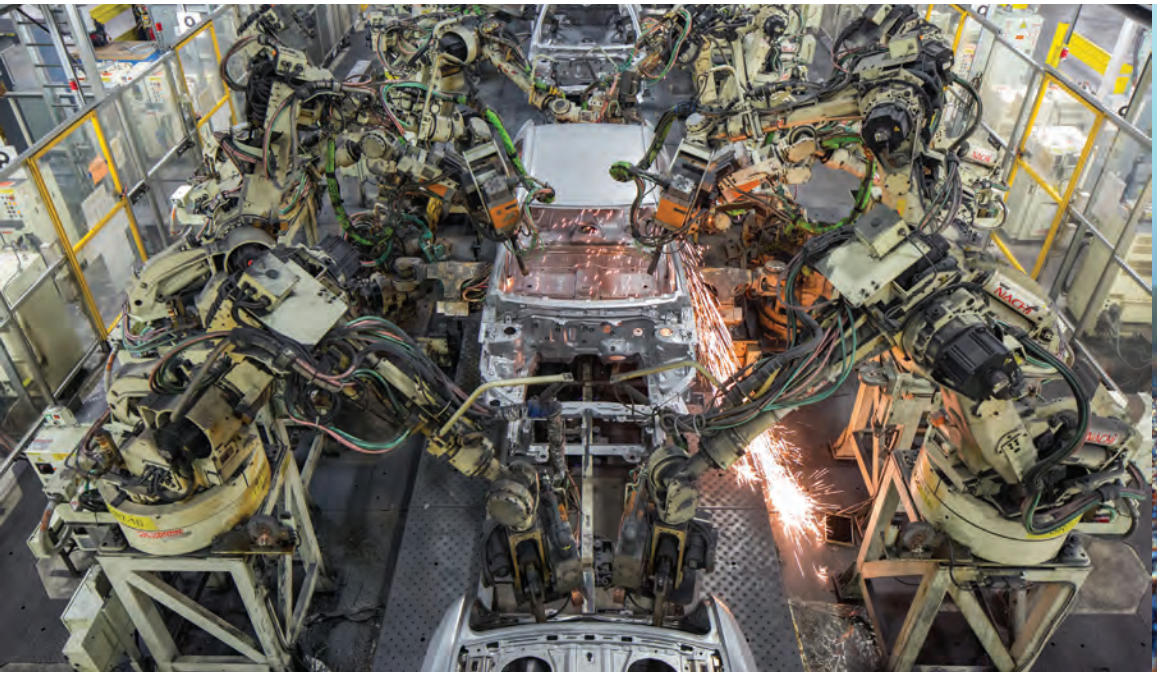


An Aerojet Rocketdyne J-2X engine is transported by barge to the A-2 Test Stand at Stennis Space Center.

Mississippi staked its claim in automative manufacturing with the 2003 selection of Canton as the home of a new Nissan assembly plant. Nissan's Canton plant in Mississippi served as a catalyst for the development of a network of in-state automotive suppliers. This strong supplier network, in turn, influenced Toyota's decision to locate a state-of-the-art assembly plant in Blue Springs in 2010. The Toyota plant's 2,000 workers produce approximately 150,000 Corollas each year.

Other automotive companies and suppliers who have chosen Mississippi include PACCAR, Yokohama Tire, Borg Warner, Grammer, and Steel Dynamics. Altogether, there are more than 200 automative-related manufacturers in our State, employing more than 20,000 Mississippians. Mississippi's healthcare sector fulfills a dual role of helping Mississippians live long, healthy, and productive lives while serving as a key driver of economic activity. Mississippi hospitals employ more than 60,000 full-time workers and have created an estimated 35,000 jobs outside their facilities.

Mississippians are an industrious, entrepreneurial people. We are accustomed to hard work and are joining together to build a diversified economy that leverages our strong work ethic and adaptability to changing workforce needs.



Toyota's Blue Springs production facility completed its 500,000th Corolla in 2015, reaching that milestone faster than any other Toyota plant in the U.S.

Agriculture is the State's top industry. The $7.6 billion-dollar industry employs 29% of the State's workforce either directly or indirectly. Mississippi's 37,000 farms produce a variety of commodities, with poultry, timber, cattle, soybeans, corn, and cotton ranking highest in overall monetary value. Mississippi-based agribusinesses include Cal-Maine Foods, the largest producer and marketer of shell eggs in the United States; Sanderson Farms, one of the nation's top-five poultry producers; and a variety of food processing operations.

Our favorable geography, mild sub-tropical climate, long growing season, and abundant rainfall make our State an ideal location for farming. The alluvial plain along the southernmost stretch of the Mississippi River, more commonly known as the Mississippi Delta, has benefited from the deposition of nutrient-rich soils through periodic flooding over the course of thousands of years. Topsoil in the Delta exceeds 30 feet deep in many places compared to the standard depth of between two to eight inches at other locations around the world.

Farming in Mississippi is a high-tech industry, where data from satellites, UAVs, and research facilities is used to improve crop yields, minimize environment impact, and increase profitability.

The University of Mississippi Medical Center (UMMC) is one of the State's largest employers, with more than 10,000 full- and part-time workers on staff and 3,000 students enrolled annually in its six schools. UMMC's annual budget represents ten percent of the Jackson metro area economy and two percent of the State's economy.

In 2016, UMMC broke ground on a new School of Medicine building to help increase the number of physicians in Mississippi. UMMC also launched a $100 million capital campaign to expand and improve health services to our State's children, with contributions including a $10 million donation from Joe and Kathy Sanderson of Sanderson Farms, $1 million from Eli and Abby Manning, and a $20 million pledge from Friends of Children's Hospital. The campaign is funding the expansion and modernization of Batson Children's Hospital's neonatal intensive care unit, pediatric ICU rooms, surgical suites, and other clinical and outpatient services.

Through UMMC's leadership, our State has emerged as a leader in telehealth, the practice of diagnosing and treating illnesses via telecommunications technology. UMMC's telehealth network provides access to 35 medical specialties at more than 200 service locations throughout the State.

In Tupelo, the North Mississippi Medical Center holds the distinction of being the largest, private, not-for-profit hospital in Mississippi and the largest non-metropolitan hospital in America. The medical center serves more than 730,000 people in 24 counties in north Mississippi, northwest Alabama, and portions of Tennessee.

Mississippi colleges and universities offer several degree and certification programs to meet the growing demand for health care workers and allied professionals. Additionally, Jackson State University is creating the State's first School of Public Health, a program which will complement the University's highly regarded public health programs, including the Jackson Heart Study and the Center of Excellence in Minority Health and Health Disparities.

Children's Hospital

Located on the University of Mississippi Medical Center campus, Batson Children's Hospital treats nearly 80,000 children from throughout the State each year.

Entrepreneurial and small business activity has long been a key driver of Mississippi's economy, and momentum is building. The 2016 Kauffman Index of Startup Activity found entrepreneurship to be on the rise in Mississippi, ranking our State 11th in the nation among smaller states. Mississippi's small businesses employ almost half of the State's private labor force and account for over 96 percent of all employers in the State.

Mississippi's entrepreneurial businesses are remarkable in their diversity. Our State has the nation's highest rate of African-American owned businesses, at 28 percent of all businesses in the State.

Women-owned businesses are prospering in our economy as well. The American Express 2016 State of Women-Owned Businesses report found Mississippi to have the nation's fifth fastest increase in the number of women-owned firms over the past decade.

Mississippi entrepreneurs are transforming our State's economy, through their ideas and vision, while fostering economic growth and opportunity for our State.

While teaching at various nursing schools, Marlene Hurst Cupit noted the abundance of workshops and prep courses for graduate nurses and the lack of similar opportunities for student nurses. In 1988, she created Hurst Review Services to address the void. Her NCLEX review course has helped hundreds of thousands of nursing students pass their licensing exam on the first attempt.

A family business, Ridgeland-based White Construction Company, has grown steadily since Charles N. White founded the company in 1971. Today, his sons, Guy and Neel, have expanded the company into Texas and have completed a number of prominent and award-winning projects, including renovation of the Texas Governor's mansion and construction of the world's first hospital to achieve LEED Platinum certification.

Founded in 1921, Greenwood-based Staplcotn has grown to become the country's oldest and one of the largest cotton marketing cooperatives. Under the leadership of President and CEO, Meredith Allen, Staplcotn marketed their 100 millionth bale of cotton in 2016. The cooperative counts more than 14,000 farm accounts in 11 Southeastern states among its membership.

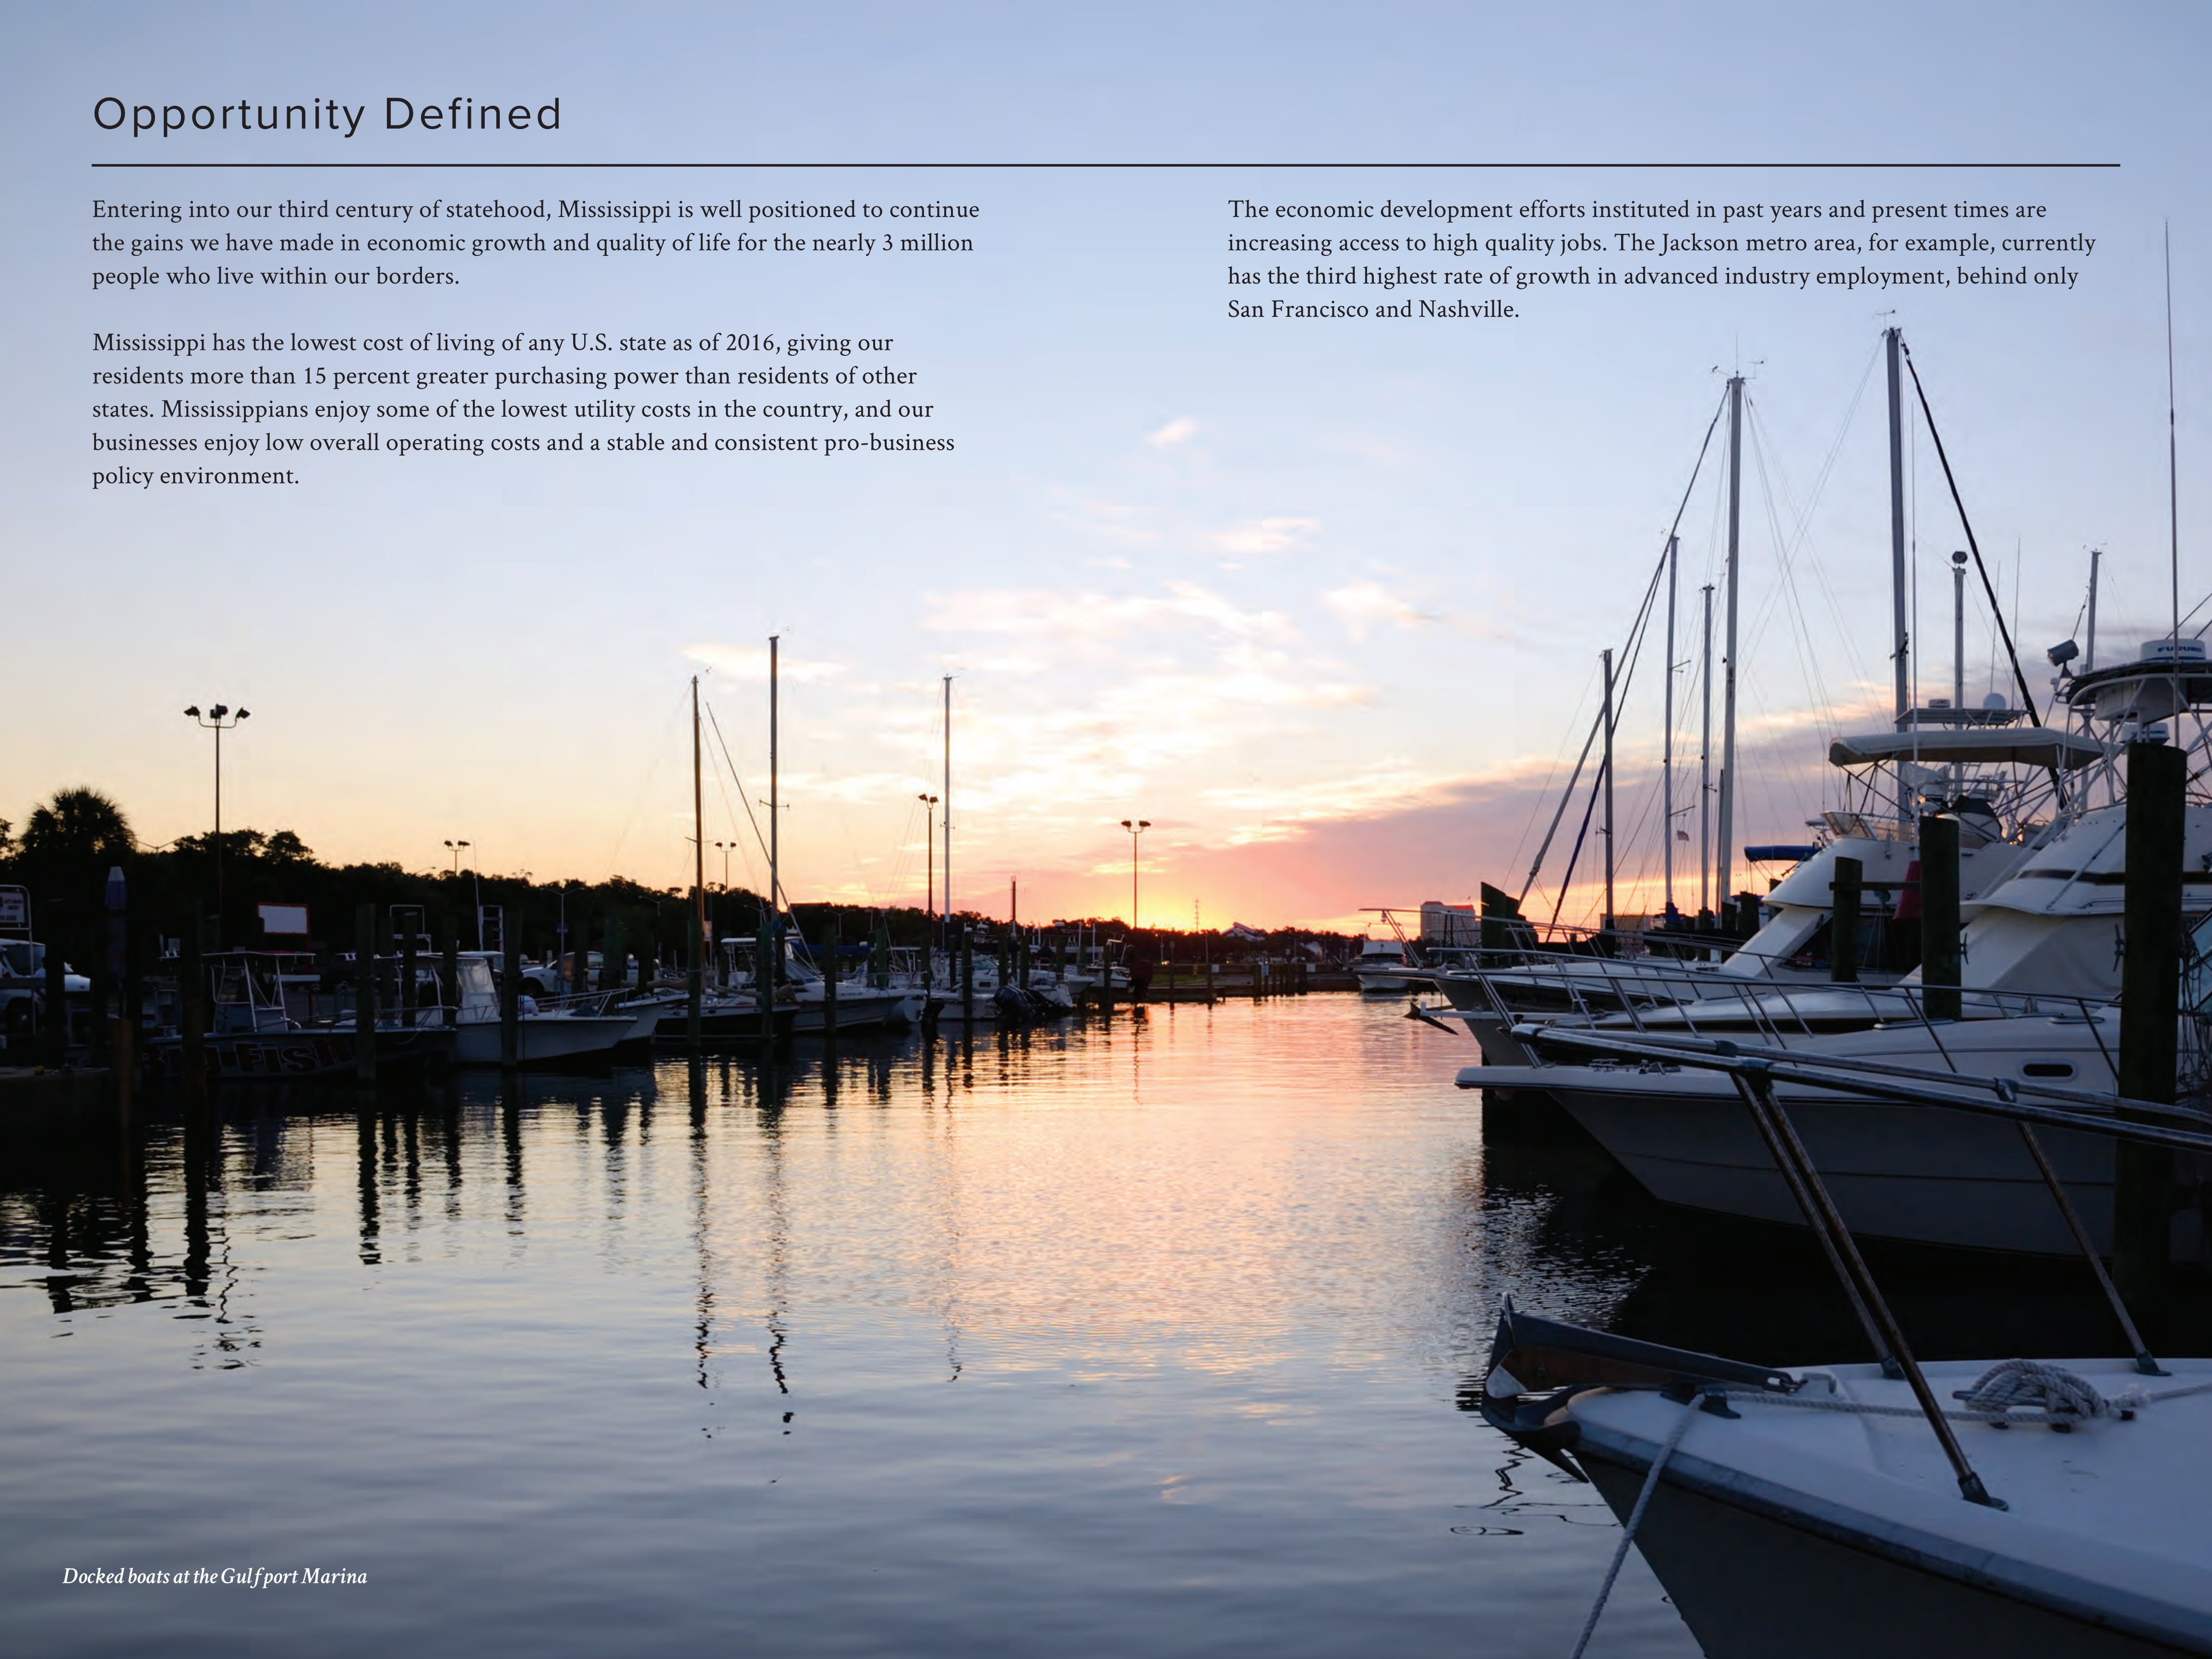
Opportunity Defined

Entering into our third century of statehood, Mississippi is well positioned to continue the gains we have made in economic growth and quality of life for the nearly 3 million people who live within our borders.

Mississippi has the lowest cost of living of any U.S. state as of 2016, giving our residents more than 15 percent greater purchasing power than residents of other states. Mississippians enjoy some of the lowest utility costs in the country, and our businesses enjoy low overall operating costs and a stable and consistent pro-business policy environment.

The economic development efforts instituted in past years and present times are increasing access to high quality jobs. The Jackson metro area, for example, currently has the third highest rate of growth in advanced industry employment, behind only San Francisco and Nashville.



Docked boats at the Gulfport Marina

Our State is making historic gains in improving education outcomes as well. In 2016, Mississippi's high school graduation rate reached 82.3 percent, an all-time high, and we're on track to soon surpass the national average.

Mississippi is seeing similar improvements in childhood literacy thanks to programs like our State's Early Learning Collaboratives and the Literacy Based Promotion Act of 2013. Mississippi was recognized by the National Institute for Early Education as one of only six states meeting all quality benchmarks for effective preschool programs.

An impressive 92 percent of Mississippi third-graders have passed the State reading exam. Scores from the 2015 National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) showed historic gains, as well. Mississippi was one of only two states to see increases in NAEP scores at both 4th and 8th grade levels.

Our teachers deserve great credit and appreciation for these improvements. Mississippi has the 7th highest number of national board certified teachers in the country, and incentive programs are in place to encourage more teachers to receive certification, especially in high-need school districts.

Mississippi's new "Districts of Innovation" legislation is just one example of how our State is giving schools greater autonomy to encourage student success by applying innovative methods and programs outside of the standard State regulations. The Corinth School District was among the first in the State to become a District of Innovation by adopting new academic pathways and implementing procedural changes to elevate their already high level of success. Vicksburg and Gulfport schools have also received the designation.

Mississippi's strong results and track record have led to the State being recognized with the 2016 Frank Newman Award for State Innovation, a national award for education innovation.

The Mississippi Department of Education continues to adapt to changing education opportunities and needs. Public charter schools now operate in Mississippi, thanks to legislation passed in 2013. The State also launched a new computer science pilot program in 2016, which is offered in 38 school districts and more than 150 schools across the State.

Houston, Mississippi high-school students have won 14 consecutive titles at the Solar Car Challenge and took first place in a 1,800-mile, solar-powered race across the Australian outback.

The Mississippi Department of Education launched the Computer Science For Mississippi (CS4MS) initiative, a computer science pilot program, in 2016.

Our State has recently taken significant measures to protect the integrity of our voting system. In 2011, more than 62 percent of Mississippi voters approved a citizen-initiated Constitutional Amendment which requires eligible voters to present a photo ID before casting a ballot in person. To ensure the new law did not impede voter access, the Secretary of State consulted with the U.S. Department of Justice, and the law was implemented with bipartisan citizen support and without litigation.

The Secretary of State's Office launched a statewide education campaign after Voter ID was enacted in 2014. The State provides transportation to any citizen in need of a free Mississippi Voter ID Card. In the 2016 Presidential Election, 99.9 percent of citizens had acceptable identification at the polls.

Additionally, Mississippi continues to lead in providing the information businesses need to be successful. The Secretary of State's Office created Y'all Business, a unique website presenting economic, cultural, and statistical information for all of the State's 82 counties and 21 metropolitan areas. Visit the site at www.yallbusiness.sos.ms.gov to learn more about our State and its citizens.

These initiatives, along with many others, demonstrate Mississippi's effort to move our State into the future while respecting and learning from our past. Our history illustrates our resiliency and ability to grow. Our culture illuminates the talent and creativity we have to offer. Our industry shows Mississippians to be hard-working and resourceful. Our enterprise confirms our leadership ability.

In every way, Mississippi is providing greater opportunities for our children and grandchildren. We are on a path to a better future for our State. Those great Mississippians who came before, and all who will come after, are our inspiration and driving force. Happy 200th birthday, Mississippi.

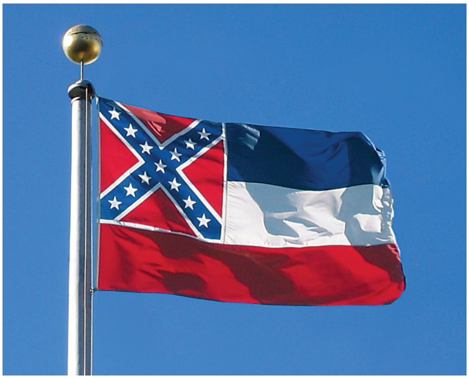
MISSISSIPPI STATE SYMBOLS



MISSISSIPPI'S STATE FLAG

By majority vote on April 17, 2001, the citizens of Mississippi adopted the following as Section 3-3-16 of the Mississippi Code: "The official flag of the State of Mississippi shall have the following design: with width two-thirds (2/3) of its length; with the union (canton) to be square, in width two-thirds (2/3) of the width of the flag; the ground of the union to be red and a broad blue saltire thereon, bordered with white and emblazoned with thirteen (13) mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding with the number of the original States of the Union; the field to be divided into three (3) bars of equal width, the upper one blue, the center one white, and the lower one, extending the whole length of the flag, red (the national colors); this being the flag adopted by the Mississippi Legislature in the 1894 Special Session."

Although the 1894 Mississippi Legislature had adopted the flag described above, during the 1906 revision of the Mississippi State Code, the law designating an official state flag was not brought forward. On May 4, 2000, the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that Mississippi did not have an official state flag. The election to select the official state flag was the recommendation of a 17-member commission appointed to study the issue by Governor Ronnie Musgrove. The 2001 Legislature passed a law setting the date for the special election. Voters chose between two designs.

The state flag may be displayed from all public buildings from sunrise to sunset; however, the state flag may be displayed from all public buildings twenty-four (24) hours a day if properly illuminated. The state flag should not be displayed when the weather is inclement, except when an all-weather flag is displayed. The state flag shall receive all of the respect and ceremonious etiquette given the American flag. Provided, however, nothing in this section shall be construed so as to affect the precedence given to the flag of the United States of America. Miss. Code Ann. § 3-3-15 (1972).

PLEDGE TO THE MISSISSIPPI FLAG

"I salute the flag of Mississippi and the sovereign state for which it stands with pride in her history and achievements and with confidence in her future under the guidance of Almighty God."

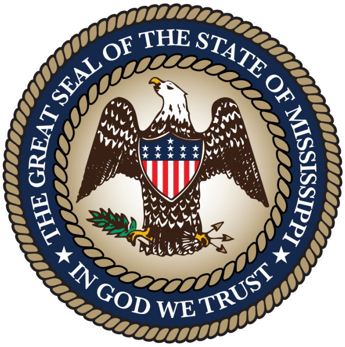
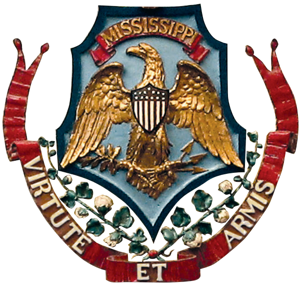
Miss. Code Ann. § 37-13-7 (1972)



THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
IN GOD WE TRUST

THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

The State Seal is described in the Laws of the State of Mississippi, First Session, First General Assembly, 1817-1818: "The seal of this state, the inscription of which shall be 'the great seal of the state of Mississippi' around the margin, and in the center an eagle, with the olive branch and quiver of arrows in his claws," and has been in use since Mississippi became a state in 1817. The Great Seal was amended by an act of the 2014 Legislature to include the words "In God We Trust."



MISSISSIPPI'S COAT-OF-ARMS

In 1894, the Legislature declared the design above as official but upon revision of the Mississippi Code in 1906, the original law was not brought forward. In May 2000, the Supreme Court ruled Mississippi did not have an official Coat-of-Arms. Governor Ronnie Musgrove appointed a 17-member commission in order to study the issue which ultimately made the recommendation for the re-adoption of the Coat-of-Arms.

Governor Ronnie Musgrove signed Senate Bill No. 2285 in to law on February 7, 2001, making the above design the official Mississippi Coat-of-Arms:

> "... a shield, blue in color, with an eagle upon it with extended pinions, holding in the right talon a palm branch and bundle of arrows in the left, with the word 'Mississippi' above the eagle; the lettering on the shield and the eagle to be in gold; below the shield two (2) branches of the cotton stalk, saltier wise, and a scroll below extending upward and on each side three-fourths (3/4) of the length of the shield; upon the scroll, which is to be red, the motto to be printed in gold letters upon white spaces, the motto to be 'Virtute et Armis'; this being the same Coat-of-Arms adopted by the Legislature in Chapter 37, Laws of the Extraordinary Session of 1894."

STATE LANGUAGE

English was designated the official language of the State in Chapter 439, General Laws of Mississippi 1987.

STATE FLOWER AND TREE

An election was held in November 1900 to select a State Flower. Votes were submitted by 23,278 school children. The magnolia received 12,745 votes, the cotton blossom 4,171, and the cape jasmine 2,484. A few votes were for other flowers. The magnolia was officially designated as the State Flower by the 1952 Legislature. In 1935, the Director of Forestry started a movement to select a State Tree for Mississippi. The tree was to be nominated and elected by school children of the state.

Four nominations were made: the magnolia, oak, pine, and dogwood. The magnolia received the majority. On April 1, 1938, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated the magnolia as the State Tree in Chapter 366, Laws of Mississippi 1938.

STATE SOIL

Natchez Silt Loam (Typic Eutrudepts) was designated the State Soil of Mississippi in Chapter 360, General Laws of 2003.

STATE DANCE

The square dance was adopted as the American folk dance of Mississippi, Chapter 303, General Laws of Mississippi 1995.

STATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

The Grand Opera House of Meridian was designated the State Grand Opera House in Chapter 313, General Laws of Mississippi 1993.

STATE MUSEUMS

The Mississippi Code Ann. (1972) identifies Tupelo Automobile Museum as the State Automobile Museum, the Mississippi Industrial Heritage Museum as the State Historical Industrial Museum, and the State Wildlife Heritage Museum in Leland as the Wildlife Heritage Museum.

STATE SONG – "GO, MISSISSIPPI"

Words and music by Houston Davis

The Jackson Board of Realtors undertook the task of finding a satisfactory song to represent the State of Mississippi. They selected through an advisory committee a song entitled, "Go, Mississippi" by Houston Davis. On May 17, 1962, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated "Go, Mississippi" as the official song of the State of Mississippi. General Laws of Mississippi of 1962, Chapter 654.

"GO, MISSISSIPPI"

VERSE 1
States may sing their songs of praise,
With waving flags and hip-hoo-rays,
Let cymbals crash and let bells ring

STATE MOTTO

"Virtute et armis"—A Latin phrase which translates "By Valor and Arms"—has not been adopted by the Legislature as an official motto as such, but has appeared on the State Coat-of-Arms since 1894. It was suggested by James Rhea Preston, a former Mississippi Superintendent of Education.

The Mississippi motto supposedly has its roots and inspiration from another motto created by Lord Gray de Wilton "Virtute Non Armis Fido" which means "I trust in virtue not arms."

Governor

Phil Bryant

Phil Bryant was sworn in for his second term as Mississippi's 64th governor on January 12, 2016. Before becoming the state's chief executive, Bryant was lieutenant governor from 2008-2011. He also served as state auditor and represented his legislative district in the Mississippi House of Representatives for five years.

The son of Dewey C. and Estelle R. Bryant, a diesel mechanic and a mother who stayed home with her three boys, Bryant learned early the value of hard work and the importance of education. The Moorhead native earned an associate's degree in criminal justice from Hinds Community College and completed his bachelor's degree at the University of Southern Mississippi. He holds a master's degree in political science from Mississippi College, and before assuming his role as governor, Bryant served as an adjunct professor of government there.

Gov. Bryant began his career as a deputy sheriff in Hinds County and later worked as an insurance investigator before being elected to the House of Representatives in 1991. In 1996, then Gov. Kirk Fordice appointed him state auditor, a position he was re-elected to in 1999 and 2003.

As governor, Phil Bryant has led Mississippi in implementing transformational public education reforms, promoting economic development and building a competitive business climate that attracts major employers like Yokohama Tire Corporation and Continental Tire. Under Gov. Bryant's administration, 27,518 jobs have been announced along with $5.2 billion in new investments. He is also an avid outdoorsman and is a longtime member of the National Rifle Association's Institute for Legislative Action.

Gov. Bryant and his wife, First Lady of Mississippi Deborah Bryant, have two adult children, Katie Bryant Snell and Patrick Bryant, and are active members of St. Marks United Methodist Church in Brandon.

Duties: The Governor is the Chief Executive Officer of the state, charged with executive direction and supervision of the general administration of the State. In this capacity, he or she sees that the laws are faithfully executed, supervises the official conduct of executive officers, acts as commander-in-chief of the state militia, and appoints officials as prescribed by law.

The Governor is responsible for the presentation of a balanced budget to the Legislature and approval or veto of legislation passed by the Legislature. He or she may call extraordinary sessions of the Legislature when he or she deems it necessary, and may issue pardons, executive orders, and extraditions of fugitives from other states.

The office provides staff assistance and liaison in all areas of state government administration and researches agency programs and policies.

A number of officers are appointed by the Governor. Among these are the Adjutant General, the Commissioner of Public Safety, and the chief executive officers of the departments of Banking and Consumer Finance, Mississippi Development Authority, Environmental Quality, and the State Tax Commission. The Governor also appoints members to numerous executive and administrative boards and commissions who, in turn, appoint executive officers to the departments they lead. Some of these departments are Finance and Administration, Health, Corrections, Education, and the State Personnel Board.

The Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 116-125. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Lieutenant Governor

Tate Reeves

Re-elected in 2015 as Mississippi's Lieutenant Governor, Tate Reeves stands ready to guide the state toward a brighter future by improving educational achievement for students, supporting the creation of high-skilled jobs and responsibly managing taxpayers' money.

Reeves leads the 52-member Senate with a focus on keeping government spending under control, reforming education and making Mississippi a better place to raise a family.

Under his leadership, Mississippi has a balanced budget that spends more on education and adequately funds other priorities while reducing taxpayers' overall debt burden.

Supporting Job Creation

The Legislature approved several measures to make Mississippi an even better place to do business. Reeves believes government should create an environment to encourage the private sector to create more jobs.

In an effort to make the state's tax policy flatter and fairer, he proposed the largest tax cut in state history through the Taxpayer Pay Raise Act, which lowers the personal income tax; allows for self-employed Mississippians to increase deductions; and eliminates the corporate franchise tax. Under the plan adopted by the Legislature, every taxpayer will see a tax cut.

He supported helping job creators increase investment in their businesses by reducing the unemployment tax rate and boosting investment in workforce training at community and junior colleges.

The Legislature also made the state more competitive in a global marketplace by allowing businesses to claim a tax credit on inventory held in the state, which will encourage companies to invest more capital in creating jobs.

Legislators also reformed the state's workers' compensation law to ensure a fairer and impartial relationship between the worker and employer with provisions to better define the employee's choice of physician, implement stronger measures against workplace drug and alcohol use and increase certain benefits. The changes boost Mississippi's reputation as a place to do business and strengthen the state's right-to-work policies.

Strengthening Education

Mississippi made record investments in education spending and enacted reforms to save money, strengthen achievement, and clearly communicate school performance.

Reeves successfully advocated for more transparent school district ratings, which led to a new grading system for schools based on A, B, C, D and F.

The first steps toward school choice were taken with the creation of public charter schools and scholarships for students with special needs. Reeves fought to boost the state's literacy rate with legislation to end social promotion of students who cannot read at grade level.

After decades of legislators talking about school district consolidation, Reeves took action by pushing for administrative consolidation, significantly reducing the number of districts in Mississippi.

The Education Commission of the States awarded Mississippi the 2016 Frank Newman Award for State Innovation for these transformational reforms to improve student learning.

Working for Transparent Government

He fought for transparency for how agencies spend taxpayers' dollars. Agencies are now required to post budget requests on the legislative budget website and disclose each source of revenue. Stronger reporting requirements were placed on taxpayer-funded incentive programs. Reeves secured a commitment from the Department of Finance and Administration and the State Personnel Board to develop statewide contracts for services, not just commodities, which will help state agencies take advantage of bulk purchasing power and reduce costs.

He pushed the passage of the Attorney General "Sunshine Act," which requires an open and transparent process for awarding legal contracts. The boards of public hospitals, which are supported by taxpayer dollars, are required to operate in the sunlight so employees, patients and taxpayers can monitor the fiscal management of the facilities.

Enhancing Mississippi Values

Reeves pushed several measures to strengthen public safety and make Mississippi a safe place to raise a family. The Legislature has passed laws to allow for the prosecution of attempted murder and to closely monitor sex offenders using GPS devices. He is committed to protecting Mississippians' Second Amendment Rights by supporting laws to reduce the cost of concealed carry permits and clarify the limits on the ability of cities and counties to restrict the carrying of firearms.

Several new laws protect the state's most vulnerable citizens – children. Reeves' initiative to help school districts hire trained law enforcement for campus protection will place more officers in schools. The Child Protection Act requires health care professionals, members of the clergy, educators, child care providers and law enforcement to report cases of suspected child abuse. Also, the Legislature has taken steps to protect the health of the mother by requiring doctors performing abortion to have admitting privileges at a local hospital and prohibiting abortions after 20 weeks.

Public Service Recognition

Reeves is past chairman of the Republican Lieutenant Governors Association. He was named one of the top 40 politicians under 40 by The Washington Post. He is a member of the inaugural Hunt-Kean Leadership Fellows program focused on education issues. Reeves was named a 2013 Charter Champion by the National Alliance for Public Charter Schools.

Reeves received the 2012 State Legislative Achievement Award from the U.S. Chamber Institute for Legal Reform for passage of the Attorney General "Sunshine Act." He was named Legislator of the Year by the Mississippi Municipal League in 2012.

Previously, Reeves was elected as Mississippi's 53rd Treasurer in 2003 and re-elected to a second term four years later with 61 percent of the vote, the highest percentage of any candidate running for statewide office. He was the first Republican and youngest treasurer in the state's history.

Reeves has been named a "Rising Star(s) in the Republican Party" by Rising Tide magazine – the publication of the Republican National Committee. He also was selected by the Aspen Institute's Rodel Fellowships in Public Leadership as one of the "Top Young Elected Officials" to its Fourth Class of Aspen-Rodel Fellows. Reeves was recognized by his NAST peers as the recipient of the Jesse M. Unruh Award which recognized his outstanding service to the association, the profession and to his state.

Reeves is a Rankin County native and a graduate of Florence High School. He is an honors graduate of Millsaps College and holds a bachelor's degree in economics. Reeves has continued to be an active alumnus and remains involved with his alma mater by serving as a member of the investment policy board for the Millsaps College General Louis Wilson Fund and a member the Advisory Committee of the Else School of Management.

Reeves holds the Chartered Financial Analyst designation (CFA) and is a member of the CFA Society of Mississippi and the CFA Institute, an organization that leads the investment industry by setting the highest standards of ethics and professional excellence. In 1996, he was the recipient of the Mississippi Society of Financial Analysts Award.

Reeves and his wife Elee Williams Reeves, a Tylertown native, are the proud parents of three daughters, Sarah Tyler, Elizabeth Magee and Madeline Tate. The Reeves family attends Galloway Memorial United Methodist Church.

Duties: In addition to the Governor, the Mississippi Constitution makes provision for a Lieutenant Governor who acts as president of the state Senate. The Lieutenant Governor presides over the Senate, rules on points of order, appoints standing committees of the Senate, appoints all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate, and refers all bills. He or she serves as a member of the Senate Rules and Joint Legislative Budget Committees, votes only in cases of ties, speaks from the floor while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole, and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions.

The Lieutenant Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 128-132, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. §§ 5-1-13, 5-1-43, and 5-1-47 (1972).

Secretary of State

Delbert Hosemann

The Honorable Delbert Hosemann has served as Mississippi's Secretary of State since January 2008 and is now in his third term in office. A true fiscal conservative, Secretary Hosemann has operated the Agency millions of dollars under appropriation since taking office by streamlining operations while emphasizing high quality service.

Dedicated to ensuring the integrity of your vote, Secretary Hosemann is committed to fair and honest elections in Mississippi. As Chief Elections Officer for the State of Mississippi, Secretary Hosemann has led a crusade against those who would cast ballots illegally. In an effort to protect voters' rights and increase transparency, the Secretary of State's Office now dispatches observers in the State during elections and issues a Report on Elections to the State Legislature and the public on their findings. Secretary Hosemann also twice led the successful Legislative redistricting fight in the United States Supreme Court.

Since the June 3 Primary Election in 2014, every Mississippian who votes at the polls, is required to present an acceptable form of photo identification before casting a regular ballot. To date, Mississippi is one of the only states to implement Voter ID without federal intervention or litigation, saving millions in taxpayer dollars. Through an award-winning voter education campaign, Secretary Hosemann reached Mississippians statewide to educate voters on the new requirement.

A military veteran of the United States Army Reserves, Secretary Hosemann's commitment to military voting was recognized by the U.S. Department of Defense, which invited him in 2015 to join a delegation of Secretaries of State to remote areas of Iraq, Afghanistan, and Kuwait to insure the military voting process. Mississippi was the first state in the Nation to allow online voting for our servicemen and women.

As a business lawyer and small business owner, Secretary Hosemann realizes the importance of economic development in our State. His goal is to make Mississippi the most business-friendly state in the Nation, particularly for small businesses. As part of his overall Business Reform Plan, Secretary Hosemann facilitates business reform study groups to revamp how Mississippi attracts, retains, and encourages businesses. Through various business reform proposals to the Legislature, Mississippi now has the leading Securities, Charities, and Limited Liability Company laws in the nation. Secretary Hosemann's landmark recommendation on trademark laws received global recognition by the International Trademark Association. Secretary Hosemann also drafted the nation's premier Athlete Agents Act which governs sports agents in Mississippi.

In October 2015, the Secretary of State's Office launched Y'all Business, a website which set the national standard for economic and business information provided by any State. The Agency was awarded the Esri 2016 SAG award for Y'all Business. In January 2016, the Agency initiated Mississippi BOSS, another pro-business website, designed for prospective business owners to start and register their business in Mississippi.

The Secretary of State also serves as State Land Commissioner. After taking office, Secretary Hosemann fulfilled a campaign promise to post all 16th Section leases on the Agency's website. This posting enables school boards to make sound financial decisions when determining lease amounts and gives Mississippians greater access to public hunting lands. Because of Secretary Hosemann's commitment to reforming 16th Section land practices, revenue generated from these lands has increased by more than $30 million since Secretary Hosemann took office to more than $80 million per year. This money goes directly back to the hands of Mississippi school children.

Funds generated from tidelands leases and assessments have also reached record amounts under Secretary Hosemann's leadership. In 2012, more than $9 million was generated to ensure public access to our Coastal areas. In addition, a $1 million donation was made to the State of Mississippi for the acquisition and preservation of tidelands. In 2013, Secretary Hosemann obtained funding from a coalition of state, federal, and international sources to purchase more than 200 acres of Cat Island located off the Mississippi Coast. After years of negotiation, Secretary Hosemann finalized the acquisition of an additional 492 acres of Cat Island in 2016. No State funds were expended in acquiring the land, which will be maintained in its natural state for future generations. In 2014, federal funding and private donations were used to purchase the Baldwin Property, which is 2,485.5 acres of ecologically sensitive habitat located at the mouth of the Pearl River in Hancock County. Again, no State dollars were used to purchase this property.

The Secretary of State also successfully recovered more than $200 million for investors in a nationwide settlement agreement in a securities lawsuit initiated by the State of Mississippi. Because of his involvement in complex securities issues, the National Association of Secretaries of State tapped Secretary Hosemann to Co-Chair the organization's Committee on Securities.

Secretary Hosemann was Chairman of the Board of Mississippi Blood Services, Treasurer of the Jackson Medical Mall Association, and served on the Board of Directors for Jackson State University Development Foundation. He is a member of the North Jackson Rotary Club and was a Paul Harris Fellow. Some of his accolades include the George L. Phillips Community Service Award from the U.S. Department of Justice for his efforts in the Hurricane Katrina First Responder Assistance Project. He was awarded the J. Tate Thigpen Award for exemplary leadership, support, and commitment to the American Red Cross. In addition, Secretary Hosemann was awarded the Kirk Fordice Freedom Award by the NRA for his support of the Second Amendment. Secretary Hosemann also served as Chairman of the Republican Secretaries of State Association.

In his spare time, Secretary Hosemann is an avid hunter and jogger. He is a lifetime member of the National Rifle Association, and belongs to Delta Wildlife Foundation, Ducks Unlimited, and the Mississippi Wildlife Federation. He has completed both the New York Marathon and the Boston Marathon, represented Mississippi in the Senior Olympics, and completed every Mississippi Blues Half Marathon.

A Warren County native, Secretary Hosemann comes to the Secretary of State's Office with a background in Business and Taxation Law. He earned a bachelor's degree in business from Notre Dame University, a Juris Doctorate from the University of Mississippi School of Law, and a Masters of Laws in Taxation from New York University. He is a former partner of Phelps Dunbar, LLP and was selected to the Best Lawyers in America for 18 consecutive years.

Secretary Hosemann has been married to his wife Lynn for 46 years. They are extremely proud of their three children: Kristen, Chad, and Mark; and grandchildren Grace, Nora Lynn, Carson, and Charlie.

Duties: The Secretary of State directs a service and information agency with major statutory functions: administration of the Mississippi Corporation Law, the Uniform Commercial Code, the Uniform Securities Law, and the Elections Code; administration and supervision of the 16th Section School Trust Lands, the Tidelands Trust, lieu lands, and tax-forfeited property; and issuance of documents and publications of the state, including those for the executive and legislative branches; investigation of charity and securities fraud; enforcement of campaign finance and lobbyist reporting requirements. Issuing notary commissions, registering correspondence schools, administering the state's trademark and service mark laws, service of process, and administering the Administrative Procedures Act are other responsibilities. The Constitution also designates the Secretary of State as the "keeper of the Capitol."

The Secretary of State is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5 §§ 133 and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-3-1 et seq. (1972).

Attorney General
Jim Hood

As Attorney General of Mississippi, Jim Hood is an aggressive prosecutor and dedicated public servant who is committed to protecting the citizens of our state and to making Mississippi a safer place to live. General Hood is a passionate advocate for crime victims and a champion of children. He works tirelessly to prevent children from being abused and exploited, and to rescue those who have already fallen prey to those who do them harm. He founded the nation's leading Cyber Crime Unit and Fusion Center. Based in the Attorney General's office, the Cyber Crime Fusion Center is the hub from which state, federal, and local agencies investigate and prosecute internet predators who target children and vulnerable adults.

As a prosecutor, Attorney General Hood tried more than 100 jury cases while serving as District Attorney. He successfully prosecuted several historic cases, including the prosecution and conviction of Edgar Ray Killen for the 1964 murders of three civil rights workers. As District Attorney, he also successfully prosecuted death penalty cases, including one which he originally won a conviction, and later, as Attorney General, argued and won an appeal of the case before the United States Supreme Court.

As Attorney General, Hood has established a Vulnerable Adults Unit, a Bureau of Victim Assistance to include a Domestic Violence Unit, an Identity Theft Unit, and a Crime Prevention and Victims Services Division to better protect Mississippians. He has launched initiatives to prevent workplace and school violence, and stalking and domestic assault. General Hood has developed and distributed numerous publications to assist and educate both consumers and other public service entities in areas such as cybercrime, consumer protection, domestic violence, human trafficking, victim's assistance, election, and government law.

After Hurricane Katrina ravaged Mississippi, bringing with it unscrupulous opportunists who victimized citizens, Hood worked to strengthen laws to protect consumers, while ceaselessly prosecuting offender's cases of home repair fraud, price gouging, identity theft, and financial scams. He has recovered more than $860 million for Mississippi taxpayers from large corporate violators.

Hood has also placed emphasis on protecting the utility ratepayers of Mississippi by ensuring that public utilities that hold monopolies on power operate with the utmost transparency so that consumers are not overcharged. Attorney General Hood will continue to fight for better protection for children, senior citizens and consumers in Mississippi.

Attorney General Hood served as President of the National Association of Attorneys General thru June 2015. Hood's NAAG leadership initiative, "Protecting our Digital Lives: New Challenges for Attorneys General" brought national attention to online dangers that threaten the financial and personal information of consumers as well as the importance of intellectual property rights. Hood spearheaded a national emphasis with other Attorneys General on hazardous counterfeit products, cyber initiatives, and child protective programs. Attorney General Hood serves on the Executive Committee as well as Co-Chair of both the Law Enforcement and Prosecutorial Relations and Gaming Committees of the National Association of Attorneys General (NAAG).

Now serving a fourth term in office, Attorney General Hood serves on the National Board of Directors for: The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children; The Jason Foundation, a youth suicide prevention program; The National Association of Model State Drug Laws; and as a Non-Regional Director for the National White Collar Crime Center (NW3C). The office boasts numerous federal partnerships with agencies to include the U.S. Marshals Gulf Coast Regional Fugitive Task Force, the FBI Public Corruption Working Group, the Office of Inspector General Social Security Administration Cooperative Disability Investigative Unit, the Food & Drug Administration Task Force, and the Homeland Security Task Force.

Hood received his J.D. from the University of Mississippi in December 1988. After graduation he served as a clerk with the Mississippi Supreme Court, as an Assistant Attorney General for five years, and as District Attorney for the Third Judicial District for eight years. He was educated in the public schools of Chickasaw County. He is a fifth generation Mississippian and an avid outdoorsman and hunter. He and his wife, Debbie, have three children—Rebecca, Matthew, and Annabelle.

Duties: The Attorney General is the chief legal officer and advisor for the State with responsibility to serve as lawyer for the State, its public officials, and governmental agencies. The Attorney General has the sole power under Mississippi law to bring or defend a lawsuit on behalf of the State. He or she is also empowered to act as counsel to state agencies and to defend them or bring suit on their behalf, either in person or through assistants.

The Attorney General employs a staff of attorneys, investigators, and office personnel, chosen because of legal talents or other skills. The major duties, divisions, and sections of this office are Civil Litigation, Criminal Litigation, Consumer Protection, Crime Prevention Victim Services, Medicaid Fraud, Opinions and Local Government, Prosecutors Training, Public Integrity, and State Agencies.

The Attorney General is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 6, § 173. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-5-1 et seq. (1972).

State Auditor
Stacey Pickering

Elected as Mississippi's 41st State Auditor on November 6, 2007, Stacey Pickering was re-elected to his third term in November 2015 receiving over 65 percent of the vote in the General Election. Since taking office, Auditor Pickering has recovered more than $25 million in embezzled, misappropriated and misspent taxpayer money on behalf of Mississippians. Over 1,250 cases have been investigated resulting in 39 public or elected officials being removed from office because of OSA investigations, and over 169 individuals have pled guilty or been found guilty by a jury of their peers with 69 individuals awaiting trial.

Throughout his career, Pickering has made tremendous strides in improving accountability and transparency in government and continues to promote fiscal responsibility. Pickering is committed to providing resources, education and evaluation for local and state governments to create a more efficient and performance-oriented government in Mississippi. Under his guidance, the Performance Audit Division has conducted 447 audits and reports highlighting opportunity for greater efficiency and effectiveness in government.

Under his leadership, the State Auditor's Office has earned accolades from the Government Accountability Office (GAO) of the United States for setting an example of best practices for the expenditure of one-time federal funds as a result of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA). In 2014, Auditor Pickering received the David M. Walker Award for excellence in accountability from GAO. In June 2012, Pickering was honored with the National State Auditor's Association's "National Excellence in Accountability Award" for his work on ARRA accountability and oversight, the first time Mississippi has ever received the award. In addition, the Department of Defense recognized him in 2009 and again in 2013 with a Patriot Award for his extraordinary support of its employees who serve in the Mississippi National Guard and Reserve.

Pickering currently serves on the Domestic Working Group for the Office of the Comptroller General of the United States. He also serves on the Executive Committee for the National Association of State Auditors and will serve as National Chairman in 2017.

Prior to serving as State Auditor, Pickering was elected to the Mississippi State Senate in 2003 to represent District 42 in Jones County. As Senator, he served as Chairman of the Local and Private Committee and Chairman of Enrolled Bills Committee. The American Legislative Exchange Council named him to the national policy task forces on Transportation and Homeland Security. Pickering helped organize the Mississippi Legislative Sportsman's Caucus, serving as founding Co-Chairman, and under his leadership, this group passed more pro-hunting legislation than any other caucus in the nation during its first year. In 2004, he was named Legislator of the Year by the Mississippi Association of Realtors.

Pickering is a seventh-generation Mississippian. He was raised on the family dairy farm in the Hebron community of Jones County. A National 4-H scholarship winner, Pickering graduated from West Jones High School and went on to Jones County Junior College. He earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Samford University in Birmingham, Ala., and a Master's Degree from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary in 1993.

Pickering and his wife, Whitney, live in Laurel with their four children. They are active members of First Baptist Church of Laurel, where they teach Sunday School and he serves as a deacon. They have served as past Presidents of their children's school PTO and volunteer for the Lauren Rogers Museum of Art. Pickering is a Mason, former volunteer firefighter, member of the National Rifle Association and Sigma Nu Fraternity. He serves on the Board of the Pine Burr Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the Mississippi Air National Guard with the 186th AOG.

Duties: The State Auditor is responsible for auditing state agencies, county governments, school districts, community and junior colleges and universities; conducting investigations into abuse of public funds and violations of law; providing best practices for all public offices of regional and local subdivisions of the state, systems of accounting, budgeting and reporting financial facts relating to said offices in conformity with legal requirements and with generally accepted accounting principles; conducting inventory audits of all state property; and auditing the quality of data and data controls in public schools.

The State Auditor is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, § § 113, 115, 134, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-7-1, et seq. (1972).

State Treasurer

Lynn Fitch

Lynn Fitch was sworn in as Mississippi's 54th Treasurer on January 5, 2012. She is only the second female Treasurer in state history and the first Republican woman to hold that office. Lynn was elected to a second term with nearly 80 percent of the vote on November 3, 2015.

In her first term, Lynn saved taxpayers over $69 million by being proactive in the way we manage state debt. She led the effort to reorganize MPACT, one of Mississippi's two 529 college savings programs, to make it more financially sound for savers and cost-neutral to taxpayers. She also helped to return over $41 million in unclaimed property to its rightful owners. And, Lynn established the TEAM (Treasurer's Education About Money) initiative. This public-private partnership, in its first two years, has brought financial education to 48,000 students in over 300 schools and trained 800 teachers in personal finance, all at no cost to the schools, the teachers, or the students.

Raised in Holly Springs in Marshall County, Mississippi, Lynn earned both a Bachelor of Business Administration and a Juris Doctorate at the University of Mississippi in Oxford. Lynn began her practice of law at the age of 23 as a Special Assistant Attorney General with the Mississippi Attorney General's Office, where she represented financial and economic development state agencies. She was also in private practice as a bond lawyer with a focus on general and municipal bonds.

In 2009, Lynn was selected by Governor Haley Barbour to serve as Executive Director of the Mississippi State Personnel Board. Prior to leading MSPB, Lynn served as Deputy Executive Director of External Affairs at the Mississippi Department of Employment Security. She served as Counsel for the Mississippi House of Representatives Ways and Means and Local and Private Legislation Committees, as well. She has just completed two terms as Vice President for the Southern Region for the National Association of State Treasurers, and was recently elected National Chair of the State Financial Officers Foundation.

Lynn was a 2015 Honoree of the Women in Government Leadership Program by Governing Magazine. The Mississippi Women Lawyers Association selected her as the Outstanding Woman Lawyer of 2012, and the Mississippi Bar Association named her a Mississippi Bar Fellow. The Mississippi Business Journal named Lynn a Leader in Finance in 2016 and one of Mississippi's Top 10 Business Women in 2010. Lynn's commitment to community service extends to serving on the boards of several non-profits, including Goodwill Industries, Red Cross of Greater Jackson Area, and the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. In 2016, she served as Honorary Chair for the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure in Central Mississippi.

Duties: The Office of the State Treasurer has many different divisions, including Cash Management, Investments, Bonds, Collateral, Unclaimed Property, and College Savings Mississippi.

Among the Treasurer's duties and responsibilities are maintaining all the state's financial records including receipts, deposits, and disbursements of funds that flow through the state's coffers. Those funds come from multiple sources including the federal government, proceeds from the issuance of bonds, interest payments, and income and sales tax.

The Treasurer also is responsible for investing state funds, serves as custodian of securities held by other agencies, pays state warrants, manages the Unclaimed Property Program, and administers Mississippi's two 529 College Savings Programs: Mississippi's Prepaid Affordable

College Tuition Program (MPACT), and Mississippi's Affordable College Savings Program (MACS).

The Treasurer serves as a member of more than a dozen Boards, including Mississippi Windstorm Underwriting Association Board, Mississippi Guaranty Pool Board, State Bond Commission, Public Employees Retirement Board, Mississippi Business Finance Corporation, Development Bank Board, License Tag Commission, Tort Claims Board, Economic Development Strategic Planning Task Force, State Prison Emergency and Management Board, Private Nonprofit Institutions of Higher Learning (MEFA), the Historic Properties Trust Fund Advisory Committee, and Chairman of the College Savings Plan of Mississippi Board.

The Treasurer is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Constitution 1890. Article 5. §§ 125, 134 and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-9-1 et seq. (1972)

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce

Cindy Hyde-Smith

Cindy Hyde-Smith was elected Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce in 2011, making history as Mississippi's first female elected to the post. She was re-elected in 2015. Prior to serving as Commissioner, Hyde-Smith served as a State Senator representing District 39 for 12 years. She served as Chairman of the Agriculture Committee and as an influential member of numerous other committees. As a State Senator, Hyde-Smith authored legislation and supported efforts to promote and protect all facets of the agriculture industry.

As Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce, Hyde-Smith is committed to ensuring fairness and equity in the marketplace and protecting Mississippians through sound regulatory practices. She strives to ensure the states' farmers and ranchers can continue providing safe food and fiber at affordable prices to the citizens of Mississippi while maintaining the utmost in consumer confidence.

Hyde-Smith is an active member of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture and serves as vice-president of the Southern United States Trade Association and as secretary of the Southern Association of State Departments of Agriculture. She has close affiliations with the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, Lincoln County Cattlemen's Association, Lincoln County Forestry Association, and the Mississippi Nursery and Landscape Association.

Commissioner Hyde-Smith has received numerous awards and honors including Agriculture Legislator of the Year Award from the Mississippi Association of Conservation Districts, Ambassador Award and Distinguished Service Award for outstanding and meritorious service from the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, Achievement Award from Delta Council, and Outstanding Service to Small Farmers Award from Alcorn State University. She was named to The Governing Institute's Women in Leadership Class of 2017. She was selected to serve as co-chairman on the Agriculture Policy Advisory Council for President Donald Trump.

Commissioner Hyde-Smith and her husband Michael live in Brookhaven with their daughter Anna-Michael, the family's fifth generation farmer. Born in Brookhaven, Hyde-Smith is a graduate of Copiah Lincoln Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi. They are active members of Macedonia Baptist Church and serve on numerous community committees.

Duties: The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce was created in 1906 by the Mississippi Legislature to foster and promote the business of agriculture under the management and control of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce.

The Department performs regulatory functions in the areas of aquaculture inspection for all non-native species of fish and game fish for stocking and food consumption purposes; agricultural theft; meat, fruit, and vegetable inspection; feed, seed, fertilizer, and soil and plant amendment inspection; weights and measures; grain dealer and grain warehouse licensing; pulpwood measurement; insect and plant disease inspection and quarantine; pesticide inspection; egg inspection; retail food inspections; sanitation excluding food services; rendering plant inspection; syrup labeling inspection; honey and honey product labeling inspection; and catfish and catfish product labeling inspection. The Department operates a seed testing laboratory and a metrology laboratory.

The Department's Market Development division promotes Mississippi agricultural products, both nationally and internationally, through such programs as Genuine Mississippi and the Agritourism Registration Program. This division also publishes the Mississippi Market Bulletin. The Department operates the Mississippi Farmers Market and the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum.

In addition to overseeing the Department, duties of the Commissioner include leadership through service on the following state boards: Mississippi Board of Animal Health, Mississippi Central Farmers Market Board, Mississippi Fair Commission, Mississippi Land, Water, and Timber Resources Board, Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality Permit Board, State Seed Board, and State Soil and Water Conservation Committee.

The Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce is elected to a four year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Code Ann. § 69-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Mike Chaney

Mike Chaney, Mississippi's 11th Commissioner of Insurance and State Fire Marshal, is currently serving his third term in office. First elected in 2007, Chaney brought extensive business knowledge and experience to the office combined with 15 years of service in the Mississippi House and Senate.

His priorities throughout his terms in office remain steadfastly committed to consumer protection and application of technology for efficiency of the department to serve the state and consumers. He is leading the department in making strides in healthcare reform; disaster recovery from flood, tornado and hurricane events; bail bond industry reform; and reductions in state fire deaths.

An active member of the NAIC, Chaney serves on numerous committees, task forces and working groups. Among the issues he is involved in addressing are examination oversight, accounting practices, producer licensing, health insurance and managed care, senior issues, catastrophe and property and casualty insurance.

As Commissioner, he was inducted into the Insurance Hall of Fame at his alma mater, Mississippi State University. He received the Distinguished Service Award from the University of Mississippi Risk Management and Insurance program and its Professional Society. He has been named one of the top insurance professionals by Insurance Business America Magazine, and was named a Healthcare Hero by the Mississippi Business Journal.

Commissioner Chaney has served on numerous community development entities and corporate boards. He is also a Rotarian and Paul Harris Fellow.

He is a veteran of the United States Army, serving in Vietnam. Chaney and his wife, Mary have three children and eight grandchildren.

Duties: The Insurance Commissioner is charged with execution of all laws relative to insurance companies, corporations, associations and fraternal orders, their agents and adjusters. This office licenses and regulates the practices of all insurance companies, agents, burial associations, fraternal societies, bail bondsmen, and other entities engaged in the business of insurance. The Insurance Commissioner licenses manufacturers and dealers of mobile homes and regulates their practices, including inspecting their manufacturing techniques and standards. The office enforces the liquefied compressed gas inspection program. The State's standard fire code is administered by the Commissioner through the department's State Fire Marshal Division. The Insurance Commissioner also serves as State Fire Marshal and Chairman of the State Fire Academy.

The Insurance Commissioner is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Code Ann. § 83-1-1 et seq. (1972)

He has also worked as a CPA in Public Accounting with experience in areas of governmental accounting and auditing, taxation, finance, business valuation, and mergers and acquisition. Sam worked at the Office of State Auditor and the Mississippi State Tax Commission.

Sam is a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and also a graduate of Jones County Junior College.

Sam was named one of "Mississippi Leaders in Finance for 2014" by the Mississippi Business Journal. Sam is also a Mississippi Economic Council Leadership Class Graduate.

Sam is married to Robin Robinson, and they live in Laurel.

Public Service Commissioner
Northern District (3)

Brandon Presley

Brandon Presley was elected Public Service Commissioner for the Northern District of Mississippi in 2007, re-elected in 2011, and most recently re-elected in 2015 winning 31 of the district's 33 counties. Elected to the Public Service Commission at age 30, he was the youngest Commissioner ever elected in Mississippi. Prior to his election to the Public Service Commission, he served as Mayor of Nettleton from 2001 to 2007, having been elected at the age of 23, making him one of the youngest mayors in Mississippi history.

Commissioner Presley currently serves as Chairman for the Mississippi Public Service Commission. He has also served as President of the Southeastern Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners, which is composed of Public Service Commissioners from the eleven (11) Southern State and Puerto Rico. He currently serves as chairman of the Consumer Affairs Committee for the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) and also serves on the Natural Gas Committee. He is a former member of the board of directors of the National Regulatory Research Institute (NNRI). He currently serves on the advisory committee for the New Mexico's State University Center for Public Utilities.

Commissioner Presley, 38, is a lifelong resident of Nettleton, where he is a member of the Enon Primitive Baptist Church. He is past-President and current member of the Nettleton Lions Club and is a member of the Nettleton Civitan Club.

Qualifications: Public Service Commissioners serve a four-year term and may succeed themselves in office. A Public Service Commissioner must be a qualified elector, a resident of the Supreme Court District in which election is sought, at least 25 years of age, and a citizen of the State five years next preceding the day of election. The qualifying fee is $200.

Duties: For-hire transportation, communication, electric, gas, water, and sewer utilities are under the supervision and regulations of this Commission. It is the Commission's responsibility to ensure rates and charges for service are just and reasonable, the approved rate schedules are adhered to, the service rendered is reasonably adequate, and that facilities constructed or acquired are required for the convenience and necessity of the public. In carrying out its responsibility, the Commission must answer complaints, make investigations, and conduct both formal and informal meetings.

Transportation Commissioner

Dick Hall

Hall is serving his fifth full term as Transportation Commissioner of the Central District, which covers 22 counties with a population of approximately one million people.

After serving 24 years in the Mississippi Legislature, Hall was appointed Central District Transportation Commissioner by Gov. Kirk Fordice in 1999 to fill the unexpired term of a former commissioner. Hall was elected later that year to his first full term as Commissioner and has been re-elected to four subsequent terms. Hall's experience in the Mississippi Legislature was extremely broad-based serving three terms as a Representative and three terms as a Senator. In both the House and the Senate, Hall chaired the Environment Committees of each chamber, respectively. Other chairmanships included the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee — the first Republican to occupy this position in over 100 years. He also served as President of the Mississippi Republican-Elected Officials Association and as State Chairman of the United Republican Fund. Other honors have included being the first recipient of the Hugh L. White Free Enterprise Award and Conservation Legislator of the Year.

Born in Vicksburg, Hall grew up in Jackson and graduated from Central High School. After earning a bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University, Hall served as a Field Artillery Officer in the U.S. Army. His dedication to public service does not end with government involvement. Hall's community participation has included serving on the Board of Directors of the Metro Jackson Chamber of Commerce, the YMCA and the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra. He has served as Chairman of the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, the Mid-Mississippi March of Dimes and President of the Jackson Touchdown Club. He is also a board member of the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science Foundation. Hall and his wife, Jennifer, reside in the Brandon area in Rankin County and attend Lakeside Presbyterian Church, where he serves as a Deacon.

Transportation Commissioner

Tom King

King is entering his second term as Southern District Transportation Commissioner. He previously served as a state lawmaker since 1993 when he was elected to the House of Representatives where he remained until 1999. In 2000, he began his tenure in the Senate, where his leadership brokered many bills designed to better the lives of Mississippians. As Chairman of the Senate Highways and Transportation Committee, King authored resolutions that honored the achievements of persons throughout his district and the state. Most notably, King authored Senate Bill 3181, the $300 million bond bill for highways and bridges, and Senate Bill 3014, known as the John Paul Frerer Bicycle Act, which promotes safety for cyclists on roadways. King also authored Senate Bill 2514 that created the Mississippi Wireless Communications Commission, which ensures that the state's emergency responders and law enforcement have the means to communicate regardless of any disaster that may occur.

King is a Veteran of the Vietnam War, having served his country in the Air Force as an Air Policeman. He is affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, American Legion and VFW. He has received many professional awards and honors including 2011 Mississippi Municipal League Legislator of the Year, 2010 Hattiesburg's Veteran of the Year, American Legion Meritorious Service Award in 2007 and Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Legislator of the Year in 2002.

In his position as Transportation Commissioner, King represents approximately one million citizens in the southern 27 counties of Mississippi. He is the first Republican to hold the post of Transportation Commissioner in the Southern District.

King is no stranger to South Mississippi as he was born in Hattiesburg. He attended Petal High School and graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi with a bachelor's degree. He currently lives in Hattiesburg with his wife, the former Susan Lynn Patterson, and has two children and two grandchildren. King and his wife are members of Petal-Harvey Baptist Church, where he serves as a Deacon.

Transportation Commissioner

Mike Tagert

Tagert has a broad background in intermodal transportation and economic development spanning the public and private sectors. Prior to being elected Commissioner in February 2011, Tagert was Administrator of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Authority, responsible for promoting intermodal transportation and attracting private investment for job creation and economic growth. He signed an International Agreement with the Panama Canal Authority to promote future trade and transportation via the Gulf of Mexico and Northeast Mississippi. The agreement strengthens Mississippi's strategic position for handling freight in anticipation of changing global freight patterns.

Other accomplishments include leading the successful designation of the Marine Highway (M-65) Corridor, an all-water route between the Port of Itawamba and the Port of Mobile, Ala., to enhance freight capacity while reducing highway congestion. Tagert spearheaded various legislative initiatives including Mississippi's Interstate Pest Control Compact, aimed at promoting trade while protecting the environment and agriculture.

Tagert is a former member of the Trade and Transportation Advisory Council for the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. Earlier in his career, Tagert served as the Executive Director of the State Bureau of Plant Industry, a member of the Alabama Intermodal Infrastructure Advisory Board, Vice President of the Coalition of Alabama Waterway Associations and Vice President of Inland Rivers, Ports and Terminals, Inc.

Tagert served in the United States Marine Corps and the Reserves for six years. He earned a bachelor's degree from Millsaps College in Jackson, and a Master of Public Policy degree from Mississippi State University. In his position as Transportation Commissioner, he represents approximately one million citizens in the northern 33 counties of the state. He is the first Republican to hold the post of Transportation Commissioner in the Northern District and only the second Republican to hold the post statewide.

He is married to the former Mary Love Mortimer of Kilmichael, and they have four children: Frances, Harlan, Wilkes and Henry.

Qualifications: Transportation Commissioners serve a four-year term and may succeed themselves in office. A Transportation Commissioner must be a qualified elector and a resident to the Supreme Court District in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $200.

Duties: The State of Mississippi vests oversight of its transportation resources and operations in a three-member elected Mississippi Transportation Commission representing three geographic areas in the state as defined by the Supreme Court Districts: Northern, Central and Southern. The Commissioners represent the electorate and have the authority and responsibility for the supervision of all modes of transportation in the state dealing with aeronautics, highways, ports, public transit and railroads. In accordance with state law, the Commission is responsible for planning, developing and coordinating a comprehensive, balanced intermodal transportation policy for the state. The Commission membership appoints its Chairman. The Commission appoints an Executive Director of the Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) to carry out the day-to-day policies and procedures of the agency. The Commission meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at its offices in Jackson; and at such sessions, the Commission may hear, continue and determine any and all matters coming before it. MDOT's headquarters and the Central District Commission office are located in Jackson. The Northern District Commission office is located in Tupelo. The Southern District Commission office is located in Hattiesburg.

LEGISLATIVE

LEGISLATIVE

Article 4 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 creates a House of Representatives and a Senate jointly vested with lawmaking authority as well as the power of the purse, a provision that no money can be spent from the State's treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so.

THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE

The 1890 Mississippi Constitution places sole law-making authority in the bi-cameral Legislature, which also has the power of the purse, a constitutional provision stipulating no money can be spent from the State's treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so. The Senate exercises advice and consent over appointments made by the Governor. The power of impeachment is vested solely in the House; the power to try impeachment lies in the Senate. The House has the duty to elect the Governor if no candidate receives a majority of both the popular vote and the electoral vote in the general election.

There are 52 members of the Senate and 122 members of the House of Representatives.

Officers: The President and presiding officer of the Senate is the Lieutenant Governor; the second in command is the President Pro Tempore. The presiding officer of the House of Representatives is the Speaker of the House, a State Representative who is elected to the position by House members. The Speaker Pro Tempore is the second-ranking Representative.

Terms and Sessions: Legislators are administered the oath of office by the Secretary of State on the first day of the regular session of the year following election. The Constitution requires the Legislature to convene yearly on the Tuesday after the first Monday in January.

Volume of Legislation: During each regular session, the Legislature sends to the Governor more than 500 bills to be signed into law. Frequently, more than 100 of those bills involve the finance of state government (appropriations).

The Secretary of State's Office assigns chapter numbers to the bills, distributes copies according to law, publishes all bills in the General Laws volumes, and certifies the bills for legal proceedings as requested.

Rules: The Constitution stipulates that bills may originate in either chamber of the Legislature. It empowers each chamber to determine its own rules of procedure, although each is prohibited from adjourning for more than three days without the consent of the other chamber. Adjourning to places other than the House and Senate chambers is prohibited as well.

Each body adopts its own rules, although joint rules are adopted to govern legislative procedures that affect the orderly flow of bills between the houses.

Length of Session: The Constitution provides for legislative sessions to last no more than 90 days except for the first session of a new term, which may not exceed 125 days. Sessions may be extended by a two-thirds vote in both houses. When needed, the Governor may call a special session with a specific legislative focus. Numerous legislative committees also work between sessions on a wide variety of proposals. In addition, individual legislators often use the interim months to research and prepare bills for the next session. Members also work to help the citizens they represent.

Accountability: All proceedings in Senate and House journals are published by the Secretary of State. Moreover, the Constitution requires the doors of each chamber shall be open "except in cases which may require secrecy."

Redistricting: The Constitution requires the Legislature to draw new, contiguous state legislative districts every ten years to reflect changes in population. No more than 52 Senatorial Districts and 122 House of Representative Districts are allowed. The Mississippi Legislature is also charged with the responsibility of drawing districts for the U.S. House of Representatives following each census. If the Legislature does not adopt the new legislative districts in the time allowed by the Constitution, a five-member commission consisting of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court as chairman, the Attorney General, the Secretary of State, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate must do so. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. XIII, § 254. Miss. Code Ann. § 5-3-81 et seq. (1972).

OFFICERS OF THE SENATE

President of the Senate

TATE REEVES

Lieutenant Governor

Duties: Elected in a statewide campaign for a four-year term, the Lieutenant Governor serves as President of the Senate. In this role, the President of the Senate's official duties include presiding over the Senate, ruling on points of order, nominating standing committees of the Senate, and appointing all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate. The Lieutenant Governor is a member of the Senate Rules Committee, directs officers and employees of the Senate, votes only in cases of ties, speaks from the floor only while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole, and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions. The Lieutenant Governor only votes in case of a tie on the floor.

President Pro Tempore of the Senate

TERRY C. BURTON

District 31

Capitol Building, Room 307

(601) 359-3209

Duties: Elected by the majority party caucus followed by confirmation of the entire Senate through a Senate Resolution, the President Pro Tempore presides over the Senate in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor in his role as President of the Senate.

The President Pro Tempore's power is limited in that the Lieutenant Governor has the sole authority to appoint the chairmanships or vice chairmanships of various Senate committees. Like the President of the Senate, the President Pro Tempore casts a legislative vote only if required to break a tie.

JOINT RULES

*Appropriation, revenue, and local and private bills, and bills to restore suffrage are excluded from these deadlines. For purposes of the deadlines herein set forth, the term “revenue bills” shall include only those bills whose primary purpose is to increase or decrease taxes or to authorize the issuance of bonds or the borrowing of money. Bills which are primarily for regulatory purposes which have revenue provisions included shall not be considered as revenue bills for deadline purposes. The deletion from a bill of the features which made it a revenue bill shall render the bill a general bill for deadline purposes.

Conference reports on all bills must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than the time of adjournment on the day prior to being called up and considered. Appropriation bills which actually appropriate money and are recommitted for further conference are excluded from the requirement that the subsequent conference report be filed and lay on table one (1) day before being considered; however, original action must be taken on all appropriation conference reports by 2:00 p.m. on the 84th/119th day and subsequent reports must be filed no later than 6:00 p.m.

Requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted must be made no later than 8:00 p.m. on the 9th/45th day. The Rules Committee of the House or Senate, as the case may be, may authorize any member of its respective house to make requests, for one or more general bills or constitutional amendments to be drafted, after the expiration of the deadline for making such drafting requests but before the deadline for introduction of bills and constitutional amendments, upon a determination by the Rules Committee that such drafting requests are in response to conditions of an emergency nature arising subsequent to the deadline for making requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted.

+Committee reports and conference reports that are subject to being filed on these deadlines must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than 8:00 p.m.

Whenever the word “day” appears in this rule, it shall mean calendar day.

The above schedule shall not be deviated from except by the passage of a concurrent resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the membership of the House and Senate present and voting.

HOW A BILL BECOMES A LAW

Drafting and Introduction. A bill must first be drafted in paper form. Legislative research and drafting offices are operated on a year-round basis in both the House and the Senate to assist the members with the necessary research and legal work involved in drafting bills in correct form.

Since the advent of annual sessions, a system of pre-filing has been instituted in both Houses. This means that bills may be written and introduced on an unofficial basis in the interim between sessions. For all practical purposes, the pre-filed bills are treated in the same manner as bills introduced when the Legislature is actually in session. At the time a member signifies that a bill is to be filed, it is placed on the Speaker's/President's desk for referral to Committee and, after referral, is given a number which it will retain throughout the legislative process. When the session convenes, the pre-filed bills are introduced officially into the records. Bills introduced after the session convenes are dropped into the "hopper" at the Clerk's/Secretary's desk. Bills must be typewritten on legal-sized paper, double-spaced, with the title and name of author or authors on the outside and must be introduced in original form.

Referred to Committee. Each bill is referred to one or more of the standing committees in the House or Senate for study and recommendation. In the regular order of business, the bills are read by title and number, and the committee to which it has been referred is announced. All bills are listed on a daily introduction list, entered in the bill docket and committee books, and copies are reproduced. The bill itself is placed in a jacket and put into the committee box.

Reported by Committee. The committee to which a bill has been referred reports its recommendations to the House or Senate. It may report the bill "Do Pass," "Do Pass As Amended," "Committee Substitute Do Pass," or it may report the bill "Do Not Pass," which has the effect of killing the bill unless a Minority Report is filed within three days by one or more of the members of the committee who were present at the meeting at which the bill was reported.

If a bill has not been reported by a committee after reference, a motion to withdraw the bill may be filed. When a bill has been reported favorably by a committee, it is placed on the calendar for House or Senate action. Separate divisions of the calendar are kept for bills reported by the appropriations, revenue, and local and private committees. Appropriations and Revenue bills have precedence over bills on the General Calendar.

The Legislature operates under a system of deadlines which sets the limits of time in which bills may be introduced, reported from Committee, acted upon originally in each House, amendments considered from the other House, and Conference Reports adopted. The deadlines are for the purpose of assuring an orderly flow of legislative action within the 90-day constitutional limitation of sessions. The first session of each administration has a limitation of 125 days, and the deadlines are adjusted for the additional time.

Consideration by House/Senate. When a bill comes up in its regular order on the calendar, it is usually called up and handled on the chamber floor by the Chairman of the Committee to which it has been referred. The bill is read and debated by the House or Senate, and, at this time, amendments may be proposed and either adopted or rejected. Other possible actions may be taken at this time — the bill may be recommitted to the committee for further study; it may be laid on the table, subject to call; it may be set for special order; or postponed to another date for action. An amendment to strike all after the enacting clause, if adopted, would kill the bill, or if a motion carried to indefinitely postpone the bill, it would be dead.

The Vote. A quorum must be present for the vote on the final passage of any measure. Bills of a general nature require a majority of those present and voting for passage; appropriation bills require a majority of the elected membership; revenue bills require a three-fifths majority of those present and voting; bills restoring suffrage or bills granting a donation or gratuity to any person require two-thirds of the elected membership. Adoption of Conference Reports or concurrence in Senate or House amendments require the same vote as was required for the original passage of the bill. After passage of a bill, it is subject to reconsideration for one whole legislative day. After the time has passed for reconsideration, any amendments that were adopted are engrossed into the bill, which is then sent to the other House.

House/Senate Action. When a bill reaches the other House, it goes through the same process of referral to Committee, report by Committee, and floor action. If a bill passes the other House without amendment, it is returned to the House of origin, enrolled, signed by the Speaker and the Lieutenant Governor, and presented to the Governor. If the other House adopts amendments to the bill, the bill and the accompanying amendments are returned to the House of origin, and the bill is placed on the calendar for concurrence or non-concurrence in the amendments of the other House. Should one House concur, the other is notified, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor. If one House declines to concur in the amendments of the other, it may request a conference to work out the differences between the two Houses. A conference committee is composed of three members from each House, and if the report of the conference committee is adopted by both Houses, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor.

Governor's Action. The Governor must either approve a bill or return it with objections to the House of its origin within five days (except Sundays) or it becomes law without his signature. (If the Legislature adjourns before the five days have expired, the Governor then has 15 days for consideration of the bill.) When a bill has been vetoed, the objections of the Governor are spread at large upon the Journal, it is reconsidered, and, if two-thirds of those present and voting vote in favor of the bill, it is forwarded to the other House. If two-thirds of that House vote in favor of its passage over the Governor's veto, the bill then becomes a law.

The above steps in the passage of a bill are a simplified example of the parliamentary procedure involved in legislation. The process seems very complex, but a knowledge of the rules and procedures and actual experience in observing a legislature in action help in understanding that the rules and procedures are to provide thorough study and debate of measures before they become law.

MISSISSIPPI COURT SYSTEM

www.courts.ms.gov

Mississippi has a two-tier appellate court system that reviews decisions of law and fact made by the trial courts. The state's trial court system consists of two general jurisdiction courts (circuit and chancery) and three limited jurisdiction courts (county, justice, and municipal).

SUPREME COURT

The Mississippi Supreme Court is the court of last resort among state courts. Decisions of the Chancery, Circuit and County Courts and of the Court of Appeals may be appealed to the Supreme Court. Appeals which go directly to the Supreme Court include annexations, bond issues, constitutionality challenges, death penalty cases, disciplinary matters involving attorneys and judges, election contests, certified questions from federal court, utility rates, cases of first impression, and issues of broad public interest.

Nine Supreme Court justices are elected from three districts. Non-partisan elections are staggered so that not all positions are up for election at once. Supreme Court justices serve eight-year terms.

Each Supreme Court justice participates in deciding appeals from the entire state. Decisions are by a majority vote of the court. The nine justices may sit in en banc (all members participating) or in three-judge panels.

SUPREME COURT DISTRICTS:
1 – Counties: Bolivar, Claiborne, Copiah, Hinds, Holmes, Humphreys, Issaquena, Jefferson, Kemper, Lauderdale, Leake, Madison, Neshoba, Newton, Noxubee, Rankin, Scott, Sharkey, Sunflower, Warren, Washington, Yazoo; 2 – Counties: Adams, Amite, Clarke, Covington, Forrest, Franklin, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Lamar, Lawrence, Lincoln, Marion, Pearl River, Perry, Pike, Simpson, Smith, Stone, Walthall, Wayne, Wilkinson; and 3 – Counties: Alcorn, Attala, Benton, Calhoun, Carroll, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Clay, Coahoma, Desoto, Grenada, Itawamba, Lafayette, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Marshall, Monroe, Montgomery, Oktibbeha, Panola, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Quitman, Tallahatchie, Tate, Tippah, Tishomingo, Tunica, Union, Webster, Winston, Yalobusha.

QUALIFICATIONS: A qualified elector for and from the Supreme Court District in which election is sought (residency), a practicing attorney, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the day of election.
Fee: $200 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.
TERMS OF COURT: A term of the Supreme Court shall be held twice each year in the city of Jackson, to be styled the Supreme Court; and the terms shall commence the second Monday of September and the first Monday of March, and the Court shall be kept open for the discharge of business for at least nine months of every year if the business therein should require.

COURT OF APPEALS

The Court of Appeals hears cases assigned by the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals is an error correction court. It hears and decides appeals on issues in which the law is already settled, but the facts are in dispute. The Supreme Court may review Court of Appeals decisions. If the Supreme Court declines review, the decision of the Court of Appeals stands.

The Mississippi Legislature created the Court of Appeals in 1994 to speed appeals and relieve a backlog of cases before the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals began hearing cases in 1995.

Ten Court of Appeals judges are elected from five districts. Non-partisan elections are staggered so that not all positions are up for election at one time. Court of Appeals judges serve eight-year terms. Court of Appeals judges hear cases from all over the state.

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the day of election.
Fee: $200 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

TERMS OF COURT: The Court of Appeals meets continuously throughout the year and hears arguments every month except July. By law, the Court is located in the City of Jackson as close as convenient to the State Law Library and the Supreme Court.

CIRCUIT COURTS

Circuit Courts hear felony criminal prosecutions and civil lawsuits. Mississippi's 22 circuit courts have original jurisdiction over all civil and criminal matters not vested exclusively in another court. Circuit Courts also hear appeals from County, Justice, and Municipal courts and from administrative boards and commissions such as the Mississippi Department of Employment Security.

There are 22 Circuit Court districts and 57 Circuit Court judges. Circuit Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms. Most circuit court trials are heard with a 12-member jury and usually one or two alternate jurors. A judge may preside without a jury if the dispute is a question of law rather than fact. Circuit judges have the power to issue extraordinary writs.

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney for five (5) years, at least 26 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years.
Fee: $100 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.
TERMS OF COURT: Each year, the circuit court judges issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published annually by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar.

CHANCERY COURTS

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over disputes in matters involving equity; domestic matters including adoptions, custody disputes and divorces; guardianships; sanity hearings; wills; and challenges to constitutionality of state laws. Land records are filed in Chancery Court. The Chancery Courts' jurisdiction over equity matters involving less than $200,000 is concurrent with county courts.

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over juvenile matters in counties which have no County Court. The chancellor may appoint a lawyer in private practice to sit as a youth court referee to hear juvenile matters such as delinquency, abuse, and neglect.

Trials are typically heard by a chancellor without a jury, although state law allows parties to request a jury in Chancery Court.

There are 20 Chancery Court districts and 52 Chancery Court judges. Chancery Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney for five (5) years, at least 26 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years.
Fee: $100 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.
TERMS OF COURT: Each year, chancellors issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar.

COUNTY COURTS

County Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings and juvenile matters. In counties which have a County Court, a County Court judge also serves as the Youth Court judge. County Courts share jurisdiction with Circuit and Chancery Courts in some civil matters. The jurisdictional limit of County Courts is up to $200,000. County Courts may handle non-capital felony cases transferred from Circuit Court. County Court judges may issue search warrants, set bond, and preside over preliminary hearings. County Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice Courts in all matters, civil and criminal.

Mississippi has 21 County Courts and 30 County Court judges. Counties which have a County Court include Adams, Bolivar, Coahoma, DeSoto, Forrest, Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Madison, Pearl River, Pike, Rankin, Warren, Washington, and Yazoo.

County Court judges serve four-year terms. Elections are non-partisan.

QUALIFICATIONS: A qualified elector for and from the county court district (residency), at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five (5) years, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the election.
Fee: $15 made payable to county Circuit Clerk.
TERMS OF COURT: County court usually begins the second Monday of each month unless a special order is entered by the court to extend the term, or, in the case of some counties with two courthouses, the law provides special terms of court for each courthouse.

JUSTICE COURTS

Justice Courts have jurisdiction over small claims civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less, misdemeanor criminal cases, and any traffic offense that occurs outside a municipality. Justice Court judges may conduct bond hearings and preliminary hearings in felony criminal cases and may issue search warrants.

There are 82 Justice Courts with 197 judges. Each county is divided into justice court districts, the number determined by population. Justice Court judges are the only Mississippi judges elected in partisan races. They serve four-year terms.

QUALIFICATIONS: A qualified elector, a resident of the county for two (2) years preceding the day of election, a high school graduate, and complete a course of training required by law within six (6) months of the beginning of the term of office.
Party Candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: $100 paid to the county via the Circuit Clerk and petition filed with the Circuit Clerk containing signatures of not less than 15 qualified electors of the district.
TERMS OF COURT: Justice court judges hold regular terms of their courts, at such times as they may appoint, but no more than two and not less than one term in every month.

DRUG COURTS

Drug Courts are special courts which address crimes committed by persons addicted to drugs or alcohol. Drug courts seek to rehabilitate drug-using offenders through drug treatment and intense supervision with drug testing and frequent court appearances. Drug courts offer the incentive of a chance to remain out of jail and be employed, and the sanction of a jail sentence if participants fail to remain drug-free and in compliance with all program requirements.

YOUTH COURTS

The Youth Courts deal with matters involving abuse and neglect of juveniles, as well as offenses committed by juveniles. Young people who have not reached the age of 18 may be subject to the Youth Court, although there are some exceptions. Some offenses which would be treated as crimes if committed by adults are known as delinquent acts when they involve juveniles.

In the 21 counties which have a County Court, those judges also serve as Youth Court Judges. In counties which do not have a County Court, the Chancery Judge may hear Youth Court matters, or the Chancery Judge may appoint a lawyer to act in a judicial capacity as Youth Court Referee. The city of Pearl also has its own municipal Youth Court.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Municipal courts have exclusive jurisdiction over city ordinance violations. Under certain conditions, some may also exercise jurisdiction in cases involving juveniles. Municipal court judges are appointed by municipal governing bodies. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-1 (1972).

QUALIFICATIONS: A qualified elector of the county in which the municipality is located and an attorney at law.
Municipal judges may hold court every day except Sundays and legal holidays if the business of the municipality requires.

Chief Justice

WILLIAM L. WALLER JR.

District 1 (Central), Place 1

Chief Justice William L. (Bill) Waller Jr., is a native and current resident of Jackson. After graduating from Murrah High School, he received his bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University in 1974 and his law degree from the University of Mississippi in 1977. He practiced law with the firm of Waller and Waller in Jackson for more than twenty years. He served as a Municipal Judge for the City of Jackson from 1995 to 1996.

Waller was elected to the Mississippi Supreme Court in November 1996, and was re-elected in November 2004 and in November 2012. He served as a Presiding Justice from January 2004 until December 2008. He became Chief Justice in January 2009.

Waller has worked to bring various reforms to the legal system. He supported the adoption of mediation rules for civil litigation; served as Chairman of the Mississippi Public Defender Task Force from 2000 to 2005; and chaired the Supreme Court Rules Committee from 2001 to 2008. Waller was also the principal architect behind legislation that created the Office of Capital Post Conviction Counsel, the Office of Indigent Appeals, and the Comprehensive Electronic Court Systems Fund. In 2012, he led efforts that resulted in the passage of judicial compensation reform legislation. Waller has also promoted statewide expansion of Drug Courts, which focus on rehabilitation and save millions of tax dollars. He has written articles for the Mississippi College Law Review, the Mississippi College School of Law's Amicus publication, and The Mississippi Lawyer magazine. He speaks regularly at civic clubs, public events, and continuing education seminars.

Waller has been recognized for his service and leadership. He received the Judicial Innovation Award for 2003-2004 from the Hinds County Bar Association and the Jackson Young Lawyers Association; the Chief Justice Award in 2005 for his work as chairman of a special study committee to develop a statewide electronic filing and docket management system; the Mississippi State University Pre-Law Society's Distinguished Jurist award in 2009; the Judicial Excellence Award for 2011-2012 from the Capital Area Bar Association and the Jackson Young Lawyers Association; and the Mississippi Bar Association's Judicial Excellence Award for 2013. In 2012, Waller was inducted as a Fellow of the Mississippi Bar Foundation and was the recipient of an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree by Mississippi College. Waller serves as an adjunct faculty member at the Mississippi College School of Law and the University of Mississippi School of Law.

Waller's service extends beyond the Court. He has more than 30 years commissioned service in the Mississippi Army National Guard and the United States Army Reserve and is presently assigned to the Retired Reserve. Waller is a graduate of the U.S. Army War College and a recipient of the Legion of Merit. He attained the rank of Brigadier General while serving as the Commander of the 66th Troop Command, Mississippi Army National Guard. He is also currently a member of the Stennis Institute Advisory Board at Mississippi State University. Waller and his two sons are Eagle Scouts.

Waller and his wife, Charlotte, are members of First Baptist Church Jackson. They have three adult children.

Presiding Justice

JESS H. DICKINSON

District 2 (Southern), Place 1

Justice Jess H. Dickinson was born in Charleston, Mississippi, in 1947. After graduation from East Tallahatchie High School in 1965, he attended Mississippi State University, receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in 1978. He received his Juris Doctor cum laude from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 1982, where he served on the editorial board of the Mississippi Law Journal.

After practicing law for one year in Jackson, and 20 years in Gulfport, Justice Dickinson served as a Forrest County Circuit Court Judge, by special appointment of the Mississippi Supreme Court. His service on the Supreme Court began in January 2004. His first year on the Court, Justice Dickinson was awarded the Chief Justice Award for his work in advancing the administration of justice. He again received the Chief Justice Award in 2010 for his work on improving access to justice for the poor in Mississippi. In 2009, the Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project awarded Justice Dickinson its Pro Bono Pioneer Award.

Justice Dickinson has served on the adjunct faculty of William Carey College and Mississippi College School of Law where, in 2009, he was elected by the law students as Adjunct Professor of the Year. He served two terms on both the Ethics Committee and the Professionalism Committee of the Mississippi Bar. He also serves as the Supreme Court's liaison to organizations providing legal services to the poor, and is a charter member of the Mississippi Access to Justice Commission.

Presiding Justice

MICHAEL K. RANDOLPH

District 2 (Southern), Place 3

Justice Michael K. Randolph was appointed to the Mississippi Supreme Court by Gov. Haley Barbour on April 23, 2004. Justice Randolph was appointed to serve the unexpired term of former Chief Justice Edwin L. Pittman. Justice Randolph was first elected in November 2004, and re-elected in November 2012, for another eight-year term. He became a Presiding Justice of the Supreme Court on January 1, 2013.

In 2007, he served as Chairman of the Legislatively-created Task Force to Study the Justice Court System. Justice Randolph served as co-chairman of the Task Force for Youth Court Rules of Procedure in 2008. He serves on numerous internal committees of the Court.

Justice Randolph was born in 1946.

He was decorated for heroism in Vietnam. He served as an air traffic controller with the U.S. Army 1st Infantry Division, known as the Big Red One. He was honorably discharged in 1967. During law school, he received an appointment as a Reserve officer in the United States Navy, Judge Advocate General's Corps. He is a graduate of the Naval Justice School in Newport, Rhode Island. He was honorably discharged in 1975.

He graduated from Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., with a B.S. degree in business administration in 1972. He earned his Juris Doctorate from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 1974, where he served as president of the Law School Student Body.

Justice Randolph began practicing law in 1975, first in Biloxi with the firm of Ross, King and Randolph. Subsequently he practiced with the firm of Bryan, Nelson, Allen and Schroeder in Pascagoula, Biloxi and Gulfport. He opened a Hattiesburg office for Bryan, Nelson, Allen and Schroeder in 1976, where he later formed the firm of Bryan Nelson Randolph, PA., serving as President and CEO until his appointment to the Supreme Court.

Justice Randolph holds the highest ranking accorded by Martindale-Hubbell and is listed in their Bar Register of Pre-Eminent Lawyers, as well as A.M. Best's Directory of Recommended Insurance Attorneys and The Insurance Bar.

Justice Randolph's legal experience includes extensive state and federal court practice. He primarily devoted his practice to insurance defense for two decades, but in the last decade before appointment to the Supreme Court, his practice was divided equally representing defendants and plaintiffs. He served as regional trial counsel for numerous corporate defendants, as well as national trial counsel for various manufacturing defendants. He has defended physicians, hospitals, nursing homes and home health agencies. He represented numerous insurers in arson and insurance fraud cases. He also had extensive experience in general maritime law and Jones Act cases, primarily representing injured seamen.

Justice Randolph was appointed by President Ronald Reagan to serve on the National Coal Council. He has served on the boards of directors of William Carey College, the Boys and Girls Club of Hattiesburg, the Hattiesburg Girls Shelter, and advisory board of the Hattiesburg Salvation Army. He is a former president of the Hattiesburg Civic Association. He was a member of the Hattiesburg Area Development Partnership.

He has generously supported Christian Services Inc., United Way, the Salvation Army, Hattiesburg Boys and Girls Club, Mississippi Children's Home Society, Baptist Children's Village, Home of Grace, the University of Mississippi, the University of Southern Mississippi and William Carey University.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, the Bar Association of the Fifth Federal Circuit, the Mississippi Bar Association, and the South Central Mississippi Bar Association, which he formerly served as President.

Justice Randolph is a member of Temple Baptist Church in Hattiesburg, where he has served as a deacon and Sunday School teacher. He has also served on the Finance Committee and the By-Laws Committee.

Justice Randolph is married to Kathy Webb Randolph, formerly of Ocean Springs. He has three children and four grandchildren.

Before his election to the bench, he served by appointment as a special master in Chancery Court and as a guardian ad litem representing the interests of children in Youth Court.

He engaged in the private practice of law in Hattiesburg for 34 years. During that time, he tried cases in 57 courthouses across the state. He was admitted to practice law in all state courts, the U.S. District Courts for the Northern and Southern Districts of Mississippi, the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, the Supreme Court of Texas and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Neville Patterson appointed him to the Mississippi Ethics Commission in 1984. He served on the commission for 20 years, including 19 years as vice-chair. He was board attorney for the Pat Harrison Waterway District 1988-1992.

Judge Fair grew up in Louisville, but he has generations of roots in the Pine Belt. His great-grandfather, G. C. Robertson, was the last Justice of the Peace of District 2, Perry County, before the county was split to form Perry and Forrest counties. His grandfather, Stokes Robertson Sr., served as the first member of the House of Representatives from Forrest County and as Clerk of the House for four years. He was also Revenue Agent of the state of Mississippi, a statewide elective officer later renamed State Tax Collector. Judge Fair is the nephew of the late Mississippi Supreme Court Justice Stokes V. Robertson Jr.

Judge Fair earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Mississippi and a law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law. During college, he was editor of The Daily Mississippian twice. It became a five day a week newspaper during his first term. He helped pay his way through college with freelance writing for newspapers. He began working as a newspaper stringer at age 15, calling in sports scores and writing obituaries. He did freelance work for the Clarion-Ledger, the now defunct Jackson Daily News, the Meridian Star, the Associated Press and United Press International. He is a member of the 1966 undergraduate Hall of Fame at Ole Miss, and in law school was on the board of the Mississippi Law Journal.

After he earned his law degree in 1968, he served for four years on active duty with the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General Corps during the Vietnam War, earning the rank of Lieutenant Commander. He spent two years as chief legal officer at the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi, Texas. He was a reservist in the Jackson Naval J.A.G. Reserve Unit for five years.

He served as treasurer, secretary, vice-president and president of both the Young Lawyers Section of the Mississippi Bar and the South Central Mississippi Bar Association. He held numerous leadership positions in the Mississippi Bar. He is a two term former member of the Board of Bar Commissioners, a Fellow of the Mississippi Bar Foundation since 1981, and a Charter Life Fellow of the Young Lawyers.

He served on the Mississippi Supreme Court Committee on Technology in the Courts 1988-1990, and on the Judicial Advisory Study Committee Technology Consulting Group 1993-1994.

He helped screen and recommend lawyers to fill judicial vacancies as a member of Gov. William Winter's Judicial Nominating Committee, the first such Committee in Mississippi. A similar group, Gov. Barbour's Judicial Appointments Advisory Committee, recommended Fair to fill the vacancy on the Court of Appeals.

He is an Eagle Scout, and has remained active in Scouting activities.

He is a trustee, elder and Sunday School teacher at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Hattiesburg. He is a former chairman of deacons, and was church treasurer for 18 years.

He is married to Dr. Estella Galloway Fair. They have two daughters and four grandchildren. Melissa Fair Wellons, M.D. is Assistant Professor of Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism at the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine. Julia Fair Myrick is a screenwriter and motion picture producer in Pasadena, California.

Judge

District 3,
Position 1

Judge Jack L. Wilson of Madison was appointed to the Court of Appeals by Gov. Phil Bryant on July 1, 2015. He was elected to an eight-year term in November 2016.

Judge Wilson grew up in Jackson and Tupelo and graduated from Tupelo High School. He attended the University of Memphis, earned a Bachelor of Accountancy from the University of Mississippi, and received a Juris Doctor from Harvard Law School, where he was an editor of the Harvard Law Review. After law school, he clerked for Judge Gerald Bard Tjoflat of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit.

Judge Wilson previously practiced law with the firm of Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP in Jackson, Miss., and Mayer Brown LLP in Washington, DC. His practice focused on appellate litigation and general civil litigation involving a variety of subject matters including business and commercial disputes, class and collective actions, and arbitrations. He represented clients in state and federal trial and appellate courts throughout the country, including the U.S. Supreme Court. Judge Wilson also served as Deputy Counsel and later Chief Counsel to Gov. Phil Bryant.

He is admitted to practice in all state and federal courts in Mississippi; in the District of Columbia; in the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Fifth, Seventh, and Eleventh Circuits; and in the U.S. Supreme Court. He previously served as a commissioner on the Uniform Law Commission, as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Public Employees Retirement System, and as president of the Mississippi Lawyers Chapter of The Federalist Society. He has also served as an adjunct instructor at the Mississippi College School of Law.

Judge Wilson and his wife, Amanda, have three children, Emily, Jack, and Henry. They live in Madison, where they are active members of Pear Orchard Presbyterian Church.

Judge

JIM M. GREENLEE

District 1,
Position 1

Judge Jim M. Greenlee of Oxford joined the Mississippi Court of Appeals on January 20, 2016. Gov. Phil Bryant appointed him to the vacancy created when Judge James D. Maxwell II was appointed to the Mississippi Supreme Court. Judge Greenlee was elected without opposition to an eight-year term in November 2016.

He previously served as U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Mississippi from 2001 to 2010. As U.S. Attorney, he headed the office which prosecuted public corruption and judicial influence cases and major drug distribution networks, and assisted in the cold case investigation of the murder of Emmett Till. He served on the initial U.S. Attorney General's Advisory Council during the aftermath of 9/11. He also served on the Office of Management and Budget Subcommittee, White Collar Crime Subcommittee, Controlled Substances/Asset Forfeiture Subcommittee, and the Terrorism and National Security Subcommittee.

Greenlee's service as a federal prosecutor spanned 22 years. He was an assistant U.S. attorney in the Civil Division of the U.S. Attorney's office from 1987 until 2001. He became the lead civil fraud attorney, trying bankruptcy, tort, employment rights, eminent domain, and white collar criminal cases.

He was in private practice with the Oxford firm of Holcomb Dunbar from 2010 until his appointment to the Court of Appeals in 2016.

Judge Greenlee earned a bachelor of engineering degree from the University of Mississippi in 1974 and a law degree in 1981. He served active duty in the U.S. Navy 1974 to 1978, and in the U.S. Navy Reserve until 1997. During his reserve service, he was commanding officer of a Reserve Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) Unit. He retired at the rank of captain.

Judge
LATRICE A. WESTBROOKS

District 2,
Position 2

Judge Latrice Westbrooks of Lexington was sworn in as a member of the Mississippi Court of Appeals on Jan. 3, 2017. She was elected November 8, 2016, to Court of Appeals District 2, Position 2.

Judge Westbrooks was born in Memphis, Tennessee. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tenn. She earned a law degree from the University of Detroit Mercy School of Law in 1997. She was admitted to the Mississippi Bar that same year.

She became an assistant district attorney in the Second Circuit District of Harrison, Hancock, and Stone counties in October 1997. She was the first African American woman assistant district attorney in the Second Circuit District. She joined the Jackson law firm of Byrd and Associates in 2000, then opened her own law practice in 2001, representing clients in both criminal and civil matters.

She served as prosecutor for the city of Durant and as city attorney for the town of Isola. For almost 10 years, she served as a public defender in Holmes County. In 2013, she became interim communications director for Jackson Mayor Chokwe Lumumba, then joined the Jackson City Attorney's office as legal counsel for the Jackson Police Department. She returned to private law practice in 2014. She served as Municipal Judge for the city of Lexington before she was elected to the Court of Appeals.

She has worked in conjunction with the Magnolia Bar Association, One Voice, the NAACP, the Mississippi Center for Justice, the Southern Poverty Law Center's Mississippi Youth Justice Project, and the ACLU. She served as a Southeast Regional and Central Director of the Magnolia Bar Association. She previously chaired the Criminal Justice Committee for the State Conference of the NAACP. She is a member of the Mississippi Bar, Magnolia Bar Association, National Bar Association, the National Conference of Black Lawyers, the Capital Area Bar Association, and the Metro Jackson Black Women Lawyers Association. She is a former member of the Mississippi Association for Justice and the Mississippi Public Defenders Association. She is a life member of the NAACP, past board member of Leadership Greater Jackson Alumnae, past board member of the I.S. Sanders YMCA, and past board member of the National African American Student Leadership Conference.

CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES

Circuit Courts hear felony criminal prosecutions and civil lawsuits. Circuit Courts hear appeals from County, Justice, and Municipal courts and from administrative boards and commissions such as the Workers' Compensation Commission and the Mississippi Department of Employment Security.

There are 22 Circuit Court districts and 57 Circuit Court judges. The number of Circuit judges per district ranges from one to four. Circuit Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

Trials are heard with a 12-member jury and usually one or two alternate jurors. A judge may preside without a jury if the dispute is a question of law rather than fact.

CHANCERY COURT JUDGES

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over disputes in matters involving equity; domestic matters including adoptions, custody disputes, and divorces; guardianships; sanity hearings; wills; and challenges to constitutionality of state laws. Land records are filed in Chancery Court.

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over juvenile matters in counties which have no County Court. The chancellor may appoint a lawyer in private practice to sit as a youth court referee to hear juvenile matters such as delinquency, abuse, and neglect.

Trials are typically heard by a chancellor without a jury, although state law allows parties to request a jury in Chancery Court.

There are 20 Chancery Court districts and 52 Chancery Court judges. The number of chancery judges per district ranges from one to four. Chancery Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

COUNTY COURT JUDGES

County Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings and juvenile matters, among other things. In counties which have a County Court, a County Court judge also serves as the Youth Court judge. County Courts share jurisdiction with Circuit and Chancery Courts in some civil matters. The jurisdictional limit of County Courts is up to $200,000. County Courts may handle non-capital felony cases transferred from Circuit Court. County Court judges may issue search warrants, set bond and preside over preliminary hearings. County Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice Courts in all matters, civil and criminal.

Mississippi has 21 County Courts and 30 County Court judges. Counties which have a County Court include Adams, Bolivar, Coahoma, DeSoto, Forrest, Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Madison, Pearl River, Pike, Rankin, Warren, Washington, and Yazoo. County Court judges serve four-year terms. Elections are non-partisan.

JUSTICE COURT JUDGES

Justice Courts have jurisdiction over small claims civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less, misdemeanor criminal cases and any traffic offense that occurs outside a municipality. Justice Court judges may conduct bond hearings and preliminary hearings in felony criminal cases and may issue search warrants.

There are 82 Justice Courts with 197 judges. Justice Court judges are the only Mississippi judges elected in partisan races. They serve four-year terms.

MUNICIPAL COURT JUDGES

Municipal courts have jurisdiction over misdemeanor crimes, municipal ordinances and city traffic violations. Municipal judges may conduct initial appearances in which defendants are advised of the charges being filed, as well as bond hearings and preliminary hearings.

There are 237 Municipal Courts with 259 judges. Most municipalities have one municipal judge, although a few jurisdictions have several. Most municipal judges are appointed by governing bodies of municipalities. Terms of office vary.

DRUG COURTS

A drug court is a special court given the responsibility to handle cases involving drug-using offenders through comprehensive supervision, drug testing, treatment services and immediate sanctions and incentives.

Drug court participants undergo long-term treatment and counseling, sanctions, incentives, and frequent court appearances. Successful completion of the treatment program results in dismissal of the charges, reduced or set aside sentences, lesser penalties, or a combination of these. Most importantly, graduating participants gain the necessary tools to rebuild their lives. Because the problem of drugs and crime is much too broad for any single agency to tackle alone, drug courts rely upon the daily communication and cooperation of judges, court personnel, probation, and treatment providers.

Drug courts vary somewhat from one jurisdiction to another in terms of structure, scope, and target populations, but they all share three primary goals: (1) to reduce recidivism, (2) to reduce substance abuse among participants, and (3) to rehabilitate participants. Achieving these goals requires a special organizational structure. Specifically, the drug court model includes the following key components:

- Incorporating drug testing into case processing.
- Creating a non-adversarial relationship between the defendant and the court.
- Identifying defendants in need of treatment and referring them to treatment as soon as possible after arrest.
- Providing access to a continuum of treatment and rehabilitation services.
- Monitoring abstinence through frequent, mandatory drug testing.
- Establishing a coordinated strategy to govern drug court responses to participants' compliance.
- Maintaining judicial interaction with each drug court participant.
- Monitoring and evaluating program goals and gauging their effectiveness.
- Continuing interdisciplinary education to promote effective drug court planning, implementation, and operations.
- Forging partnerships among drug courts, public agencies, and community-based organizations to generate local support and enhance drug court effectiveness.

YOUTH COURTS

The Youth Courts deal with matters involving abuse and neglect of juveniles, as well as offenses committed by juveniles. Young people who have not reached the age of 18 may be subject to the Youth Court, although there are some exceptions. Some offenses which would be treated as crimes if committed by adults are known as delinquent acts when they involve juveniles.

In the 21 counties which have a County Court, those judges also serve as Youth Court judges. In counties which do not have a County Court, the Chancery Judge may hear Youth Court matters, or the Chancery Judge may appoint a lawyer to act in a judicial capacity as Youth Court Referee. The city of Pearl also has its own municipal Youth Court.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The government of the United States of America is a federal government of the constitutional republic of the 50 states constituting the United States of America, as well as one capitol district and several other territories. The federal government is composed of three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial, which powers are vested by the U.S. Constitution in Congress, the President, and the federal courts, including the Supreme Court, respectively. The powers and duties of these branches are further defined by acts of Congress, including the creation of executive departments and courts inferior to the Supreme Court.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

The executive branch of the government is responsible for enforcing the laws of the land. The president, vice president, department heads (cabinet members), and heads of independent agencies carry out this mission.

JUDICIAL BRANCH

Courts decide arguments about the meaning of laws and how they are applied. They also decide if laws violate the Constitution—an authority known as judicial review. This authority is how federal courts provide checks and balances on the legislative and executive branches.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

Article I of the Constitution establishes the legislative or law- making branch of government. It has a bi-cameral Congress—the U.S. Senate and the U.S. House of Representatives.

CONGRESS

Congress assembles at least once every year, beginning on the first Monday of December, in the U.S. Capitol building in Washington, D.C.

Powers granted to Congress by the constitution include imposing and collecting taxes, paying the national debt, regulating international and interstate commerce, establishing military forces, sitting in tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court, and providing for the common defense and general welfare of the United States.

THE SENATE

Each state is represented by two Senators who are elected to six-year, staggered terms. Each Senator represents his or her entire state. Reserved to the Senate are the powers of trying all impeachments and reviewing all presidential appointments requiring Senate approval. The Vice President of the United States is President of the Senate, but only votes in case of a tie.

Senators must be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States for nine years and an inhabitant of the state he or she represents. Senators may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House of Representatives is composed of members chosen every second year to represent the congressional districts of his or her state. Each state's number of congressional districts is determined by population, with the total membership of the House of Representatives set at 435. Reserved to the House of Representatives is the origination of bills to raise revenue and the sole power of impeachment. The House of Representatives is led by a Speaker who is chosen by the members.

Representatives must be at least 25 years of age, citizens of the United States seven years, and inhabitants of the state they represent. They may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

United States Senator
Thad Cochran

Thad Cochran was born December 7, 1937, in Pontotoc. He is the son of William Holmes Cochran and Emma Grace Cochran, who were educators in Pontotoc, Tippah, and Hinds counties.

Cochran was strongly influenced by his parents' careers in education. He and his brother, Nielson, were immersed in academic environments, spending summers at the University of Mississippi while their parents earned Master's Degrees. They also lived at Blue Mountain College where their parents were members of the faculty.

In 1946, the Cochran family moved to Byram, where much time devoted to sports, music, the Boy Scouts, and church activities. Cochran became an Eagle Scout and helped establish a new scout troop at Spring Ridge Methodist Church. He served as its first Junior Assistant Scout Master.

At Byram High School, Cochran earned varsity letters in football, basketball, baseball, and tennis. He gave a piano and voice recital his senior year and was class valedictorian. He was also a member of the 4-H Club and Daniel Memorial Baptist Church.

In 1955, Cochran enrolled in the University of Mississippi where he earned a B.A. degree with a major in psychology and a minor in political science. He was elected president of the Pi Kappa social fraternity, a company commander in the Navy ROTC, Vice President of the Student Body, and selected for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a national honorary leadership fraternity. During the summers, he worked as a life guard at Livingston Lake in Jackson.

Following his 1959 graduation from Ole Miss, Cochran was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve and assigned to duty aboard the USS MACON, a heavy cruiser homeported in Boston, Mass. He served 18 months on this ship, becoming the ship's legal officer after graduating as an honor student from the U.S. Navy School of Justice in Newport, R.I. He also became qualified as Officer of the Deck, in port and underway.

When his ship was decommissioned in January 1961, Cochran was assigned to the staff of the Commandant of the Eighth Naval District in New Orleans to complete his two-year tour of active duty in the Navy.

In the fall of 1961, Cochran enrolled in the School of Law at the University of Mississippi. While in law school, he won the Frederick Hamel Memorial Award for having the highest scholastic average in the first year class. He was selected for membership in the honorary legal fraternity Phi Delta Phi, served on the editorial board of the Mississippi Law Journal, argued before the Mississippi Supreme Court as a moot court finalist, and was elected chairman of the Honor Council.

Before graduating from law school, Cochran was awarded a Rotary Foundation Graduate Fellowship and studied jurisprudence and international law for a year at Trinity College, University of Dublin, Ireland. During this year abroad, he spoke to numerous Rotary Clubs and other groups in Ireland on the subject of the civil rights struggle in Mississippi and the United States. He also won the Hillary Term Moot Court competition sponsored by the Dublin Law Society.

In his final year of law school at Ole Miss, Cochran served as Article Editor of the Mississippi Law Journal and was selected for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary scholastic fraternity. Several years later when he delivered the graduation address at the law school, Dean Parham Williams observed that Thad Cochran's law school grade point average was the third highest of all students who had graduated from the Ole Miss law school during the decade of the 1960s.

During the summer months in the law school years of 1962-64, Cochran returned to active duty in the Navy and taught military law and naval orientation at the Officer Candidate School in Newport, R.I. He was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

After graduating from law school, Cochran joined the firm of Watkins & Eager in Jackson, one of the state's most respected law firms. He was made a partner in the firm in only two and a half years.

Cochran served as president of the Jackson Men's Y Club, as a member of the board of the Jackson Rotary Club, and as a member of the Board of Mississippi Opera, Inc. He organized the first Mississippi chapter of the American Field Service and served as charter president to sponsor foreign exchange programs for high school students.

He was chairman of the Legal Services program of the Jackson Junior Bar, chairman of the Mississippi Law Institute, a continuing legal education program for Mississippi lawyers, and president of the Young Lawyers Division of the Mississippi Bar Association. In 1971, Cochran was named by the Jaycees as Jackson's Young Man of the Year and as one of the Three Outstanding Young Men of the Year in Mississippi.

In 1972, Cochran was elected United States Congressman for the Fourth District which included twelve counties in southwest Mississippi. He was appointed to the House Public Works and Transportation Committee, which had jurisdiction over economic development, transportation, and flood control.

As a Member of Congress, Cochran also served on a Republican task force to study the energy crisis, and he contributed to the writing of a report published in book form by the House Republican Conference. He was appointed later to the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and the Select Committee on Ethics, which wrote a new ethics code for Members of Congress.

After winning re-election to the House in 1974, Cochran was elected by his colleagues to represent the Southern states on the House Republican Policy Committee. He was re-elected to the House of Representatives again in 1976. In both of his races for re-election, he received over 70 percent of the votes.

In 1978, Cochran was elected to the United States Senate, becoming the first Republican in more than 100 years to win a statewide election in Mississippi. He has since been re-elected six times and is currently serving his seventh term in office.

As a member of the Senate, Cochran has served as chairman of the Senate Republican Conference; chairman of the Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry Committee; and chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

In the 114th Congress (2015-2016), Cochran was selected to serve as chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, as well as Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense. He was previously chairman of the Committee on Appropriations in the 109th Congress (2005-2006).

Cochran is also a senior member on the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry, having most recently served as its ranking member in the 113th Congress (2013-2014). He has served on this panel since being sworn in as a Senator in 1979, and was its chairman from 2003-2005. He also continues to serve on the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration.

Cochran's legislative record reflects the needs of Mississippi and the nation. Guided by a conservative philosophy, Cochran has supported measures to reduce spending, control debt, promote national security, and create an environment that fosters job creation and economic growth in Mississippi and the nation.

Cochran's leadership and assistance has contributed to the funding of various university-based research endeavors. Some of these include: energy, agriculture, and forestry facilities at Mississippi State University; the School of Polymers and High Performance Materials at the University of Southern Mississippi; the National Center for Natural Products Research, the Center for Water and Wetlands Research, and the Food Service Management Institute at the University of Mississippi; the National Warmwater Aquaculture Research Center at Stoneville; and the Jackson Heart Study at Jackson State University, Tougaloo College and the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Cochran has worked to ensure that the U.S. Armed Forces remain the best trained and equipped in the world, including support for the Navy's shipbuilding programs and the military bases and installations in Mississippi. Cochran is a member of the Senate National Security Working Group. In 2013, the Secretary of the Navy bestowed on Cochran the Navy Distinguished Public Service Award.

Cochran has used his seniority in the Senate and on the Senate Appropriations Committee to help Mississippi and the nation in the wake of disasters. After Hurricane Katrina in 2005, Cochran led the effort to provide over $87 billion in supplemental federal assistance to the states affected by the storm. Cochran has used lessons from Hurricane Katrina to coauthor legislation enacted in 2013 to reform and improve federal disaster recovery activities. He helped develop the RESTORE the Gulf Coast Act to help Gulf Coast states recover from the 2010 Deepwater Horizon explosion and oil spill. He has also played a key role in reforming and reauthorizing the National Flood Insurance Program to improve the program's treatment of levees and other flood control infrastructure.

As ranking member of the Agriculture Committee in the 113th Congress, Cochran played a pivotal role in enacting the five-year 2014 farm bill, which improved and reformed federal agricultural policies, while also driving down government spending. The law also consolidated and reformed conservation programs.

Cochran, a long-time member of the Congressional Sportmen's Caucus, authored the Mississippi Wilderness Act, which was the first federal legislation ever passed for the perpetual protection of lands in the state of Mississippi. Cochran has helped develop, maintain, and improve the Natchez Trace Parkway, the Natchez National Historical Park, the Vicksburg National Military Park and the Gulf Islands National Seashore. He helped establish national wildlife refuges as a member of the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission, and he authored the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program. He has received numerous awards from conservation and sportsmen's organizations.

Cochran is a member of the Kennedy Center Board of Trustees and a Regent emeritus of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution. He has been awarded honorary degrees from Kentucky Wesleyan College, Mississippi College, Blue Mountain College, the University of Richmond, and Tougaloo College. In 2011, he received the Mississippi Medal of Service.

In 1964, Cochran married Rose Clayton at the First Methodist Church in New Albany. Mrs. Cochran passed away in 2014 following a lengthy illness. The Cochrans have two children and three grandchildren.

In 2015, Cochran married Kay Bowen Webber in Gulfport.

Cochran is a member of Northminster Baptist Church in Jackson.

Roger Wicker

Roger F. Wicker has represented Mississippi in the United States Senate since December 2007. During his time in the Senate, Wicker has championed pro-growth policies to create jobs and has worked to reduce spending, limit federal overreach, and maintain a strong national defense.

He is a member of the Senate Republican leadership team, serving as chairman of the National Republican Senatorial Committee. As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, he chairs the Subcommittee on Seapower.

Wicker is also a member of the Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, serving as chairman of the Subcommittee on Communications, Technology, Innovation, and the Internet; Budget Committee; Environment and Public Works Committee; and the Rules Committee. He is co-chairman of the U.S. Helsinki Commission and Chair of the Committee on Political Affairs and Security in the OSCE's Parliamentary Assembly. Wicker is also a member of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy Congressional Board of Visitors.

Senator Wicker has been a strong advocate for economic development initiatives to help keep Mississippians competitive in a global marketplace. He has been honored by the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) for his work on pro-growth, pro-manufacturing policies in Congress.

Senator Wicker has actively supported cancer survivorship programs and efforts to fight heart disease with the American Heart Association, diabetes, childhood obesity, and Alzheimer's. He has been recognized as a "champion" of polio eradication for his work to wipe out polio worldwide. Senator Wicker is the co-founder of the Senate Malaria Caucus and has worked to eliminate this preventable disease.

He has been instrumental in bringing more research funding to Mississippi universities for a wide range of health-related projects to fight disease and improve quality of life. Most notably, Wicker authored the Muscular Dystrophy Community Assistance, Research, and Education (MD CARE) Act of 2001, which created NIH centers of excellence to coordinate and enhance muscular dystrophy research. The Wicker Project at Children's National Medical Center is a leader in muscular dystrophy research.

Prior to his service in the Senate, Wicker was elected seven times, beginning in 1995, to represent Mississippi's First Congressional District in the House of Representatives. Before being elected to Congress, he served in the state Senate on behalf of Lee and Pontotoc counties.

Senator Wicker served on active duty in the U.S. Air Force and then joined the Air Force Reserve. He retired from the Reserve in 2004 with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

A native of Pontotoc, Mississippi, the Senator is the son of former Circuit Judge Fred Wicker and the late Mrs. Wordna Wicker. He was educated in the public schools of Pontotoc and received his B.A. and law degrees from the University of Mississippi. Wicker is a member of the First Baptist Church Tupelo, where he sings in the choir.

Senator Wicker is married to the former Gayle Long of Tupelo. They have three children: Margaret and son-in-law Manning McPhillips; Caroline and son-in-law Kirk Sims; and McDaniel Wicker and his wife Kellee; and four grandchildren: Caroline, Henry, Maury Beth McPhillips, and Evelyn Sims.

United States Congressman
Second District
Bennie Thompson

Congressman Thompson has spent his entire life giving a voice to the voiceless. The Congressman's lifelong public service record is a testament to his unwavering dedication to fulfil and exceed the expectations of the constituents of the Second Congressional District of Mississippi. A native of rural Bolton, Mississippi, Thompson has always been aware of the realities that plague the South. Viewing the experiences his family endured first hand became the catalyst for his passion for those who were oftentimes underserved.

Congressman Thompson is a product of the Hinds County School District. After graduation, he earned a Bachelor of Science from Tougaloo College and a Master of Science from Jackson State University. While pursuing his education, Thompson began to cultivate his passion for grassroots political activism. A product of the Civil Rights movement, Thompson joined the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), and helped to organize voter registration drives for African-Americans in the Mississippi Delta. After graduating from college, Thompson followed in the footsteps of his mother and worked as a schoolteacher. It was during this time that he began to aggressively pursue a career in politics.

Thompson served as alderman from 1968 to 1972, and went on to serve as mayor from 1973 to 1980, both in his hometown of Bolton. As mayor and founding member and President of the Mississippi Association of Black Mayors, he initiated policies and provided services that benefited the underserved citizens of his hometown. In his capacity as mayor, Thompson made improved the water and sewer systems, paved streets, renovated dilapidated houses, spearheaded the construction of city hall, and re-evaluated the town's real estate to reflect accurate values.

From 1980 to 1993, Thompson served as a Hinds County Supervisor and was the founding member and President of the state's Association of Black Supervisors. Thompson's reputation for being a pragmatic local public servant afforded him an opportunity to be the vocal champion for his constituents. Thompson's years of dedication and service to those constituents lead them to elect him to Congress in 1993 to represent the Second District of Mississippi.

Congressman Thompson has served the Second Congressional District since 1993. He is the longest-serving African-American elected official in the state of Mississippi. He is also the only Democrat in the Mississippi Congressional Delegation. Thompson's stellar voting record is indicative of his determination to be an activist for reform. In 2000, Thompson authored legislation creating the National Center for Minority Health and Health Care Disparities, which subsequently became law. Thompson also received a Presidential appointment to serve on the National Council on Health Planning and Development.

In August 2005, the state of Mississippi was severely damaged by the natural disasters of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. Congressman Thompson aggressively advocated for disaster relief improvements within government agencies, and provided oversight to ensure that federal funds were properly allocated for Gulf Coast recovery.

In 2006, during the 109th Congress, Thompson's Washington colleagues expressed their overwhelming confidence in his abilities, and selected him to serve as the first Democratic Chairman of the House Homeland Security Committee. As Chairman, Congressman Thompson introduced and engineered House passage of the most comprehensive homeland security package since September 11, 2001 — H.R. 1, the "9/11 Commission Recommendations Act of 2007."

Congressman Thompson has served on the Agriculture, Budget and Small Business Committees. Each day, Congressman Thompson works to level the playing field. Thompson employs a progressive, yet realistic, approach to overcome the disparities and be the unabashed champion for civil rights, equal education, and healthcare reform for Mississippi.

Congressman Thompson is a lifelong member of the Asbury United Methodist Church in Bolton, Mississippi. He married his college sweetheart, London Johnson of Mound Bayou, Mississippi in 1968, they remain happily married to this day. The couple has one daughter BendaLonne, one granddaughter, Jeanna, and one grandson, Thomas Gordon. Congressman Thompson is an avid outdoorsman. He also enjoys gardening, reading, and listening to blues music.

United States Congressman
Third District

Gregg Harper

Gregg Harper is currently serving his fourth term in the U.S. House of Representatives after having been first elected to Congress in November of 2008. Mississippi's Third Congressional District stretches from Wilkinson County in southwest Mississippi to Oktibbeha County and includes the northeast corner of Jackson and the I-20 corridor into east central Mississippi.

Gregg has lived in the Third Congressional District since 1972 and currently resides in Pearl, Mississippi with his wife of 37 years, Sidney. They have a son, Livingston and a daughter, Maggie, and son in law, Brett Bailey. The Harpers are active members of Crossgates Baptist Church in Brandon where he previously served for many years as a high school Sunday school teacher and later for college students.

The son of a former petroleum engineer and a mom who worked two days a week until she was 88 years old, Gregg learned at a young age the value of hard work and the importance of a solid education. Gregg and Sidney are both graduates of Mississippi College where he majored in Chemistry. He then earned his law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 1981.

Prior to being elected to Congress, Gregg practiced law for twenty-seven years, including serving as the prosecuting attorney for the cities of Brandon and Richland. He also served on the Mississippi Oil and Gas Board, and remains active in his community as a member of both the Pearl and Rankin County Chambers of Commerce. He was also honored to serve as the board attorney for the Mississippi Baptist Children's Village until his election to Congress in 2008.

In the House of Representatives Gregg serves on the influential House Committee on Energy and Commerce, where he is a member of three subcommittees: Environment and the Economy; Commerce, Manufacturing and Trade; and Energy and Power. He serves as the vice-chairman of the Subcommittee on Environment and the Economy. Congressman Harper was also appointed by the Speaker to sit on three select Committees: the Committee on House Administration; the Joint Committee on the Library of Congress, where he serves as vice-chairman; and the Joint Committee on Printing, where he serves as chairman.

A longtime advocate for American-made energy, Gregg Harper believes that Congress must advance ideas that stabilize fuel prices and build a steady supply of American energy. The Congressman is also committed to supporting families raising children with special needs, and as a member of Congress founded the Congressional Internship Program for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities. He has worked to streamline federal programs and services intended to be a support to youth with significant disabilities in transition from adolescence to adulthood. In 2014, Gregg Harper authored the Gabriella Miller Kids First Research Act that was passed into law, ended taxpayer financing of presidential campaigns and conventions, and redirected that funding to pediatric medical research. A strong advocate for our Second Amendment rights, Gregg is a Life Member of the National Rifle Association.

Congressman Harper has also championed laws removing burdensome and unneeded federal mandates, promoting innovative drug developments for neurodevelopmental disorders, and advancing telemedicine. It is Gregg Harper's desire to serve the state of Mississippi and our country with honor and integrity as he works in in the U.S. House of Representatives to advocate conservative values in the important tasks and challenges facing America.

United States Congressman
Fourth District

Steven Palazzo

Congressman Steven M. Palazzo is proud to serve the people of South Mississippi's 4th Congressional District,which includes Mississippi's Gulf Coast and Pine Belt regions. As a U.S. Marine Corps veteran, current member of the Mississippi National Guard, and former member of the Mississippi House of Representatives, Congressman Palazzo has a record of service that began long before he was first sworn into office on January 5, 2011.

Steven currently serves on the House Appropriations Committee, where he sits on three subcommittees: the Commerce, Justice, Science subcommittee, the Subcommittee on Agriculture, and the Legislative Branch Subcommittee. His committee is responsible for allocating every dollar of federal discretionary spending.

Since his first term, Steven has served on the Majority Whip team. He also spent five years as the Chairman of the Space Subcommittee, overseeing the country's space program and ensuring America's continued access to space. Before being selected for the Appropriations Committee, Congressman Palazzo also sat on the House Armed Services and Homeland Security Committees. His military experience also provided the opportunity for Steven to lead the House National Guard Caucus, where he remains chairman. In 2016, he also took the helm of the House Aerospace Caucus.

In these roles, he has been a consistent advocate for a strong national defense, a leader on veterans' issues, and a champion for bringing fiscal common-sense back to Washington by supporting balanced budgets and pro-growth policies. Congressman Palazzo believes in smart federal investment while cutting the true drivers of our national debt: mandatory spending.

Steven's prior life includes experience working on oil rigs, serving on active duty overseas, and starting and owning his own small business. He also served in the Mississippi House of Representatives from 2006 to 2010. A Gulf Coast native, Steven is the proud father of three children: Barrett, Aubrey and Bennett.

UNITED STATES FLAG ETIQUETTE

The following flag laws and regulations are contained in the Public Law as amended July 7, 1976, by the 94th Congress of the United States. They set forth the existing rules, customs, and etiquette pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America.

Section 1

The following codification of existing rules and customs pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America shall be and is hereby established for the use of such civilians or civilian groups or organizations as may not be required to conform with regulations promulgated by one or more executive departments of the Government of the United States.

The flag of the United States, for purposes of this chapter, shall be defined according to Title 4, United States Code, Chapter 1, §§ 1 and 2, and Executive Order 10834 issued pursuant thereto.

Section 2

(a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed twenty-four hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered cautiously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all weather flag is displayed.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, January 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, third Monday in February; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May; Memorial Day (half-staff until noon), the last Monday in May; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, second Monday in October; Navy Day, October 27; Veterans Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; and such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (date of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

The flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be on the marching right, that is, the flag's own right; or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i).

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the right fender.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for the personnel of the Navy.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the United States flag's right.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a windowsill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the flag of the United States of America should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the clergyman or speaker or to the right of the audience.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day.

On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff. By order of the President, the flag shall be flown at half-staff upon the death of principal figures of the United States Government and the Governor of a State, territory or possession, as a mark of respect to their memory. In the event of the death of other officials or foreign dignitaries, the flag is to be displayed at half-staff according to presidential instructions or orders, or in accordance with recognized customs or practices not inconsistent with the law. In the event of the death of a present or former official of the government of any State, territory or possession of the United States, the Governor of that State, territory or possession may proclaim that the National flag shall be flown at half-staff. The flag shall be flown at half-staff thirty days from the death of the President or a former President; ten days from the death of a Vice President, the Chief Justice or a retired Chief Justice of the United States, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives: from the day of death until interment of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, a Secretary of an executive or military department, a former Vice President, or the Governor of a State, territory or possession; and on the day of death and the following day for a Member of Congress. As used in this subsection:

1. the term "half-staff" means the position of the flag when it is one half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff;
2. the term "executive or military department" means any agency listed under sections 101 and 102 of Title 5, United States Code; and,
3. the term "Member of Congress" means a Senator, a Representative, a Delegate, or the Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered in the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

(o) When the flag is suspended across a corridor or lobby in a building with only one main entrance, it should be suspended vertically with the union of the flag to the observer's left upon entering. If the building has more than one main entrance, the flag should be suspended vertically near the center of the corridor or lobby with the union to the north, when entrances are to the east and west, or to the east when entrances are to the north and south. If there are entrances in more than two directions, the union should be to the east.

That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America, the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down, except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as wearing apparel, bedding, or drapery. It should never be festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of the platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used or stored in such manner as to permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on any part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard.

Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) No part of the flag should ever be used as a costume or athletic uniform. However, a flag patch may be affixed to the uniform of military personnel, firemen, policemen, and members of patriotic organizations. The flag represents a living country and is itself considered a living thing. Therefore, the lapel flag pin being a replica, should be worn on the left lapel near the heart.

(k) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Aliens should stand at attention. The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

During rendition of the national anthem when the flag is displayed, all present except those in uniform shall stand at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. Men not in uniform should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should render the military salute at the first note of the anthem and retain this position until the last note. When the flag is not displayed, those present should face toward the music and act in the same manner they would if the flag were displayed there.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag:

> "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The Pledge should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform men should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should remain silent, face the flag, and render the military salute.

Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth herein, may be altered, modified or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and, any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation.

No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: provided that nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the headquarters of the United Nations.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Organization of Mississippi into county governments began with its establishment as a territory of the United States in 1798 as well as predating its admittance to the Union on December 10, 1817, as the 20th state in the United States.

Mississippi's earliest counties include: Adams (organized in 1798), Amite (1809), Claiborne (1802), Franklin (1809), Greene (1811), Hancock (1812), Jackson (1812), Jefferson (1799 – as "Pickering;" named "Jefferson" in 1802), Lawrence (1814), Marion (1811), Pike (1815), Warren (1809), Washington (1800), Wayne (1809), and Wilkinson (1802).

The last county formed within the State's boundaries was Stone County, established in 1916. County boundaries were changed over time to accommodate the formation of new counties.

COUNTYWIDE OFFICES

BOARD ATTORNEY

Qualifications: An attorney qualified to practice law in Mississippi.
Duties: The Board Attorney is not an elected office. This person represents the county's Board of Supervisors by their appointment.

CHANCERY CLERK

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The Chancery Clerk is elected to a four (4) year term and may run for re-election. The Chancery Clerk is the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and of the Chancery Court. The Clerk is responsible for maintaining the records of both the Board and the Court.

CIRCUIT CLERK

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The Circuit Clerk is elected to a four (4) year term and may run for re-election. The Clerk is the chief officer of the Circuit Court and chief elections officer of the county. The Clerk maintains the voter rolls and assists the Election Commissioners in purging the voter rolls, and assists election officials in conducting primary and general elections.

TAX ASSESSOR AND/OR COLLECTOR

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The Tax Assessor and/or Collector may serve in both capacities in all counties. This official is elected to a four (4) year term and may run for re-election. The Assessor's role is to maintain the personal, real, and ad valorem tax rolls of the county. The Collector is responsible for keeping the records of tax payments and depositing the money in the county treasury.

CORONER

Qualifications: A qualified elector in the county in which he or she seeks election, at least 21 years of age, possessing a high school diploma or its equivalent, of the county in which election is sought. The minimum education requirement shall not apply to any Coroner holding office on July 1, 1986, who is re-elected in the 1987 general election and thereafter as long as he/she maintains continuous active service as a county medical examiner or county medical examiner investigator.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The Coroner is elected to a four (4) year term and may run for re-election. The Coroner is the chief county medical examiner and/or county medical examiner investigator. This official is responsible for issuing declarations of death and performing or reporting results of autopsies in cases requiring such action.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which he or she seeks election and a regular licensed and practicing attorney.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The County Prosecuting Attorney represents the state in all investigations for felony in Justice Court and County Court and in all criminal cases appealed to the Circuit Court from County Court. The county prosecutor may assist the district attorney, present matters to the county grand jury, and in some youth court proceedings. The county attorney is elected to a four (4) year term and may run for re-election.

COUNTY SURVEYOR

Qualifications: A registered land surveyor and a qualified elector of the county in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The County Surveyor executes all orders of survey directed to him by any court, all surveys of land within his county at the request of the owners or proprietors, and to survey, resurvey, measure, and divide land as requested by the county board of supervisors.

SHERIFF

Qualifications: Not a defaulter to the State or any county or municipality or to the United States and a qualified elector of the county in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The Sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer of the county and is elected to a four (4) year term. He may run for re-election. The Sheriff is the chief officer of the Chancery and Circuit Courts and maintains the county law library. The Sheriff is in charge of the county courthouse, jail, and protection of prisoners.

TYPES OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Mississippi has five (5) different types of school districts:
1. Consolidated School Districts – lie wholly within one county, but do not include municipal separate and county;
2. Line Consolidated School Districts – embrace territory in two (2) or more counties, but do not include municipal separate school districts;
3. Municipal Separate School Districts – encompass the boundaries of a municipality, and may have added territory;
4. Special Municipal Separate School Districts – municipal separate districts which have been reconstituted or reorganized with added territory exclusive of any added territory which was part of the municipal separate school district before reorganization;
5. County School Districts – lie wholly within a county and are not constituted as either form of consolidated or municipal district.
Superintendents of Education in all districts with the exception of county districts are appointed. County Superintendents of Education are elected with the exception of Hinds County.

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

Qualifications: A qualified elector, the holder of a valid Administrator's license issued by the State Department of Education, and not less than four (4) years of classroom and/or administrative experience.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: The Superintendent is elected to a four (4) year term and may seek re-election. The Superintendent of Education is the chief administrative officer of the school district. The Superintendent serves as the executive secretary of the county board of education, but has no vote in the proceedings before the board and no voice in fixing its policies. The Superintendent is the director of all schools in the county outside the municipal separate school districts.

COUNTY DISTRICT OFFICES

CONSTABLE

Qualifications: A qualified elector in the county and district in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 15 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: A County Constable shall keep and preserve the peace within his county by aiding and assisting in executing the criminal laws of the state for the Justice Courts of his district. Constables shall obey all lawful orders and execute all judgments for Justice Courts within this district.

JUSTICE COURT CLERK

Qualifications: The board of supervisors of each county shall appoint one (1) person to serve as Clerk of the Justice Court system.
Duties: The Clerk shall file and record actions and pleadings, acknowledge affidavits, issue warrants in criminal cases, certify and issue copies of records, documents, and pleadings filed in the Justice Court, collect any fines or costs required by the Justice Court, and to issue all processes necessary for the operation of the Justice Court.

JUSTICE COURT JUDGE

Qualifications: A qualified elector and a resident of the county for two (2) years preceding the day of election and shall have a high school diploma or a general equivalency diploma unless he shall have served as a justice of the peace or been elected to the office of justice of the peace prior to January 1, 1976. Each justice court judge shall be required to file in the office of the chancery clerk a certificate of completion of a course of training and education conducted by the MS Judicial College within six (6) months of the beginning of the term of office.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 15 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: Justice Court Judges shall have civil and criminal jurisdiction of all actions where the principal of the debt, amount of the demand, or the value of the property sought to be recovered shall not exceed $3,500.

SUPERVISOR

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county and a resident in the district in which he or she seeks election.
Fee for party candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.
Independent candidates: 15 signatures and $100 made payable to the county election commission via Circuit Clerk.
Duties: Supervisors shall have the power to adopt, modify, alter, or repeal orders, resolutions, or ordinances in their respective county and district not inconsistent with law. In general, Supervisors have jurisdiction over roads, ferries, bridges, tax levies, courthouses, jails, county-owned real property, appropriation of funds, contractual powers of municipality as well as other powers expressly authorized by law.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the supervisor district in which he or she seeks election.
Independent candidates: 50 signatures. No fee required.
Duties: An Election Commissioner's general duties include conducting elections, certifying election results, and purging voter rolls.

COUNTIES

Mississippi has 82 counties, 72 of which have one county seat. Ten counties have two county seats due to the division of court districts.

MUNICIPALITIES

Mississippi law classifies municipalities according to population size. Municipalities with populations of more than 2,000 are classified as cities. Places containing between 301 and 2,000 persons are considered towns. Municipalities between 100 and 300 persons are called villages. The State no longer provides for creation of new "hamlet" entities. Municipalities change classification according to the results of each decennial U.S. Census.

Mississippi's most recent municipality is the city of Diamondhead in Hancock County. It was incorporated on January 30, 2012. Natchez is the State's oldest municipality and was incorporated on March 10, 1803.

Areas may incorporate to become a city, town, or village by presenting to the Chancery Court a petition signed by two-thirds of the qualified voters who reside in the proposed municipality. The petition must describe the boundaries of the city, designate a name, identify the number of inhabitants, calculate the assessed value of real property within those city limits, state the reasons for incorporation, identify the services to be offered, and provide a list of interim city officials. Once the Chancery Court approves the incorporation application, the Secretary of State then issues a charter for the new city. The charter is the city's basic law or constitution.

The major function of Municipal Government is to provide services for its citizens such as maintaining roads and bridges, providing law and fire protection, and furnishing health and sanitation services.

In Mississippi, State law establishes different types of municipal governments, as described in Miss. Code Ann. Title 21 et seq. (1972). In current practice, municipal government takes three basic forms organizing as either a mayor-council government, a commission government, or a council-manager government.

Mayor-council governments – Voters elect a mayor and a city council, usually referred to as the board of aldermen. The number of aldermen varies from five to seven depending on the population of the city. Aldermen are elected from geographic districts called wards.

Depending on the powers granted the mayor, mayor-council governments are described as either a weak mayor type or a strong mayor type. The weak mayor-council form is the most widely adopted in Mississippi. Voters elect the mayor and aldermen who together decide whether other officials such as the city clerk or tax collector are elected or appointed. The mayor shares administrative powers with the aldermen including budget preparation. In the strong mayor-council form, the mayor has the power to hire and fire city employees and has a larger role in budget preparation. Under both forms, the mayor presides over council meetings and has veto power over council actions.

Commission governments – Voters elect a mayor and at least two commissions. The mayor presides over commission meetings but has no veto power. The mayor is the official representative of the city and administers major municipal departments while individual commissioners head other specific departments. The commissioners are elected from different wards and the mayor is elected at-large. (Jackson changed from a commission to a strong mayor-council form of government in 1985.)

Council-manager governments – Voters elect a mayor and council which, in turn, hire a city manager. The mayor presides over council meetings and represents the city. The council is the policy-making body for the municipality while the managers handles the day-to-day operations including the hiring/firing of city employees, budget preparation, and fiscal management. The city manager attends council meetings but does not have a vote.

AGENCIES, BOARDS, & COMMISSIONS

The Secretary of State's Office is assigned the responsibility to maintain a record of all State agencies, boards, and commissions including their appointive memberships. Additionally, the Secretary notifies the appointing elected officials of vacancies on various boards and commissions to facilitate the appointment process.

To keep Mississippi taxpayers and residents more informed of State government operations, a complete listing of all agencies, boards, and commissions and the individuals appointed to serve on those bodies is updated and available for viewing on the Secretary of State's website: www.sos.ms.gov. A full board listing and a summary list of boards and commissions are available. The website has a searchable database by appointees' names, appointing authority, and vacancies.

Mark Henry, Executive Director
(Appointed by Governor)

The Mississippi Department of Employment Security (MDES) is a federally funded State agency. The programs of MDES, under direction of the governor of Mississippi, report to the federal government.

The U.S. Congress appropriates all funds expended to administer employment security programs. All federal funds received by MDES are cleared through the State treasury, and authority to expend these funds is granted by the State legislature.

MDES provides an array of services from WIN Job Centers located throughout the State including provision of convenient, one-stop employment and training services to employers and job seekers. WIN Job Centers also provide unemployment payment services to workers during temporary periods of unemployment. The Labor Market Information Department gathers and disseminates labor force data used by private industry and public agencies for planning and resource allocation.

The Mississippi Department of Education (MDE) administers resources and support to public schools in the State. The Mississippi Board of Education selects the State Superintendent of Education, chooses public education policies, and supervises the MDE. The Mississippi Department of Education enforces laws on the federal and state level and distributes funds on the state and federal level. They also ensure educators are appropriately licensed and teaching or performing correctly.

The Mississippi Department of Education is committed to securing a future for each child and improving education opportunities for all students. In order for this to happen, teachers and administrators must overcome the evolving field of public education and students must be given multiple ways to succeed.

The Mississippi Board of Education's vision is "to create a world-class educational system that gives students the knowledge and skills to be successful in college and the workforce, and to flourish as parents and citizens." The Board's mission is "to provide leadership through the development of policy and accountability systems so that all students are prepared to compete in the global community."

The Mississippi Board of Education has created a 5-Year Strategic Plan for 2016-2020. The Board's strategic goals focus on success for all aspects of Mississippi's public education system, including students, classrooms, schools, and districts. There are six goals the Board created in their strategic plan: 1) all students proficient and showing growth in all assessed areas; 2) every student graduates from high school and is ready for college and career; 3) every child has access to a high-quality education program; 4) every school has effective teachers and leaders; 5) every community effectively uses a world-class data system to improves student outcomes; and 6) every school and district is rated "C" or higher.

CAREY M. WRIGHT, ED.D.

State Superintendent of Education

Offering more than 35 years of vast experience in the field of education, Dr. Carey M. Wright is currently the State Superintendent of Education for Mississippi. She has served as the Chief Academic Officer for the District of Columbia Public Schools as well as the Deputy Chief for the Office of Teaching and Learning, providing leadership for PK-12 education by managing the offices of Curriculum and Instruction, Professional Development, Early Childhood Education, College and Career Readiness, Youth Engagement, Bilingual Education, Out of School Time, School Counseling, Educational Technology, Gifted and Talented, and Library Media Services. After implementing a policy requiring four Advanced Placement courses to be offered in all high schools, student participation increased more than 25% and the number of students passing at least one AP exam increased over 85%. The total number of AP exams receiving passing scores increased 64%. In addition, African-American student performance on AP exams increased 86%, and Hispanic student performance increased 184%.

From 2003 to 2009, Dr. Wright served as the Associate Superintendent for the Office of Special Education and Student Services for the Montgomery County Public Schools in Maryland. In her capacity as associate superintendent she was responsible for student services for 150,000 students and special education programming for 17,000 students with disabilities, managing a budget of $325 million, overseeing nonpublic placements and alternative programs, providing special education staffing for 200 schools, the provision of K-12 school counseling, psychological services, pupil personnel services, and the administration of the International Student Admission Office. Under Dr. Wright's leadership, the percent of special education students being educated in the general education classroom increased from 53% to 67%. During the last four years of her tenure, special education student proficiency on state reading and math assessments increased between 13 and 34 points at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. The biggest gains occurred in high schools, where student proficiency increased by 30 points in reading and 34 points in math.

Dr. Wright spent the majority of her career in Howard County Public Schools, also located in Maryland. In Howard County, Dr. Wright was a teacher, a principal for fifteen years, and the Director of Special Education and Student Services. She began her career in Prince George's County Public Schools in Maryland, serving as a teacher.

Dr. Wright has been recognized as an outstanding educator by the National Center for Culturally Responsive Systems, nominated twice for The Washington Post Outstanding Principal Award, and awarded the Howard County Chamber of Commerce Outstanding Educator of the Year.

Dr. Wright obtained her bachelor, master, and doctoral degrees from the University of Maryland, College Park. She currently resides in Madison County, Mississippi.

Rick Smith – Director for School Advancement

The Mississippi School for Mathematics and Science (MSMS) was created by the state legislature on July 1, 1987 for academically gifted high school juniors and seniors. The State Board of Education oversees MSMS and the school is located on the campus of the Mississippi University for Women in Columbus. The school's mission is "to enhance the future of Mississippi in the global society by meeting the individual needs of gifted and talented students through providing innovative learning experiences and leadership development in a residential environment. In addition, we will provide quality educational leadership for other educators and aggressive outreach programs that impact students across Mississippi."

The Mississippi School of the Arts (MSA), located on the Whitworth College campus, is a school for artistically talented juniors and seniors. Programs of study include music, theatre, visual arts, dance, literary arts, and media. The school's mission is "to provide a challenging arts education for artistically gifted Mississippi students in a residential learning environment that promotes honor, integrity, service, and life-long learning." MSA was established in 1999 by the state legislature in partnership with the Brookhaven School District.

The Mississippi School for the Deaf (MSD) was established in 1854 for children in the state who are deaf or hard of hearing. MSD is an extensive center that provides "education, resources and services for Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing children, their families and educational partners." The school's mission statement is "empowered with a positive Deaf identity, students will possess the confidence, discipline, leadership, and productivity to become contributing citizens in their community."

The Mississippi School for the Blind (MSB) was created in 1848 for children and youth with visual impairments or blindness. The mission of MSB is "to promote a strong foundation for learning and independence by providing specialized adapted services and materials to enhance maximum potential for students with visual impairments or blindness." Students attending MSB are able to take part in public school classes within the Jackson area.

Mississippi has 15 community and junior colleges that give students the chance to obtain a quality education at a low cost. These community and junior colleges administer programs for students that plan on transferring to a university, as well as career and technical programs. The schools also offer GED preparation. More than 2,500 courses are available online through the Mississippi Virtual Community College.

The Mississippi Community College Board (MCCB) is a regulatory agency that creates standards and guidelines for the 15 community college districts. The MCCB works alongside community college presidents and representatives. The Board exercises its jurisdiction as outlined in Sections 37-4-1 and 37-4-3, Mississippi Code 1982, Revised 1990.

The State's community and junior college system began in 1924 when the legislature allowed agricultural high schools to include freshmen and sophomore college courses. Four years later, the schools were instructed to create junior colleges. Because of this, the Mississippi Community College Board was established in 1928 as the Commission on Junior Colleges.

By 1931, 11 junior colleges had been established; by 1950, the total had grown to 15. In 1987, the schools were allowed to change their names to community college as a more appropriate description of their relationships with their corresponding districts.

In 1986, the Commission on Junior Colleges was replaced by the State Board for Community and Junior Colleges. The Board was enacted as an independent agency. The name was changed to Mississippi Community College Board during the 2011 legislative session. The Board consists of ten Governor appointed members. Two members are appointed from each of the five Congressional districts as they existed before the 2010 census.

The mission of the Mississippi Community College Board is "to advance the community college system through coordination, support, leadership, and advocacy." The board's core values are professionalism, integrity, partnerships, innovation, and diversity.

ANDREA SCOTT MAYFIELD, PH.D.

Executive Director, Mississippi Community College Board

Dr. Andrea Mayfield serves as Executive Director of the Mississippi Community College Board, a position she has held since December 2015. She previously served as President of Shelton State Community College in Tuscaloosa, Alabama and has more than 18 years of experience in the Mississippi community college system.

From 1996 to 2014, she worked at East Mississippi Community College climbing the ranks through exemplary leadership and service as an Instructor of Biological Sciences, e-Learning Coordinator, e-Learning Dean, Dean of Instruction, Vice President for Instruction, Vice President for Institutional Research and Effectiveness, and Vice President of the Scooba Campus.

Dr. Mayfield received a bachelor's of science from Livingston University, a master's of arts in teaching of biological sciences from the University of West Alabama, and a doctorate in educational leadership with a special emphasis in the administration of higher education from Mississippi State University. She is a distinguished recipient of the University of West Alabama's Alumni Achievement Award in 2011 and was inducted as a member of the Golden Key Honor Society in 2015. Her most recent honor as Alumni of the Year in Education from Mississippi State University was February 2016.

Her service as an education leader has included membership to the Board of Trustees for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC). Her service in Alabama prior to returning to Mississippi includes Rotarian, member of the Tuscaloosa Business Exchange, Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Directors for the Industrial Development Authority, and Region 3 Workforce Development Council Steering Committee member.

Dr. Mayfield currently serves as a Board of Director for Mississippi Public Broadcasting Board, State Health Insurance Board, Mississippi College savings Board, State Workforce Investment Board, State Longitudinal Data System, Innovate Mississippi, Education Achievement Council, and a member of Mississippi State's Education Leadership Advisory Committee. Her record of service illustrates her commitment to education, workforce, and economic development.

Dr. Mayfield's leadership among workforce partners and local and state organizations follows her belief that community partnerships hold the key to local and state economic growth and development. As Executive Director of the Mississippi Community College Board, she is committed to building relationships, partnerships, and strategic initiatives which advance Mississippi economic development through education and training.

Dr. Mayfield and her husband, George, now reside in Pelahatchie, Mississippi and are parents to Michael, Kelly and Alex; they are the proud grandparents of three boys. She is a native of Livingston, Alabama.

MISSISSIPPI BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE STATE INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING

(601) 432-6198
board@ihl.state.ms.us

The Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning (IHL) provides management and control of Mississippi's system of eight public universities.

Created in 1943 by a Constitutional amendment (Mississippi Constitution of 1890, Article 9, § 213-A), the Board consists of 12 members appointed by the Governor of Mississippi with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Board members shall be appointed from each of the three Mississippi Supreme Court Districts until there are four members from each district. The terms of office for the Board members are nine years.

The position of Commissioner of Higher Education was created by the Legislature in 1988 to replace the former Executive Secretary and Director of the Board position. The Commissioner is responsible for the day-to-day functions of the Board. The Commissioner serves as the Board's chief executive and administers its policies and decisions. In addition, the Commissioner directs a professional staff with expertise in academic programs fiscal matters, communications, technology, research and planning, student financial aid, and physical facilities.

By statute, the IHL Board of Trustees holds two regular slated meetings annually, one in June and the other in January, and as many special meetings as may be necessary on call of the president or on call of five members. A schedule of the Board's meetings can be found on the IHL website. The Board meets each month except July and December, which are subject to call.

The IHL Board oversees degree-credit courses, research and public service activities, and programs at the eight public universities, the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Center, Mississippi Agricultural, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine, ten degree granting off-campus instructional programs, and various other locations throughout the state. Available programs range from a variety of undergraduate disciplines to most professional fields. All eight universities offer master's level programs; six have programs at the education specialist level, and five offer doctoral-level programs.

In the fall term of 2014-2015, Mississippi's eight public universities showed 84,940 students pursuing academic degree credit in the system. Of these, 61,029 were full-time undergraduate students and 11,443 were full-time graduate students. State residents dominate enrollment with 57,663 students originating from Mississippi and 23,361 students from out-of-state.

Approximately 75 percent of all Mississippi public university students receive some form of financial aid for a total of $996 million in aid. The Board oversees an annual budget of more than $4.5 billion.

There are 1,641 buildings on Mississippi's public university campuses including almost 34 million square feet.

GLENN F. BOYCE, ED.D.

Commissioner of Higher Education
gboyce@ihl.state.ms.us

Dr. Glenn F. Boyce was named Commissioner of Higher Education by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning on April 17, 2015. He served previously as the Associate Commissioner of Academic Affairs at the Institutions of Higher Learning and as President of Holmes Community College for more than nine years before joining IHL.

Dr. Boyce has served as a trustee for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges, the regional body for the accreditation of degree-granting higher education institutions in the Southern states. It serves as the common denominator of shared values and practices among the diverse institutions in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and Latin America and other international sites approved by the Commission on Colleges that award associate, baccalaureate, master's, or doctoral degrees.

He serves on the Board of Directors of the Mississippi Commission on College Accreditation and was a founding Board member of the State Longitudinal Data System. The SLDS securely and efficiently facilitates research and analysis and provides linkages between early childhood, K-12, postsecondary education, and the workforce. Mississippi was one of the first states in the nation to develop a data system to link, match, and share education and workforce data leading to an enriched ability within the state to improve career-readiness outcomes and enhance success in the economy.

Dr. Boyce has served as Co-Chair of the Education Achievement Council, working collaboratively with all levels of education, state leaders, and the business community to increase educational attainment in the state. Having worked with the Central Mississippi Planning and Development District, Three Rivers Planning and Development District, North Central Development District, and the Mississippi Automotive Manufacturers Association, he has a broad understanding of economic development and workforce training.

A lifelong educator, Dr. Boyce has extensive experience in leading educational institutions on both the secondary and post-secondary level. Under his leadership, Holmes reached the highest enrollment in school history and was recognized nationally as one of the nation's highest achieving community colleges by the Aspen Institute.

During his tenure, Holmes achieved a record number of graduates and was one of the leading institutions in the community college system in the percentage of increased graduates for several years. The college significantly expanded teaching locations across its service area and opened numerous new academic, career/technical, and allied health programs throughout its district.

He served in a number of roles with the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges, including Chair of the Performance and Accountability and Phi Theta Kappa Committees and member of the Athletic and Legislative Committees.

Prior to being named president of Holmes, Dr. Boyce served as vice president for community and workforce development and as the district director of career-technical education for the community college, which covers a nine-county district in Central Mississippi.

Dr. Boyce has worked on all levels of the education spectrum. Prior to joining the community college, he served as assistant superintendent for secondary programs for the Rankin County School District. In addition, he was the attendance center and high school principal for the Northwest Rankin Attendance Center.

Dr. Boyce holds a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Mississippi, a master's degree in education administration from Mississippi College and a doctorate in education leadership from the University of Mississippi.

Dr. Boyce and his wife have three daughters and are active members of Madison United Methodist Church in Madison.

MISSISSIPPI BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF STATE INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING

Miss. Code Ann. Sec. 37-101-1 (1972)
Mississippi Constitution of 1890, Article 8 213-A, as amended
Consists of 12 trustees appointed by the Governor.

The Mississippi Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning is responsible for the management and control of the eight public universities and units comprising the IHL system. The Board also is responsible for demonstrating accountability to the people of Mississippi and effectively communicating the accomplishments, need and value of the system of universities to the public. By strengthening and maintaining a viable comprehensive planning, management and evaluation process, the Board and the IHL system facilitate effective decision making, resource allocation and utilization, fiscal accountability, and program review and evaluation.

2015 Enrollment: 3,518
Number of Faculty: 236
Total 2016 Budget: $87.6 Million

Alcorn State University is the oldest public historically black land-grant institution in the United States and the second-oldest state supported institution of higher learning in Mississippi. Alcorn University was founded in 1871 as a result of the people of Mississippi's efforts to educate the descendants of formerly enslaved Africans. It was named in honor of the sitting governor of Mississippi, James L. Alcorn. The site was originally occupied by Oakland College, a school established by Presbyterians in 1828; the state of Mississippi purchased the Oakland campus for $40,000 and named it Alcorn University. Hiram R. Revels resigned his seat as a United States senator to become the University's first president. In 1878, Alcorn University became Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical College. Over time, facilities increased from three historic buildings to more than 80 structures. The original purchase of 225 acres of land grew to a campus of more than 1,700 acres. In 1974, Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical College became Alcorn State University. Today, Alcorn operates divisions with degree programs in more than 50 areas, including the bachelor's, master's, and educational specialist degrees. Alcorn also operates branch locations in Vicksburg and Natchez. Alcorn is nationally recognized for excellence in liberal arts, agricultural research, technology, music, and nursing.

arankins@alcorn.edu

Dr. Alfred Rankins Jr. is the 19th president of Alcorn State University, where he serves as the chief executive officer of the nation's oldest public land-grant HBCU. Dr. Rankins has administrative oversight for Alcorn's 1,700-acre Lorman campus and branch locations in Natchez and Vicksburg.

Dr. Rankins previously served as deputy commissioner for the Mississippi Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning (IHL), where he served as the IHL system's chief academic and student affairs officer. While serving as deputy commissioner, Dr. Rankins also served as acting president of Mississippi Valley State University.

Prior to his appointment at IHL, Dr. Rankins served on the faculty at Mississippi State University (MSU), where he was a tenured associate professor in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences and extension specialist with the MSU Extension Service.

Under Dr. Rankins' leadership, Alcorn has strengthened its academic programs, improved campus infrastructure, initiated and completed major capital projects, increased fundraising, and expanded its footprint as a premier comprehensive land grant HBCU.

Currently, Dr. Rankins serves on the University Press of Mississippi Board of Directors, Entergy Mississippi Advisory Board, Mississippi Postsecondary Education Financial Assistance Board, and Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission of Colleges Executive Board.

A native of Greenville, Mississippi, Dr. Rankins received a Bachelor of Science degree from Alcorn State University and both Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from Mississippi State University. Dr. Rankins and first lady, Juandalyn Rankins, are the proud parents of two children, Aftyn Elise and Alfred Elijah.

Delta State University was created as Delta State Teachers College by an act of the Mississippi Legislature in 1924. The institution opened for its first regular session on September 15, 1925, with a faculty and staff of 11 members and an enrollment of 97 students. To match the institution's growth in enrollment and academic offerings, the name was changed to Delta State College in 1955 and to Delta State University in 1974. Graduate work was first offered in 1965 when the Master of Education degree was approved. The University began offering the Educational Specialist degree in 1972 and the Doctor of Education degree in 1981. The University provides a comprehensive undergraduate curriculum, offering 13 baccalaureate degrees in 38 majors. It also provides programs of study for nine master's degrees, the Educational Specialist degree, and the Doctor of Education degree.

Dr. William N. LaForge

President

Bill LaForge was named president of Delta State in 2013. As a DSU alumnus, he served as national president of the Alumni Association and a trustee of the Delta State University Foundation. He was selected DSU's Alumnus of the Year in 1992 and was a charter member of the DSU Alumni Hall of Fame in 2007.

LaForge's professional career in both the public and private sectors has spanned the fields of law, government, higher education, and public policy. He is an attorney and registered lobbyist in Washington, D.C. and principal of LaForge Government Relations. He has specialized in federal government relations and represented businesses and other organizations with public policy interests before the U.S. Congress and federal executive branch agencies. He previously served as prosecutor and a deputy chancery court clerk in the Mississippi Delta, as well as a senior congressional policy advisor in Washington.

A native of Cleveland, he graduated with honors from Delta State and earned his law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law and an LL.M. in international law from Georgetown University. He also studied international law at Cambridge University and received fellowships to study government and public policy in the European Union and at Harvard.

JACKSON STATE UNIVERSITY

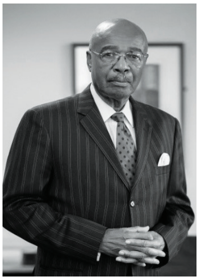
Jackson State University's distinguished history began in 1877 as the Natchez Seminary, a private church school set up in Natchez, Mississippi, under the auspices of the American Baptist Home Mission Society of New York. Beginning with only 20 students, the seminary educated newly freed African Americans as ministers and teachers. In 1882, the society moved the school to Jackson, Mississippi, to the location where Millsaps College now stands. The seminary was renamed Jackson College in recognition of its new location in central Mississippi. Three years later, construction began on the site that is now the University's main campus. After the turn of the 20th century, the institution began to broaden its course of study, and in 1924, the college awarded its first degree. By 1934, the American Baptist Home Mission Society had withdrawn its support for the college, which began efforts toward garnering state support for the institution. In 1940, the school reorganized its curriculum as a two-year program and changed its name to the Mississippi Negro Training School. The State Institutions of Higher Learning then expanded the curriculum to a four-year teacher education program. The first graduating class under state support received Bachelor of Science degrees in Education in May 1944; two months after, the school was renamed the Jackson College for Negro Teachers. By 1967, state support had been secured and the school was renamed Jackson State College. Through a legislative act in 1974, the College became Jackson State University (JSU). Five years later, the Institutions of Higher Learning officially designated JSU as Mississippi's Urban University.



Dr. Rod Paige
Interim President
rod.page@jsums.edu

JSU interim President Rod Paige, the son of a school principal and a librarian, rose from humble roots in a segregated small-town in Mississippi all the way to U.S. Secretary of Education. He assumed his new role on November 7, 2016.

From 2001 to 2005, Paige served in George W. Bush's administration. As the nation's top educator, he championed student achievement and employed "best of breed" solutions to raise national standards of educational excellence. A member of the Presidential Cabinet, Paige spearheaded the implementation of the historic No Child Left Behind Act, with the goal of reinvigorating America's education system.

Paige forged his reputation for seeking out and putting in place innovative approaches to systemic academic improvement when he was dean of the College of Education at Texas Southern University (TSU). At TSU, he established the University's Center for Excellence in Urban Education.

He also has shown a knack for inclusive leadership, first as a school board trustee and then as superintendent of the Houston Independent School District, then the nation's seventh-largest district. When he was appointed superintendent in 1994, he was the first African-American in the district's history to serve in that position. In 1999, Paige was named one of the top two educators in the country by the Council of the Great City Schools. Two years later, Paige was honored as National Superintendent of the Year by the American Association of School Administrators. Following his time as Secretary of Education, Paige served as a Public Policy Fellow at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars. In 2006, he authored The War Against Hope and, in 2010, published The Black-White Achievement Gap: Why Closing it is the Greatest Civil Rights Issue of Our Time.

In his relentless quest to improve the quality of education for all students, Paige is an active member of numerous boards, including the Universal Technical Institute (UTI), Thomas B. Fordham Foundation, the American College of Education, Patten University, Strake Foundation, Blue Cure Foundation, Texas Charter Schools Association and the National Council of Economic Education's Commission on the Skills of the American Workforce, among others. Paige is the eldest of five siblings. He and his wife, Stephanie Nellons-Paige, have a son and daughter.

From comprehensive educational options and groundbreaking research to award-winning service initiatives and an environment that embraces intellectual and creative freedom, the Mississippi State experience is transforming and empowering communities throughout the world. As one of the national land-grant colleges established after Congress passed the Morrill Act in 1862, the institution opened its doors in the fall of 1880 as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of the State of Mississippi. It soon distinguished itself as a leader in agriculture, horticulture, and the mechanical arts in addition to other scientific and classical studies, including military tactics. By 1932, when the legislature renamed the school Mississippi State College, it was well on its way to building the foundation for generations of students from all walks of life to succeed in higher education. In 1958, the legislature changed the name to Mississippi State University. Today, MSU stands as a Top 100 National Science Foundation research institution, providing access and opportunity to students from all sectors of the state, as well as from all 50 states and 88 other countries. Students in eight colleges are participating in cutting-edge research with a global impact, including work to get unmanned aerial systems flying safely in the nation's airspace, designing the car of the future, and generating solutions to world hunger, among other achievements.

Dr. Mark E. Keenum
President
president@msstate.edu

Dr. Mark Everett Keenum became Mississippi State's 19th president January 5, 2009, following a distinguished public service career. Throughout his tenure, Keenum has guided Mississippi State to unprecedented heights. The university has experienced record enrollment growth to more than 21,600 students. The campus has expanded and improved on Keenum's watch with construction of The Mill at MSU conference center, a new classroom building with built-in parking, and two new residence halls. Also, the newly constructed Nusz Hall houses the G.V. "Sonny" Montgomery Center for America's Veterans and an additional floor in Mitchell Memorial Library is home to the Ulysses S. Grant Presidential Library. New projects include a new Music Building and the completion of an Animal and Dairy Science/Poultry Science complex for the Division of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine. University fundraising has reached all-time record levels. MSU's Infinite Impact capital campaign has been an unparalleled success, achieving its $600 million goal early and announcing a new private endowment goal—$1 billion by 2020—the largest campaign goal ever for an educational institution in Mississippi. An MSU graduate with degrees in agricultural economics, Keenum's interest in international food security has strengthened the university's contributions to global economic sustainability. Keenum has signed, along with other university leaders, the Presidents' Commitment to Food and Nutrition Security, internationally focused on ending food insecurity. Keenum began his career at MSU as a faculty member with the Extension Service and the Department of Agricultural Economics. He went on to serve as chief of staff to U.S. Senator Thad Cochran in Washington, D.C. and was Under Secretary of the U.S. Department of Agriculture prior to returning home to Mississippi State.

MISSISSIPPI UNIVERSITY FOR WOMEN

1100 College Street, Columbus 39701

Website: www.muw.edu
Email: admissions@muw.edu
Founded: 1884
Fall 2016 Enrollment: 2,956
Number of Faculty: 217
Total 2017 Budget: $58.3 million

Established in 1884, Mississippi University for Women, also known as The W, became the first public college for women in America. Originally known as the Industrial Institute and College, the institution was created by an act of the Mississippi Legislature on March 12, 1884, for the dual purposes of providing a liberal arts education and preparing women for employment. The first session began October 22, 1885, with an enrollment of approximately 250 students on a campus formerly occupied by the Columbus Female Institute, a private college founded in 1847. The name of the institution changed to Mississippi State College for Women in 1920 to reflect an emphasis on collegiate rather than vocational education. The name changed again in 1974 to Mississippi University for Women to reflect better the nature of the academic programs, including graduate studies. In 1982 the United States Supreme Court ordered the university to admit a male student to the nursing program. Following this historic decision, the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning ordered the university to change its policies to allow the admission of qualified males into all university programs. In 1988 the Board of Trustees reaffirmed the mission of MUW as an institution of quality academic programs for all qualified students with emphasis on distinctive opportunities for women. Today, The W continues its historic focus on academic leadership development for women, as well as its long tradition of excellence in liberal arts and professional education for both women and men. The W prepares its students for a wide variety of roles both professional and personally.

Dr. James B. Borsig

President

Dr. Jim Borsig has a 30-year career in both higher education and public service in his native state.

He has served as the 14th president of Mississippi University for Women since January 2012. There, he has encouraged an inclusive culture by seeking constituency input on issues ranging from branding to leadership program design. He refocused the university's emphasis on student recruitment and retention and oversaw the development of new partnerships with community colleges. The W has expanded both undergraduate and graduate program offerings and has seen healthy enrollments under his leadership.

Since Dr. Borsig's arrival, The W has four times been named to the Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For" Honor Roll, a distinction earned by only a small percentage of participating colleges and universities. It has been consistently recognized by Washington Monthly as top university in the master's university category for its contributions in community service and providing affordability and access; and has been recognized as a top regional public university by U.S. News and World Report.

His university presidency was preceded by tenure as Associate Commissioner for External Relations and Public Policy for the Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning, a role that required he work closely with state legislative leaders, the Governor's Office, both the K-12 and community college system, and the private sector. He has also served as Assistant Commissioner for Government Relations for IHL.

In the public university system, Dr. Borsig served as Executive Assistant to the President of the University of Southern Mississippi and as Research and Development Coordinator for the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, based at Mississippi State University. He also has been a visiting professor in Jackson State University's Department of Urban and Regional Planning.

Dr. Borsig holds a bachelor's degree in political science and American Studies and a master's degree in political science with a concentration in public administration, both from the University of Southern Mississippi. He earned a doctorate in public policy and administration from Mississippi State University. An Eagle Scout, he is currently Council President, Pushmataha Area Boy Scout Council.

Mississippi Valley State University was created by the Mississippi Legislature as Mississippi Vocational College in 1946. The expressed purpose of the institution was to train teachers for rural and elementary schools and to provide vocational training. The first academic session started in the summer of 1950 with an enrollment of 305 in-service teachers. The first full academic year, 1950-51, began with 14 regular students and seven faculty members. Under its original name and purpose, the institution provided a higher education opportunity for many first-generation college students. In order to reflect the broadening scope and offerings of the institution, its name was changed to Mississippi Valley State College in 1964. Under this transition, the institution became more general purpose in nature while retaining its commitment to provide special higher education opportunities. The name of the institution was changed to Mississippi Valley State University in 1974. Graduate programs began in 1976.

Dr. William B. Bynum Jr.

President

Dr. William B. Bynum Jr., a 25-year higher education professional began his presidency at "The Valley" in November 2013. A native of Rocky Mount, N.C., Dr. Bynum earned his bachelor of arts degree in Sociology from Davidson College while on a student athlete scholarship. While at Davidson, he also minored in Education and passed the National Teachers Exam. He was subsequently licensed and certified to teach Social Studies and Math in N.C. and Georgia. Dr. Bynum went on to earn his masters and Ph.D. in Sociology from Duke University while serving as a Duke Endowment Fellow. Dr. Bynum was also a member of the inaugural class of the NAFEO-Kellogg Leadership Fellows Program, a year-long program specifically designed to train the next generation of presidents/chancellors for minority serving institutions.

Prior to Morehouse, Dr. Bynum served as the Vice President for Student Affairs & Enrollment Management (2000-2009) at The Lincoln University. He was also Associate Vice President and Dean of Students at Clark Atlanta University. He served as the Covington Distinguished Professor of Sociology at Davidson and at Morehouse he was an adjunct professor in the Leadership Studies program and Sociology department.

Dr. Bynum's other professional experience includes research and teaching positions at the Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech), Duke University and Durham and Edgecombe Community Colleges. He started his educational career as a teacher, football and wrestling coach in the Rocky Mount (N.C.) City School System (1984-87) and the Dekalb County (GA) School System (1987-88).

Total 2016 Budget: $2.54 billion

Founded in 1848, the University of Mississippi, affectionately known to alumni, students, and friends as Ole Miss, is Mississippi's flagship university. Included in the elite group of R1: Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity by the Carnegie Classification, it has a long history of producing leaders in public service, health care, academics, and business.

With nearly 24,000 students, Ole Miss is the state's largest university and is ranked among the nation's fastest-growing institutions. Its 16 academic divisions include a medical school, nationally recognized schools of accountancy, law, and pharmacy, and the Sally McDonnell Barksdale Honors College, renowned for a blend of academic rigor, experiential learning and opportunities for community action.

The student body includes students from all 50 states and 86 countries.

With an acclaimed program in creative writing, the university has been named a "Top 10 University for Aspiring Writers." It also has one of only 12 Chinese Flagship programs in the nation, along with the acclaimed Center for the Study of Southern Culture, a multidisciplinary Center for Manufacturing Excellence and the Croft Institute for International Studies, which prepares graduates to compete in a global market. The new John D. Bower School of Population Health is one of only three such programs in the country.

The UM Medical Center houses the Jackson Heart Study, the world's largest long-term study of cardiovascular risk factors in African-Americans. It also is home to the world's best-selling medical physiology textbook, the Textbook of Medical Physiology.

The Ole Miss campus is universally recognized for its beauty and charm and has been named as the nation's most beautiful by several media outlets, most recently by USA Today in 2016.

Dr. Jeffrey S. Vitter

Chancellor

Jeffrey S. Vitter, the 17th chancellor of the University of Mississippi, is a renowned computer scientist and academic leader. Before coming to Ole Miss, he served five-and-a-half years as provost, executive vice chancellor, and Roy A. Roberts Distinguished Professor at the University of Kansas, where he initiated and co-led the campuswide development of KU's strategic plan, Bold Aspirations, and oversaw the creation of the first universitywide KU core curriculum.

Before joining KU, Vitter was on the faculty at Texas A&M University, where he served as provost and executive vice president for academics. He also has served in faculty and administrative roles at Purdue University, Duke University, and Brown University.

Besides his chancellor duties, Vitter also serves as a Distinguished Professor of Computer and Information Science at Ole Miss. His research expertise deals with big data and data science, especially the algorithmic aspects of processing, compressing, and communicating massive amounts of information.

A New Orleans native, Vitter graduated in mathematics with highest honors from the University of Notre Dame in 1977 and earned a Ph.D. under Don Knuth in computer science at Stanford University. He also holds an MBA from Duke University. His wife, Sharon, is a native Kansan and KU alumna. They have three adult children, Jillian, Scott, and Audrey, and all the Vitters are avid sports fans.

Total Budget: $397.8 Million

Distinguished and proud, The University of Southern Mississippi is a national public university that is engaging and empowering individuals to transform lives and communities. Our values are to lead with academic excellence, conduct innovative research, provide cultural enrichment, conduct economic development, create healthier communities, contribute to global communities, and educate the whole student. Founded in 1910, Southern Miss is the only SREB-Level 1 designated university in the state graduating the most PhD's in-state. A dual-campus, Southern Miss boasts world-class research and teaching sites along the Mississippi Gulf Coast; receives more than $70 million in research dollars; has signature academic programs including polymer science and engineering, the Center for Writers, the four art disciplines, nursing and education; and has the sixth oldest Honors College in the nation. With academic excellence and, in a tradition of leadership for student development, Southern Miss is educating a 21st century work force providing intellectual capital, cultural enrichment, and innovation to Mississippi and the world.

Dr. Rodney D. Bennett
President

Rodney D. Bennett serves as the chief executive officer and principle educational officer of The University of Southern Mississippi, a comprehensive doctoral and research-driven university with campuses in south Mississippi and along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Appointed to the presidency by the Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning, he is responsible for every facet of institutional operations and must shape the University's educational policy and academic standards in cooperation with the State Commissioner of Higher Education.

As proven leaders in innovation, the University's faculty and students conduct transformative research that translates into real-world solutions, and its Drapeau Center for Undergraduate Research affords students meaningful research opportunities. In the past ten years, USM students have earned seven Goldwater Scholarships, three Truman Scholarships, and 16 National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships. The University is also one of a select number of institutions in the nation accredited in all four areas of the arts: art, dance, music, and theatre.

Under President Bennett's leadership, the University has invested in new faculty positions, expanded coastal operations, developed new academic programs, and worked to increase access to quality education and research opportunities to serve the needs of the state of Mississippi and beyond. He has demonstrated a strong commitment to the Gulf Coast region and to student recruitment, retention, and graduation.

President Bennett's vision is for The University of Southern Mississippi to become the model for public higher education across the country. Moving forward, his key institutional priorities include improving quality across the board while ensuring student success; expanding enrollment strategies; enhancing academic instruction; fostering greater focus on research; bolstering economic and community partnerships; and maximizing human potential.

President Bennett holds a Doctor of Education Degree in Educational Administration from Tennessee State University in Nashville and a Specialist in Education Degree, a Master of Education Degree in Educational Administration, and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mass Communication from Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro.

MISSISSIPPI MILITARY DEPARTMENT

The Mississippi Military Department is part of the Mississippi executive branch and is a State agency. The Adjutant General of Mississippi (TAG) serves as the executive director and is only subordinate to the Commander-in-Chief, the Governor of Mississippi, in matters relating to the department and the state militia forces. The Adjutant General is a political appointee and serves at the will and pleasure of the Governor. The Adjutant General's term of office expires with the term of the Governor.

The Adjutant General of Mississippi, via the Mississippi Military Department, is expressly authorized to "issue such orders, rules and regulations as may be necessary in order that the organization, training, and discipline of the components of the militia of this state will at all times conform to the applicable requirements of the United States government relating thereto. Orders, rules, and regulations issued hereunder shall have full force and effect as part of the military code of this state."

Mississippi's militia forces formally break down into three broad classes: The Mississippi National Guard (MSNG), the Mississippi State Guard (MSG), and the unorganized militia. The Mississippi National Guard and the Mississippi State Guard are considered organized militia. The Mississippi National Guard is the most recognizable military force within our State borders.

The missions of the Mississippi Army National Guard and the Mississippi Air National Guard are dual in nature. The state mission is: to provide protection of life and property, and uphold the preservation of peace, order, and public safety for the citizens of Mississippi, under the leadership and control of the Governor. The federal mission is: to serve for the common defense, under Presidential authority, in times of national emergency or war.

The Mississippi State Guard is most closely aligned with the concept of state militia. The members are volunteers, self-equipped (armed only under special circumstances, as defined in law), can only operate within the borders of the State, and are unpaid unless activated to assist or backfill the Mississippi National Guard.

The Guard has a history of service in homeland defense. The Mississippi Emergency Service Medal has been given in more than 49 different operations, including: 14 hurricanes, seven floods, five tornados, and numerous civil disturbances ranging from the textile strike in 1934 to civil strife in the 1960s.

In 1927, Mississippi Guardsmen patrolled 70 miles along the flooded Mississippi River Delta, saving, evacuating, and providing campsites for more than 30,000 refugees.

From September 30 to October 9, 1962, President John F. Kennedy federalized the entire Mississippi National Guard in connection with the integration of the University of Mississippi.

In October 1962, a large portion of the Mississippi Guard responded to a major chlorine spill at Natchez.

The state and federal missions collided for the first time during Operation Iraqi Freedom and Hurricane Katrina. With more than 3,000 Soldiers and Airmen overseas, the Mississippi National Guard led a noteworthy response in 2005 to the worst natural disaster to hit the United States.

The Mississippi National Guard's 47th Civil Support Team was certified in October 2006. This full-time unit's only mission is to respond to weapons of mass destruction threats within the state. They are fully equipped, fully funded, and serve under the control of the Governor.

Emergency service at home is not an easy mission. It evokes emotional involvement, requires separation from loved ones, and demands the same professionalism and courage required by the federal mission.

The Mississippi National Guard has served in the Creek War, War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, World Wars One and Two, Korea, Operation Desert Storm, Haiti, Bosnia-Kosovo, Somalia, Operation Noble Eagle, Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, and Operation New Dawn.

The Mississippi Dragoons, under Major Thomas Hinds, demonstrated the fighting spirit and resolve of the Mississippi Militia during the War of 1812.

The 1st Mississippi Regiment of Infantry, Mississippi Rifles, turned the tide at the Battle of Buena Vista during the Mexican War. Colonel Jefferson Davis's command "STAND FAST MISSISSIPPIANS" remains the motto of the Mississippi Army National Guard's oldest unit, and the Army's sixth oldest active regiment, the 1st Battalion, 155th Infantry.

The fourth highest loss suffered by a southern regiment in a single battle at the Battle of Shiloh during the Civil War. The 6th Mississippi Infantry lost 300 of 425 men in less than 30 minutes.

In July 1917, the entire Mississippi National Guard was called into service for World War I. Two regiments of infantry, one regiment of field artillery, nine troops of cavalry, and one company of engineers were called. The first African-American registrants were also drafted for training.

Mississippi's oldest Air National Guard unit, the 186th Air Refueling Wing in Meridian, was activated at Key Field on September 27, 1939, as the 153rd Observation Squadron. Less than 13 months later, it was ordered into active service.

The Guard was activated again for war on November 25, 1940, and served honorably on battlefields throughout Europe and the Pacific. The 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division was again called on to serve in the Korean Conflict. Almost 95 percent of the Mississippi National Guard units were mobilized for the Korean Conflict.

In July 1953, the Mississippi Air National Guard's 172nd Airlift Wing was formed at Hawkins Field in Jackson. It is recognized as the first Air National Guard unit in the nation to use night photo reconnaissance, the first ANG unit to have an aeromedical evacuation mission, and the first Mississippi National Guard unit to enlist females.

During Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm, Mississippi was the largest National Guard contributor to the war effort. Over 6,500 Mississippi National Guard members, representing 70 units and 57 communities, served on active duty during the Persian Gulf Crisis, with more than 1,300 deployed to Saudi Arabia.

In support of Operations Noble Eagle, Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan), Iraqi Freedom, and New Dawn, the Mississippi National Guard has mobilized over 10,000 service members, with every deployable unit participating.

From protecting the skies over Washington D.C. with the 1st Battalion, 204th Air Defense Artillery; to patrolling the streets and conducting historic elections with the 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team in Iraq; to hunting the Taliban in Afghanistan with the 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces Group; to conducting theater-level logistics for all of Southwest Asia with the 184th Sustainment Command; and to conducting combat aeromedical evacuation missions with the 172nd Airlift Wing, the Mississippi National Guard continues her faithful service to the citizens of Mississippi and the United States of America.

MISSISSIPPI STATE GUARD

The mission of the Mississippi State Guard is "to establish and maintain an all-volunteer formal military organization as the State's reserve to the Mississippi National Guard (MSNG)." The State Guard is to assist the Mississippi National Guard with in-state missions, as directed by the Governor and the Adjutant General of Mississippi. The State Guard is tasked with assuming the mission of the Mississippi Army National Guard should they be fully mobilized outside the State. The State Guard is similarly tasked with securing armories, providing assistance to Guard families, and assuming other duties until the full mobilization ceases. State Guard personnel may, at the request of the Adjutant General of Mississippi, be trained in the protection of life and property of the citizens of Mississippi due to natural or man-made disasters.

The U.S. Constitution, U.S. Code, Title 32, Section 109, authorized the states to organize a State Defense Force (SDF) as provided by its laws. The Mississippi Code of 1972, Chapter 5, sections 33-5-1 through 33-5-53 authorizes the establishment of the Mississippi State Guard.

ADJUTANT GENERAL OF MISSISSIPPI

Brigadier General Janson D. (Durr) Boyles

Major General Janson D. Boyles was appointed Adjutant General of Mississippi by Governor Phil Bryant on September 1, 2016. He also serves as the Commanding General of both the Mississippi Army and Air National Guard. He is responsible for providing the state of Mississippi and the United States of America with a ready force of more than 12,275 Citizen Soldiers and Airmen, equipped and trained to respond to any contingency, natural or manmade. General Boyles directs the Mississippi Military Department and oversees the development and coordination of all policies, plans, and programs of the Mississippi National Guard in concert with the Governor and Legislature of the state.

General Boyles was commissioned in 1982 through the Reserve Officer Training Corps program at Mississippi State University. Initially commissioned as an Army Medical Department of the United States Army officer, he later re-commissioned in the United States Army Engineer Corps. In 2005, as the Deputy Commander, 168th Engineer Group, General Boyles managed the engineer response to Hurricane Katrina in Mississippi. In 2008, he deployed to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom with the 168th Engineer Brigade as Deputy Commander overseeing Engineer Sustainment operation in Regional Command—East and Regional Command—South for the 101st and 82nd Airborne Divisions. In 2012 he was assigned as Commander, 184th Sustainment Command, overseeing all subordinate unit missions ranging from state disaster relief to federal combat rotations executed under his command. In 2015, he was assigned Chief of Staff, Headquarters Kosovo Forces.

ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL, ARMY

Brigadier Gen. Gregory L. Kennedy

Brigadier General Gregory L. Kennedy was appointed Assistant Adjutant General—Army, on September 1, 2016. As the Assistant Adjutant General, he guides the formulation, development, and implementation of all programs and policies affecting the Mississippi Army National Guard and its nearly 10,000 Citizen Soldiers.

General Kennedy was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, Infantry, on December 17, 1982 through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the University of Mississippi where he was recognized as a Distinguished Military Graduate. He has served in command and staff positions at every level, including Commander, 1st Battalion, 185th Aviation Regiment, Commander, 185th Aviation Brigade, Deputy Chief of Staff, State Aviation Officer, Joint Force Headquarters, Mississippi Army National Guard, Commander, 66th Troop Command, and Commander, 184th Sustainment Command. General Kennedy served on active duty as Brigade S3 Liaison Officer, 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team during combat operations in Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2009.

ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL, AIR

Major General William O. Hill

Major General William O. Hill serves as the Assistant Adjutant General for Air and as Commander, Mississippi Air National Guard. He is responsible to the Adjutant General for directing Air National Guard operations and establishing policy, ensuring the combat readiness and mission capability of two flying Wings, a Combat Readiness Training Center, Air Support Operations Squadron, Air Component Operations Center, Special Operations Civil Engineering Squadron, and an Air Control Squadron.

General Hill was commissioned in 1988, and received his pilot wings in 1989. He has served as Wing Commander, Operations Group Commander, Chief of Safety, Chief of Command Post, Command and Control Officer, and Line Pilot. General Hill is a command pilot with more than 4,900 flying hours in C-141's and C-17s. He assumed his current position May 2015.

COMMAND CHIEF WARRANT OFFICER, ARMY

Bobby W. Tanksley

Chief Warrant Officer 5 Bobby W. Tanksley was appointed as the 6th Command Chief Warrant Officer (CCWO) of the Mississippi Army National Guard on 1 October 2012. He serves as the Adjutant General's personal adviser on all Warrant Officer related matters, particularly in areas affecting professional career management, recruiting, training, assignments, and mentoring. His primary mission is to coordinate with the state military personnel office, the recruiting and retention office, and subordinate commanders to implement a comprehensive Warrant Officer Recruiting Program. In addition, he manages the Warrant Officer mentorship and counselor programs.

CW5 Tanksley began his military career when he enlisted in the Mississippi Army National Guard on March 8, 1985, with Headquarters Company, 106th Support Battalion. He completed basic training in September 1985 at Ft. Jackson, South Carolina, and the Utilities Equipment Repairer (51C) Advanced Individual Training course at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia in December 1985. He completed Warrant Officer Candidate School in 1994, the Warrant Officer Basic Course (915A) in 1995, the Warrant Officer Advanced Course (920B and 920A) in 2001 and 2003 respectively, the Warrant Officer Staff Course in 2007, and the Warrant Officer Senior Staff Course in 2012. CW5 Tanksley has served full-time in the MSARNG in a variety of positions since May of 1986, including; Maintenance Technician, Maintenance Officer, Supply Support Activity Supervisor, Brigade Property Book Officer, and Warrant Officer Strength Manager.

STATE COMMAND SERGEANT MAJOR, ARMY and SENIOR ENLISTED ADVISOR

Sergeant Major John T. Raines

Command Sergeant Major John T. Raines assumed responsibility as the 7th Senior Enlisted Advisor for the Mississippi National Guard (MSNG) on July 10, 2015. Raines also serves as the State Command Sergeant Major for the Mississippi Army National Guard (MSARNG). He advises the Adjutant General of Mississippi and the Assistant Adjutant General, Army on all enlisted-related matters, particularly in areas affecting Soldier training and quality of life.

Raines joined the Army in August 1989, completing basic military training at Ft. Jackson, South Carolina, and then Army Communications Systems (31U) training at Ft .Gordon, Georgia. His active duty career includes assignments with the Ft. Huachuca-based 11th Signal Brigade, including deployment in support of Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm, with the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea, and with the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell.

Raines joined the Alabama Army National Guard in 1998, working in counterdrug interdiction, and was activated after September 11, 2001 to guard and secure the chemical stock piles at Anniston Army Depot. In 2004, he was selected to serve as the First Sergeant for the Mississippi Army National Guard's newly-organized 47th Civil Support Team. In 2007, he was selected as the operations Sergeant Major for the 2nd Battalion, 198th Armored Regiment, deploying in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2009-2010. Raines later served as Commandant, Non-Commissioned Officers Academy, and as CSM for the 154th Regiment (Regional Training Institute) at Camp Shelby.

Prior to assuming responsibility as the MSNG SEA, Raines served as the Joint Operations Senior Enlisted Leader for US Pacific Command, where he was responsible for coaching and mentoring joint US Forces as well as multi-national partners throughout the region.

STATE COMMAND CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT, AIR

Master Sergeant Robert B. Knight

Chief Master Sergeant Robert B. Knight is the twelfth Command Chief Master Sergeant for the Mississippi Air National Guard assigned to the Joint Force Headquarters, Mississippi Air National Guard, Jackson, Mississippi.

Chief Knight is responsible for advising ANG commanders and staff on mission effectiveness, professional development, military readiness, training, reviewing promotion, retention, utilization, health, morale, welfare, and assignment policy affecting over 2,300 plus enlisted personnel; conducting counseling and interviewing sessions through a visitation program to 29 units; and identifying issues and recommending action directly to commanders. He maintains liaison between the enlisted personnel, the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General for Air/Commander, Mississippi Air National Guard.

Chief Knight assumed responsibility as the State Command Chief Master Sergeant for the Mississippi Air National Guard on December 6, 2014.

CAMP MCCAIN TRAINING CENTER, Grenada
Garrison Commander—
Colonel Michael N. Cleveland

Camp McCain was created for the purpose of training Army National Guard and Reserve Organizations. Camp McCain is a state operated training center located approximately ten miles south of Grenada and approximately three miles east of Highway 51.

CAMP SHELBY JOINT FORCES TRAINING CENTER, Camp Shelby
Post Commander—
Colonel Gregory S. Michel

Camp Shelby Joint Forces Training Center is primarily located in portions of Perry and Forrest Counties, with a small portion in Greene County. The training center was established in 1917 in support of mobilization during World War I and has served almost continuously since then as a training site. Camp Shelby's mission statement is "to be the premier integrated war-fighting and force generation installation while serving as the world-class center of excellence for installation management, customer service, and community partnering."

COLUMBUS AIR FORCE BASE, Columbus
Commander—
Colonel Douglas C. Gosney

Columbus Air Force Base (AFB) is home of the 14th Flying Training Wing of Air Education and Training Command's 19th Air Force. Each day the wing flies an average of 260 sorties on its three parallel runways. In addition to the flying training mission, Columbus AFB maintains more than 900 highly trained individuals capable of deploying at a moment's notice to support worldwide tasking and contingencies.

KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE, Biloxi
Commander, 81st Training Wing—
Colonel Michelle C. Edmondson

Keesler Air Force Base is located within the city limits of Biloxi, on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The host unit, the 81st Training Wing, is the electronics training Center of Excellence for the U.S. Air Force. Keesler's training center handles more than 28,000 students annually. In its status as a lead joint training installation, Keesler trains not only Air Force, but Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, and other military and civilian federal agency personnel.

MERIDIAN NAVAL AIR STATION
Captain Scott Bunnay

On July 16, 1957, the first shovel of earth was thrown, marking the beginning of Naval Auxiliary Air Station (NAAS) Meridian, which was commissioned July 14, 1961. NAAS Meridian continued to grow, and by July 1968, the station became a full naval air station (NAS). Over the years, NAS Meridian has become a refuge for both aircraft and people who have been evacuated from the coast because of hurricanes. The main base of NAS Meridian occupies more than 8,000 acres of land, with an additional 4,000 acres at Joe Williams Field and the target facility SEARAY.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION BATTALION CENTER, Gulfport
Captain Cheryl M. Hansen

The mission of Naval Construction Battalion Center (NCBC) Gulfport is to operate and maintain facilities and provide services and material in support of Naval Construction Force Units. The NCBC was created in 1942. It consists of 10,000 active duty members and 12,300 reserve personnel.

The Mississippi State Department of Health's (MSDH) mission is to promote and protect the health of the citizens of Mississippi. The MSDH strives for excellence in government, cultural competence in carrying out its mission, and local solutions to local problems. The Department identifies its values as applied scientific knowledge, teamwork and customer service. Mississippi's State Board of Health was established in 1877 to protect and advance health throughout Mississippi, and became the Mississippi State Department of Health in 1982. The major operations of the agency involve health protection, health promotion, and health planning.

The Department oversees disease surveillance by tracking diseases and creating outbreak management plans, while also coordinating statewide immunizations and vaccinations. MSDH also creates prevention programs and organizes laboratory testing for flu viruses, mosquito-borne diseases, STDs, and communicable diseases.

The Department's environmental protection consists of testing drinking water, regulating on-site wastewater and sewage-systems, and completing restaurant permits and inspections.

The Mississippi State Department of Health assists with disease and injury prevention by making tobacco control and cessation programs available, as well as creating nutritional training and information. The Department focuses on chronic disease prevention and management for arthritis, diabetes, asthma, heart disease, high blood pressure, cancer, and other diseases. They also regulate safety programs for biking, walking, car seats, and fires.

The MSDH helps keep the state safe by preparing the public for disasters and public health emergencies. They hold regular training sessions to ensure preparedness and create response plans. The Mississippi State Department of Health has emergency readiness programs and severe weather and disaster response programs.

The Department oversees the required and recommended childhood immunizations, as well as meningococcal and HPV vaccinations for adolescents. The MSDH also recommends vaccinations for international travel and creates seasonal flu vaccinations for all ages.

The Mississippi State Department of Health is responsible for licensing and regulating child care facilities, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, hospitals, trauma care, and other healthcare facilities. The Department also provides educational information and counseling, physical exams and contraceptive supplies, STD/HIV testing, and pregnancy care. The Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program creates supplemental food packages, nutrition education classes, breastfeeding support, and health care referrals.

Along with issuing birth and marriage certificates, the Department supervises and monitors medical treatments in the state. They also coordinate patients with community resources and give special care for children with chronic or disabling conditions.

In addition to all of this, the Mississippi State Department of Health provides the public and media with information. They give emergency notifications to doctors, hospitals, and the healthcare community, as well as providing community training, summits, and other outreach efforts to the public. The Department makes sure to give real-time updates via their website, Facebook, Twitter, and other digital media sites.

MISSISSIPPI DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL HEALTH

The Mississippi Department of Mental Health (DMH) provides and financially supports a network of services for people with mental illness, intellectual/developmental disabilities, substance abuse problems, and Alzheimer's disease and/or other dementia. Their goal is to improve the lives of Mississippians by supporting a better tomorrow, today.

The mental health service delivery system is comprised of three major components: state-operated programs and community service programs, regional community mental health centers, and other nonprofit/profit service agencies/organizations.

The Mississippi Department of Mental Health continues to work towards a recovery-oriented system of care which focuses on a network of support and services. This includes state-run behavioral health programs, community-based care, peer-run services, involvement from family, and other types of support that incorporate the values and principles associated with recovery. DMH administers and operates six behavioral health programs. The programs provide inpatient services for people (adults and children) with serious mental illnesses and substance abuse.

Regional community mental health centers (CMHCs) operate under the authority of regional commissions appointed by county boards of supervisors comprising their service areas. The 14 regional health centers provide a range of community-based mental health, substance use, and in some regions, intellectual/developmental disabilities services. CMHC governing authorities are considered regional and not state-level entities, and the Department of Mental Health is responsible for certifying, monitoring, and assisting CMHCs. Community mental health centers are the primary service providers for community-based mental health and substance abuse services.

There are five program locations that provide residential services for people with intellectual/developmental disabilities and one center for adolescents with intellectual/developmental disabilities. These programs are a primary vehicle for delivering community services throughout the state.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Mississippi can be divided into five broad geographical regions: the Delta region in northwest Mississippi, the Hills region in north Mississippi, the Pines region in east-central Mississippi, the Capital/River region from Jackson to Vicksburg to Natchez, and the Coastal region in south Mississippi along the Gulf Coast. The State's physiographic divisions include ten distinct landform regions: the Tombigbee Hills, the Black Prairie, the Pontotoc Ridge, the Flatwoods, the North Central Hills, the Loess Hills, the Yazoo Basin, the Jackson Prairie, the Pine Hills, and the Coastal Meadows.

The State has 119 public lakes, 123,000 stream miles, and 255,000 freshwater acres. Additionally, the State has 16 major aquifers supplying over 90 percent of Mississippi's drinking water. Mississippi has six major reservoirs: Pickwick Lake on the Tennessee River, Arkabutla Lake near Coldwater, Sardis Lake near Oxford, Enid Lake in Yalobusha County, Grenada Lake near Grenada, and the Ross Barnett Reservoir to the northeast of Jackson.

More than 19 million acres of forestland cover almost 65 percent of the state, of which almost 80 percent is privately owned. The remainder is public land including a network of state parks, state wildlife management areas, and six national forests—Bienville, DeSoto, Homochitto, Delta, Holly Springs, and Tombigbee. This public land represents 1.2 million acres dedicated to recreation and wilderness protection.

The forestry industry is a national model of sustainable forest management. Mississippi was the first state in the nation to establish a reforestation tax credit to encourage landowners to replant after harvest and was also the first to create a statewide forest inventory using remote-sensing satellite imagery to calculate the size and diversity of forestlands.

The State's namesake, the Mississippi River, runs along the western boundaries of Mississippi. The river and its tributaries continually deposit rich alluvial soil throughout the Mississippi Delta, resulting in agricultural industry that contributes to Mississippi's economy.

Mississippi's white sand beaches along the Gulf Coast draw millions of visitors annually in addition to the state-conserved Coastal tidelands and barrier islands.

There are more than one million acres of public hunting lands in Mississippi including 15 National Wildlife Refuges and 53 state wildlife management areas representing a wide variety of habitats.

The Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks oversees all Mississippi state parks which offer amenities including fishing, camping, hiking, recreational facilities, and fully-furnished cabin rentals. The 25 state parks stretch from the Tennessee border to the Gulf of Mexico. Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks is also responsible for programs that protect Mississippi fish and wildlife resources and their habitats.

The Agency issues hunting and fishing licenses, advises on habitat protection and sponsors public education programs. The Department is also responsible for the enforcement of Mississippi's fish and game laws.

ROSS BARNETT RESERVOIR

The Ross Barnett Reservoir was created in 1965 by impounding the Pearl River between Madison and Rankin Counties and is named after the 52nd governor of Mississippi. It is bounded by the Natchez Trace Parkway and has 105 miles of shoreline. The lake is about 45 miles long and 3.5 miles wide in some places. The average depth is 12 feet and there is approximately 33,000 acres of surface area.

The Pearl River Valley Water Supply District is the state agency that was created to manage the lake and its surrounding area. The district provides a water supply for the city of Jackson. It also maintains the reservoir's dam and monitors water quality in cooperation with the Mississippi Department of Health and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality.

An estimated 2.5 million people visit the 48 recreational facilities annually. Available facilities include: five campgrounds, 16 parks, 22 boat launches, three handicapped-accessible trails, two multi-purpose trails, and mountain bike trails. Each campground has a police manager. The District also developed five marinas, four baseball/soccer complexes, and two golf courses. Almost 20 miles of paved trails for walking, jogging, bicycling, and sightseeing connect the reservoir to surrounding neighborhoods and shopping areas.

NATCHEZ TRACE PARKWAY

The historic Natchez Trace Parkway is a 444 mile long path that connects Natchez to Nashville. The Parkway was created and used for centuries by Native Americans, and was later used by early European and American explorers, traders, and emigrants in the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

The Trace is open year-round to motorists, hikers, and bikers. It gives visitors the chance to take a leisurely trip through time. The Parkway is headquartered in Tupelo and is maintained and administered by the National Park Service.

Visitors can discover scenic areas, numerous hiking trails, picnic sites, campgrounds, and water recreation areas. Almost 30 hiking and self-guiding trails cover 60 miles of the Natchez Trace. Aside from cars, motorcycles, bicycles, and RVs are popular ways visitors travel the Trace.

PUBLIC TRUST LANDS

The Mississippi Secretary of State has the constitutional and statutory authority to protect Mississippi's public trust lands to preserve the State's resources for future generations. These responsibilities include enforcing the 16th Section Public School Trust Lands and Lieu Lands laws, developing and implementing the Public Trust Tidelands Management Programs, overseeing the sale of lands forfeited to the State for non-payment of ad valorem taxes, maintaining an inventory of State agency lands, and providing services to the public and governmental subdivisions relating to sales, acquisitions, leasing, and title of the State's real property assets.

16TH SECTION PUBLIC SCHOOL TRUST LANDS

Mississippi is the only state east of the Mississippi River that substantially retains and utilizes its school trust lands for the benefit of local school districts. The designated lands, including 642,000 surface acres and 674,000 mineral acres, have generated millions of dollars in revenue used to fund public schools for nearly two centuries. Upon statehood in 1817, Mississippi received approximately 640 contiguous acres out of every township. These designated lands were set aside to support the specific public school that fell within each district. All revenues generated by 16th Section Public Trust Land go directly to the local school district. Approximately 102 school districts manage the trust lands within their boundaries.

The Mississippi Secretary of State is the statutorily-mandated supervisory trustee of 16th Section Public Trust Lands. The Secretary of State reviews and signs all leases to guarantee that the school trust receives fair market value and utilizes the land in the best way possible.

In an effort to increase transparency, the Secretary of State's Office now posts all leases online at www.sos.ms.gov. This website also posts notices for bids to be accepted for hunting, agriculture, and mineral leases. In order to assist schools in managing the lands in their districts, the agency provides fillable lease forms, annual report forms, and change forms. Y'all Business, www.yallbusiness.sos.ms.gov, is another helpful tool. The website includes a section relating to leased lands, which indicates the location of parcels of trust lands by county. The parcel information is from local tax assessors' offices and is tied with the State lease number.

The Secretary of State's Office's goal is to provide excellent service to the public and give school districts the tools they need to make the management of trust lands easier and more efficient. Over the past nine years, there has been a steady increase in revenues, more efficient management of lands, and a greater involvement between schools and the public, as well as a partnership with the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

The partnership with the Mississippi Forestry Commission has resulted in the certification of 480,000 acres of 16th Section timber by the American Tree Farm System – all in an effort to produce better harvests and greater revenue over time. Roughly 70 percent of Mississippi's State Trust Lands are managed for timber.

Since the implementation of the lease review process, revenues have increased to exceed over $100 million. Even with market fluctuations that affect mineral, timber, and agriculture, the overall revenues have greatly improved.

In 2016, oil, gas, and other minerals revenues dropped from $15 million to $9 million. Timber revenues totaled $19 million and surface leasing remained relatively steady at $22 million. In 2007, prior to the current administration's review of leases, timber revenues were $11 million and surface leasing was $16 million.

A HISTORY OF 16TH SECTION LANDS

The origin of 16th Section Public School Trust Lands in America can be traced to the British and colonial tradition of reserving land for the support of public schools. After the formation of the Union, Thomas Jefferson incorporated the practice into the Land Ordinance of 1785.

Designed to encourage westward expansion, the Ordinance adopted a six-square-mile township as its basic unit of measure and "… reserved the lot no. 16, of every township, for the maintenance of public schools within said township…" The reservation of land for public schools was further confirmed in the Northwest Ordinance of 1787. Later, in 1798, when Congress established the Mississippi Territory, it provided a government initially based on the Northwest Ordinance model.

With division of the Mississippi Territory in 1817 to form the State of Mississippi and the Territory of Alabama, Congress called for a survey of land in the new state. Again, 16th Section land was reserved in each township.

The Treaties

At the time of statehood, Native Americans inhabited Mississippi. The Choctaw Nation occupied the area south and west of a line extending southeasterly from the Coahoma and Tunica County boundary to a point on the old Natchez Trace in Webster County and then across Clay County in a generally southeasterly direction to a point on the Tombigbee River. The Chickasaw Nation inhabited the area north and east of that line.

In September 1830, the United States and the Choctaws signed the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek. In accordance with the treaty, 16th Sections were reserved from government land sales. The territorial claims of the Chickasaws were resolved with their removal under the Treaty of Pontotoc in 1832. Although these lands were to be sold by the government to private parties "…in the same manner…," they were, in fact, sold with no 16th Section reservations.

Today, 15 counties lie entirely north of the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no reserved 16th Section lands. The counties are Tishomingo, Alcorn, Tippah, Benton, Marshall, DeSoto, Tunica, Tate, Lafayette, Union, Prentiss, Itawamba, Lee, Pontotoc, and Chickasaw. Another seven, Quitman, Panola, Yalobusha, Calhoun, Webster, Clay, and Monroe, are bisected by the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no 16th Section lands in the portions of those counties lying north of the boundary. Although the boundary passes through Tallahatchie County, there are no 16th Sections lying north of the boundary in that county.

Chickasaw Cession Lands

To compensate for this failure, in 1836 Congress granted the State of Mississippi 174,555 acres of unsold public land in Bolivar, Coahoma, Tallahatchie, Quitman, Panola, and Leake counties. In the 1850s, Congress and the State of Mississippi allowed this lieu land to be sold. Mississippi invested the $1,047,330 realized from the sale in 8 percent interest loans to railroad companies in the State. The principal was lost with the destruction of the railroads during the Civil War.

Thereafter, the Mississippi Legislature began making annual appropriations to school districts in the Chickasaw Cession equal to the 8 percent interest on the lost principal. The interest amount was reduced from 8 to 6 percent by the Constitution of 1890. For decades, annual appropriations totaling approximately $62,000 were made to the school districts in the Chickasaw Cession. But, by the 1980s the estimated annual appropriation amounted to only $0.63 per pupil in the Chickasaw Cession school districts, while the estimated average income per pupil from 16th Section land in the Choctaw Cession counties was $75.34.

In 1981, Chickasaw Cession school districts successfully challenged the disparity as a violation of the United States Constitution's Equal Protection Clause. As a result, the Chickasaw Cession school districts now receive a payment per teacher unit based on the average annual expendable 16th Section revenue per teacher unit received by the Choctaw Cession school districts, less the amount of the annual interest appropriation.

Court Rulings

In 1890, the United States Supreme Court declared the early laws reserving land in each township for the support of public education to be a "binding and perpetual obligation." In 1895 the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that 16th Section lands are held by the State in trust for public schools. In 1906, Mississippi Supreme Court Chief Justice A.H. Whitfield opined: "Sixteenth sections are set apart as a sacred trust. No greater trust can be committed to any state than that of the education of the children within its borders …And, if one such trust can be more sacred than another, it is that trust designed to bring home to the doors of the poor children of the commonwealth the means of acquiring a good education."

Despite Congressional, Federal, and State judicial endorsements, management of the 16th Section land, with few exceptions, ranged from indifferent to abusive. Disregarding the Mississippi Constitution's prohibition against donation of public lands, many 99-year leases of 16th Section lands were given for one-time payments. Through generations, leaseholders mistakenly came to view themselves as the actual owners of the 16th Sections.

This perception began to change in the early 1970s when Smith County Superintendent of Education Joe Tally refused to sign inadequately compensated leases. Litigation resulted in a Mississippi Supreme Court decision holding that 16th Section lands must be leased for fair market value. The 1974 Legislature gave local school boards veto power in leasing 16th Section land.

16th Section Land Reform Act

In 1978, 16th Section and Lieu Land Act was passed by the Legislature, with Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Gandy casting the tie-breaking vote in the Senate. It provides that 16th Section school lands and lieu lands are held in trust for the benefit of the public schools; it transfers control of public school trust lands from the Boards of Supervisors to the Boards of Education, under the general supervision of the Secretary of State.

Since the passage of the 1978 16th Section and Lieu Land Act, 16th Section land leases are based on a classification system. The nine classifications include: Forest Land, Agricultural Land, Industrial Land, Commercial Land, Residential Land, Farm Residential Land, Recreational Land, Other Land, and Catfish Farming Land. Classification is determined by a finding of the highest and best use of the land for producing the maximum revenue.

All timber on 16th Section land is under the general supervision and management of the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Leasing and Competitive Bidding

Based on statutory requirements, local Boards of Education offer three classifications of land for competitive bid. Those classifications include: Agriculture, Forestry (hunting and fishing), and Mineral lands. Agriculture leases are awarded to the highest bidder, while forestry leases allow the existing leaseholder the right to renew their lease by matching the highest acceptable bid received. Mineral leases are awarded to the highest bidder with the caveat that the bid includes royalty payments and a bonus. Agriculture leases do not exceed five-year terms unless the land is used for cultivation of rice or for pasture land. In those cases, the term may not exceed ten years. Forest leases for hunting usually have terms that do not exceed five years.

All 16th Section lands, regardless of classification, may be leased for the exploration, development, mining, and production of oil, gas, and minerals including: carbon dioxide and other gaseous substances; metals, compounds of metals, metal-bearing ores; coal, lignite, sulfur, salt, sand, gravel, fill dirt, and clay.

Leasing by Application and Appraisal

Lands not offered by competitive bid are leased based on an appraised value. The appraisal is fee simple and values the land without improvements. At the discretion of the local school board, a rate of return of the appraised value is used to determine the rent. For leases of industrial land and commercial land, the annual rental may not be set at less than five percent of the current market value, exclusive of buildings or improvements not owned by the school district.

The maximum lease term for all land classifications leased upon application is 40 years, and rent adjustment clauses are mandatory, except in leases of residential and farm residential land. Rent adjustment clauses are optional, but recommended, in residential and farm residential leases.

Application to lease properties is submitted to the Superintendent of Education and the Board of Education for approval. Once the property has been appraised and the lease has been drafted, the terms and rent of each lease must be approved.

The holder of a lease granted upon application has a prior right to re-lease or extend an existing lease on terms as may be agreed upon the Board of Education, but subject to the classification of the land. Assignments of leases of 16th Section Lands are allowed only if the lease contract so provides, or at the discretion of the Board of Education, provided that it may not arbitrarily withhold permission for assignment.

REVENUES—EXPENDABLE AND NON-EXPENDABLE FUNDS

Revenues collected from the following sources are deemed expendable funds: lease bonuses and annual delay rentals collected under oil, gas and mineral leases; annual rents collected under leases covering all 16th Section land classifications; interest received upon loans or investments of the principal fund; and proceeds from the sale of timber. Generally, expendable funds may be used for all the same purposes as other available school funds in operating and maintaining the schools of the district.

The principal fund is a permanent fund consisting of revenue received from the following sources: easements and rights-of-way; sales of lieu land; permanent damages to school trust land; sales of nonrenewable resources including, but not limited to, the sale of sand, gravel, dirt, clays, and royalties received from the sale of mineral ores, coal, oil, and gas; sales of buildings on 16th Section lands, and sales of timber. Except for income from timber sales, funds required to be deposited into the principal fund are not expendable. However, if a district desires to spend income from timber sales, it must maintain a separate principal fund account for timber income.

Districts are authorized to borrow principal funds at a rate of interest of not less than four percent per annum for a term of not more than 20 years for the erection, equipment, or repair of school buildings, improvement of timber stands, and to provide funds for any building project approved by the State Board of Education. Additionally, districts may borrow funds, at the same interest rate, for a term not exceeding ten years for the purchase of school buses. It is the duty of the Board of Education to keep the principal fund invested.

BUILDING ON REFORM

The passage of the 1978 16th Section and Lieu Land Act made tremendous strides in instituting sound management practices of our School Trust Lands. Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann strives to build upon the 16th Section Reform Act and the work of prior Secretaries of State by reforming timber practices in our State and allowing for more open transparency in the way Mississippi regulates 16th Section land.

In the first 90 days of his first term, Secretary Hosemann fulfilled a campaign promise to publish all 16th Section land leases on the Secretary of State's website. The posting of these leases allowed for a comparative analysis for school boards to determine fair rental value of 16th Section lands. School boards are now able to establish what amount a comparable lease is receiving in surrounding areas. This allows school boards to better determine how to get the most money for our State lands. The Secretary of State also personally reviews each 16th Section lease that is entered into to be sure we maximize the monetary return to our schools.

Secretary Hosemann entered into a historic Memorandum of Understanding with the Mississippi Forestry Commission to better manage the timber on our 16th Section lands. Through the latest geospatial technologies made available through federal grant dollars, school boards are now armed with the most up-to-date tools to make knowledgeable decisions in regards to timber leases, revenues, and management. Because of this increased citizen knowledge, scrutiny and public information, our state has seen an increase in the rate of return of our timber lands, all of which is paid directly to the local school board for use in educating school children. In addition, Secretary Hosemann is also exploring other ways to grow 16th Section land revenues by exploring alternative land uses.

TIDELANDS

It is the policy of the State of Mississippi to favor the preservation of the natural state of the public trust tidelands and their ecosystems and to prevent the despoliation and destruction of them, except where a specific alteration would serve a higher public interest in compliance with the public purposes of the trust. Public Trust Tidelands are managed with a view towards preservation. Revenues are deposited into the Tidelands Fund, allocated by the State Legislature, and disbursed to the Department of Marine Resources for programs and projects relating to conservation, reclamation, preservation, acquisition, education, and enhancement of public access to the tidelands.

Mississippi's Public Tidelands Trust includes all lands beneath waters that are naturally subject to tidal influence. In general, the inland boundary of the trust is the line of mean high tide of the Gulf of Mexico and the bays, rivers and bayous that flow into it. The outer boundary is the state's seaward boundary, three miles south of the barrier islands. The mean high tide is an arithmetic average of ordinary high tides over a 19-year tidal epoch. As such, the boundary line between public trust tidelands and privately owned lands is not a fixed, stationary line. It ambulates with changes in the mean high tide over the years. Accretion and reliction may increase the upland private estate; while erosion, subsidence and rising sea levels may move the boundary inland and increase the area held as public tidelands and submerged lands. Artificial changes to a shoreline, such as filling or excavation, do not change the public trust tidelands boundary.

History

The Public Trust Doctrine, the legal authority through which these lands are administered, is of ancient origin. The concept of common ownership of the sea and the seashore is based on the second century work of the Roman jurist Gaius. The doctrine was later codified by Justinian, the emperor who ruled the Roman Empire from Constantinople in the Sixth Century: "… Let us proceed to the law of Things. Of these, some admit of private ownership, while others… are by natural law common to all…. The following things are by natural law common to all—the air, running water, the sea, and consequently the seashore."

Roman civil law shaped not only the civil law of Continental Europe, but also the common law of England, where the tidelands were protected by the King for all his subjects, and subsequently the law of the United States.

The Public Trust Doctrine in Mississippi

The original colonies withheld their tidelands from the United States when they adopted the Constitution and entered the union. Subsequently admitted states entered the union on an equal footing with the original thirteen, with the United States creating similar trusts for each new state.

Mississippi's Public Tidelands Trust was funded at the time of statehood in 1817. In 1857, the Mississippi Supreme Court recognized in Martin v. O'Brien, 34 Miss. 21, that "the shores of the sea below high water mark belong to the state as trustee for the public…" and there followed a long and unbroken line of cases recognizing the state's ownership of lands overflowed by the tide. The issue attracted new interest in the mid-1980s when a dispute arose between the State and private owners over the right to lease oil, gas and mineral interests. In the 1986 Mississippi Supreme Court decision in Cinque Bambini Partnership v. State, 491 So.2d 508, Justice James Robertson, writing for a unanimous court, declared that "title to all lands naturally subject to tidal influence, inland to today's mean high water mark, is held by the State of Mississippi in trust…." Justice Robertson noted in the Cinque Bambini ruling that "The public purposes to which these lands and waters placed in the public trust may be devoted are not static." They include navigation and transportation; commerce; fishing; bathing, swimming and other recreational activities; development of mineral resources; environmental protection and preservation; the enhancement of aquatic, avarian and marine life, sea agriculture "and no doubt others."

In February 1988, the United States Supreme Court affirmed the Cinque Bambini decision in Phillips Petroleum Company v. Mississippi, 484 U.S. 108, 108 S.Ct. 791, 98 L.Ed. 277.

Following the state and federal Supreme Court decisions, the Mississippi Legislature in 1989 adopted the Public Trust Tidelands Act, which is codified primarily in Chapter 15 of Title 29 of the Mississippi Code. The Legislature, mindful of the many and sometimes conflicting public purposes of the trust, declared it "to be the public policy of this state to favor the preservation of the natural state of the public trust tidelands and their ecosystems and to prevent the despoliation and destruction of them, except where a specific alteration of specific public trust tidelands would serve a higher public interest in compliance with the public purposes of the public trust in which such tidelands are held." Miss. Code Ann. § 29-15-3(1). And while the law provides that tidelands and submerged lands are held by the state in trust for use of all the people, it also recognizes the state's responsibilities as trustee extend to littoral and riparian property owners as well as to other members of the public. Miss. Code Ann. § 29-15-5.

The constitutionality of the 1989 Public Trust Tidelands Act was upheld by the Mississippi Supreme Court in Secretary of State v. Wiesenberg, 633 So.2d 983 (Miss. 1994).

Tidelands Maps

In the preamble to the Public Trust Tidelands Act, the Legislature found that certainty and stability of the land titles of riparian and littoral property owners along the shores of tidally affected waters of the state are essential to the economic welfare of the state and to the peace, tranquility and financial security of the citizens of the state of Mississippi. A crucial part of this act directed the Secretary of State to publish maps depicting the boundary of the public trust tidelands. Miss. Code Ann. § 29-15-7. Pursuant to this directive, final maps were adopted and certified December 5, 1994. These maps provide the basis for determining the boundary between private upland and Public Trust Tidelands by showing areas where the shoreline is natural and where the shoreline has been artificially altered by excavation and filling. Official copies of these maps are available in the offices of the Secretary of State offices in Jackson and Gulfport, as well as in the offices of the Chancery Clerks of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties.

Tidelands Leasing

Under Miss. Code Ann. § 29-1-107, the Secretary of State is authorized to "rent or lease surface lands, tidelands, or submerged lands owned or controlled by the State of Mississippi lying in or adjacent to the Mississippi Sound or Gulf of Mexico or streams emptying therein…" The Secretary of State may decide a particular proposed alteration of public trust tidelands does not serve a higher public interest in compliance with the purposes of the trust and decline to lease tidelands to a lease applicant. The discretionary nature of the tidelands leasing authority was upheld by the Mississippi Supreme Court in Columbia Land Development LLC v. Secretary of State Eric Clark, 868 So.2d 1006 (Miss. 2004).

Pursuant to this statutory and judicial authority, the Secretary of State publishes rules, regulations, and procedures for the administration, control, and leasing of Public Trust Tidelands and Submerged Lands. Because the Mississippi Constitution in Section 95 prohibits the donation of lands belonging to the state to individuals or private corporations, these rules generally require that when an activity on public trust tidelands requires a lease, the lease rental must be fair market value. In 2012, the Legislature exempted littoral and riparian owners' residential piers from the leasing requirements.

In all cases where a lease is required, the Secretary of State establishes the initial rent. In most cases the initial rent is based on an appraisal prepared by a qualified appraiser selected by the Secretary of State. The prospective lessee is free to provide the state's appraiser with any information he believes is relevant. The law requires rent review and adjustment at each fifth anniversary of the lease. The rent adjustment is tied either to the All Urban Consumer Price Index – All Items (CPI) or to an appraisal that deducts the value of the lessee's improvements. Casino leases are generally adjusted annually by the CPI index.

The Secretary of State's administrative rules take into account the special status of riparian and littoral owners. In the riparian or littoral area, the rules provide that only the riparian or littoral owner or someone who stands in his shoes can lease the adjoining tidelands for private use. Nevertheless, the state may impose additional public uses in a littoral or riparian area provided such uses serve a higher public purpose approved by the legislature.

The Public Trust Tidelands Fund

The rents which the State collects from tidelands leases are deposited in a special fund called the Public Trust Tidelands Fund. Each year, after covering administrative costs and lost ad valorem taxes, if any, the Secretary of State disburses the funds to the Department of Marine Resources.

The Legislature has directed this money be used for "new and extra programs of tidelands management, such as conservation, reclamation, preservation, acquisition, education or the enhancement of public access to the public trust tidelands or public improvement projects as they relate to such lands." Miss. Code Ann. § 29-15-9.

Between 1990 and 2016, the Secretary of State has turned back more than $139 million from tidelands leases and assessments to the Department of Marine resources for disbursement by the Mississippi Legislature. This money is spent in the three coastal counties to build public piers and boat launches; improve and build municipal and county marinas and harbors; establish and monitor fishing reefs in the Mississippi Sound; acquire environmentally important habitat for Mississippi's Coastal Preserve System; and conduct important scientific research on subjects like fisheries stocks, red tide and submerged sea grasses, and other subjects essential to the protection and preservation of the public trust tidelands and their ecosystems.

In 2013, Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann, working with the Department of Marine Resources, negotiated the purchase of the Baldwin Family property. Located in Hancock County at the mouth of the Pearl River, the Baldwin property consists of approximately 2,500 acres of marsh interspersed with bayous around a small island that was once the site of the Baldwin home. Though pursued by the State for many years, Secretary Hosemann, using multiple funding sources, completed the acquisition of this important marshland to protect it for the benefit of current and future generations.

In 2016, Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann accepted, on behalf of the citizens of the State of Mississippi, the substantial majority of the East Beach of Cat Island. No state funds were expended in the acquisition. The acquisition was made as part of the Mississippi Coastal Improvements Program administered by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and added 492 acres of beaches and uplands to the 217 acres acquired by Secretary Hosemann for the State in 2013. This beach will be renourished and expanded back to its 1998 footprint as part of the Coastal Improvements Program, adding another 40 acres to the State's ownership. These lands will be protected and preserved for generations to come.

One of several islands which form the southern boundary of the State of Mississippi, Cat Island lies roughly eight to ten miles south of the mainland coast and is the only Mississippi barrier island with significant acreage remaining in private ownership. The acquisition of such a pristine ecological portion of land is a significant step in the preservation of Cat Island for public use.

ELECTIONS

Every year is an election year in Mississippi. Elections for all state offices and most county-level offices are held in years preceding presidential elections which are held every four years. Most municipal elections are conducted in years immediately following presidential elections. The Secretary of State's Office trains and assists local election officials in the conduct of elections. The Secretary of State is statutorily authorized to certify certain election returns and to report to the Mississippi Legislature the electoral vote totals for statewide offices.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Registration Qualifications: Every United States citizen has the right to vote in Mississippi elections as long as he or she is:

- A resident of Mississippi and the county, city, or town for 30 days
- 18 years of age or older
- Not adjudicated mentally incompetent by a Court
- Not convicted in a Mississippi court of arson, armed robbery, bigamy, bribery, carjacking, embezzlement, extortion, felony bad check, felony shoplifting, forgery, larceny, larceny under lease or rental agreement, murder, obtaining money or goods under false pretense, perjury, rape, receiving stolen property, robbery, statutory rape, theft, timber larceny, unlawful taking of motor vehicle, or vote fraud unless having been pardoned or had rights of citizenship restored by Governor, or had suffrage restored by the Legislature

Registering to Vote: Register to vote in person with either the County Circuit Clerk, the Municipal Clerk, or at a duly authorized alternate locations, such as the Department of Public Safety or the Mississippi Division of Medicaid. Registrars must accept registration at any time during regular office hours. The registration application is kept as a permanent record. Registration must be accomplished at least 30 days prior to the election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Mail-in voter registration forms are available at the Secretary of State's Office, in public libraries, driver's license examining stations, Circuit Clerks' Offices, Municipal Clerks' Offices, public schools, and online at the Secretary of State's website, www.sos.ms.gov. Additionally, voters may register at certain state and federal agencies. The application must be postmarked or delivered to the registrar 30 days prior to the election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Polling places and precincts are assigned to registered voters by the voter registrar. Voters who move from one precinct to another within the county or city must submit a written change of address to the voter registrar. Voters who move from county to county within the state must re-register in the new county of residence.

Y'all Vote (yallvote.sos.ms.gov), a site launched by the Secretary of State's Office, allows citizens to change their voter registration information by submitting an online application. The online voter registration center is also aimed at preparing voters to cast a ballot on Election Day. Anyone who wishes to update name and address registration information online must already be a registered voter of Mississippi. Voters must also have a current and valid Mississippi driver's license or photo identification card issued by the Mississippi Department of Public Safety

Voting Absentee: Registered voters who meet one of the following criteria may apply for and vote by absentee ballot:

- Temporarily residing outside the territorial limits of the United States and District of Columbia

- Outside the county of residence on Election Day
- 65 years of age or older
- Temporarily or permanently physically disabled
- Student, teacher, or administrator, or a spouse and/or dependent whose studies or employment requires absence from the home county on Election Day
- Must be at place of work during the times the polls are open
- Member of the armed forces, a spouse, and/or dependent of military personnel
- Member of Merchant Marines or Red Cross, a spouse, and/or dependent of a member
- Hospitalized, disabled war veteran, a spouse, and/or dependent of a hospitalized veteran
- Civilian attached to and serving outside the U.S. with any branch of the armed forces, Merchant Marines, or Red Cross or a spouse and/or dependent
- Trained or certified emergency first responder deployed on Election Day or during any state of emergency declared by the President of the United States or any Governor of any State
- Citizen enrolled as a student at the United States Naval Academy, United States Coast Guard Academy, United States Merchant Marine Academy, United States Air Force Academy, or United States Military Academy
- Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily or permanently disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on Election Day
- Member of Mississippi's Congressional delegation, a spouse and/or dependent of a member

Applications for absentee ballots are accepted during regular office hours at the voter registrar's office beginning 60 days before an election. Applications also are accepted at the voter registrar's office from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. on the two Saturdays immediately preceding an election. Absentee voting begins 45 days before an election.

Only registered voters who meet any one or more of the following criteria may apply for and cast absentee ballots by mail:

- 65 years of age or older
- Temporarily residing outside the county of residence
- Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily or permanently disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence, or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on Election Day
- Permanently or temporarily physically disabled

Mail-in absentee ballot applications must be notarized and officially sworn to by any one of the following:

- Notary public
- Any officer having authority to administer an oath or make an acknowledgment

Applications of persons who are temporarily or permanently physically disabled are not required to be notarized. It is sufficient for the application to be witnessed by a person 18 years of age or older.

Permanently physically disabled voters may receive absentee ballots on a continuing basis by submitting an absentee ballot application along with a statement signed and sworn to by a licensed physician or nurse practitioner to the voter registrar.

Members of the military outside their county of voting residence and Mississippi citizens residing overseas may mail, fax, or e-mail a Federal Post Card Application

(FPCA) to the voter registrar in the county of their voting residence. The FPCA may be obtained from their military command or employer or downloaded from the Secretary of State's website. The FPCA may be used to register to vote, request an absentee ballot, or both. In addition, Mississippi law allows military and overseas voters to receive by mail, fax, or e-mail from the voter registrar an absentee ballot and to return the voted absentee ballot also by mail, fax, or email to the voter registrar until 7:00 p.m. on the day of the election. If time constraints dictate, a military or overseas voter may use a federal write-in absentee ballot for voting, also available on the Secretary of State's website.

Absentee ballots voted in the office of the voter registrar must be cast by noon on the Saturday immediately preceding a Tuesday election.

Mailed, completed absentee ballots must be received by the voter registrar before 5:00 p.m. on the day before Election Day, except for military and overseas ballots which may be received by the voter registrar until 7:00 p.m. on Election Day.

Absentee ballot fraud is vote fraud and is a crime in Mississippi. A person convicted of vote fraud is subject to a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, or by imprisonment in the county jail for no more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment, or by being sentenced to the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years. The law describing the crime and penalties is found in Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-753 (1972).

VOTER IDENTIFICATION

All voters casting a ballot in person at the polls or casting an absentee ballot in the Circuit or Municipal Clerk's Office must present one of the following forms of acceptable photo ID:

- A driver's license
- A government issued photo ID card
- A United States passport
- A government employee identification card
- A firearms license
- A student photo ID issued by an accredited Mississippi university, college, or community/junior college
- A United States military ID
- A tribal photo ID
- Any other photo ID issued by any branch, department, agency, or entity of the United States government or any State government
- A Mississippi Voter Identification Card

If a voter does not have any of the acceptable forms of photo identification, a Mississippi Voter Photo Identification Card is available at no cost to the individual. Mississippi Voter Identification Cards may be issued by any of the 92 Circuit Clerks' Offices located throughout all of Mississippi's 82 counties. If an individual needs travel assistance to obtain a Mississippi Voter ID Card, it may be provided at no cost to the individual by contacting the MS Secretary of State's Office.

The Voter Identification requirement does not apply to any eligible voter casting an absentee ballot by mail, fax, or e-mail, a voter having a religious objection to being photographed, and a voter living and voting in a licensed nursing home or assisted living center.

A voter who does not present an acceptable form of photo ID or is unable to present an acceptable form of photo ID because of a religious objection is entitled to cast an affidavit ballot. The affidavit voter's ballot shall be counted if the voter completes an Affidavit of Religious Objection in the Circuit Clerk's Office within five (5) business days after Election Day.

A voter who cannot or does not present an acceptable form of photo ID for any reason is also entitled to cast an affidavit ballot. The affidavit voter's ballot shall be counted if the voter presents an acceptable form of photo ID in, or obtains the Mississippi Voter Identification Card from the Circuit Clerk's Office within five (5) business days after Election Day.

The Voter Identification initiative, placed on the 2011 General Election ballot for statewide approval, was the result of a citizen driven initiative petition signed by 131,678 Mississippians. According to Mississippi law, petitioners were required to gather a minimum of 89,285 certified signatures with at least 17,857 certified signatures from each of the five Congressional Districts as they existed in 2000 for the initiative to be placed on the ballot. More than 62% of Mississippi voters approved the proposed Constitutional Amendment to require electors appearing in person to vote to present an approved form of photo identification before being allowed to cast a ballot.

THE ELECTION PROCESS

The two major political parties in Mississippi are the Democratic Party of Mississippi and the Mississippi Republican Party. Other registered political parties include the Libertarian Party of Mississippi, Constitution Party of Mississippi, Green Party of Mississippi, and the America First Party of Mississippi. Candidates who do not align themselves with any political party are known as Independents.

Generally, political parties choose members to serve on county executive committees during county caucuses held the year after gubernatorial races. Party state executive committees are elected at congressional district caucuses and state party conventions. Municipal party executive committees are elected in the municipal party primaries, usually held the year following presidential elections.

Qualifying for Office: All candidates must meet the legal requirements to hold the office sought. Most qualifying deadlines are the same for both independent candidates and party candidates.

Party candidates pay qualifying fees and file qualifying papers with the municipal clerk or county circuit clerk or, in the case of state, state district, and legislative offices, with the Secretary of State's Office.

Independent candidates also pay qualifying fees and file petitions signed by a specified number of registered voters in the county, district, or ward from which election is sought with the municipal or county circuit clerk. The signatures on all petitions must be certified by the respective circuit clerk prior to filing with the appropriate office. Independent candidates for state, state district, and legislative offices file qualifying papers with, and pay the qualifying fee to the Secretary of State's Office.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR CANDIDACY

All candidates must:

- Be a qualified elector of the State of Mississippi and of the district, county, or county district of the office for which election is sought.
- Never have been convicted of bribery, perjury, or other infamous crime, being a crime punishable by a minimum of one (1) year confinement in the state penitentiary, i.e., all felonies, unless pardoned for the offense. Miss. Const. of 1890, Article IV, § 44.
- Never have been convicted of a felony in a court of this state, or, on or after December 8, 1992, of a felony in a federal court, or of an offense in the court of another state which is a felony under the laws of this state, as provided in Section 44 of the Mississippi Constitution; excluding, however, convictions of manslaughter and violations of the United States Internal Revenue Code or any violations of the tax laws of this state, unless the offense also involved the misuse or abuse of an office or money coming into a candidate's hands by virtue of an office.

Party candidates must file the required fee and a qualifying statement of intent (available from the Circuit Clerk or the Secretary of State's Office) to the proper office by the appropriate qualifying deadline. The completed and certified petitions of independent candidates, together with required fee, also must be submitted to the proper office by the appropriate qualifying deadline. Petitions filed by independent candidates must first be submitted a reasonable time in advance to the appropriate Circuit Clerk's Office so signatures may be certified as those of registered voters of the county or district. More information can be obtained from the Secretary of State's Office or the Circuit Clerk's Office.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Party candidates are nominated during party primary elections. Voters cast ballots in the party primary election of their choice. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, a run-off, or second primary election, is held between the two candidates with the most votes.

Run-offs are held either two or three weeks after the primary depending on the office.

Voters who cast a ballot in the first primary election of one party may not "crossover" and vote in the run-off election of another party. Persons who do not vote in a first primary election of either party may vote in any party's run-off election.

County or municipal party executive committees conduct party primary elections and certify party primary election returns. These certified returns are filed with the Circuit or Municipal Clerk's Office, respectively. Results of state, legislative, or state district primary elections are sent to the state party executive committee for certification. Certified results of state, legislative, and state district party primary elections are filed with the Secretary of State's Office.

NON-PARTISAN ELECTIONS

The elections for Supreme Court Justices, Court of Appeals Judges, Chancery Court Judges, Circuit Court Judges, and County and Family Court Judges are conducted as non-partisan races. Thus, candidates for these offices do not seek nomination in any party primary election and seek election solely as independent candidates. Judicial candidates submit qualifying fees and papers to the proper office by the appropriate qualifying deadline.

GENERAL ELECTIONS

Party nominees, qualified independent candidates, candidates for non-partisan offices, and certain ballot measures like bond issues and constitutional amendments usually appear on general election ballots.

The Secretary of State issues the official "sample ballot" for state, legislative, and state district offices. Local election commissions issue the official "sample ballot" for county and municipal offices.

Usually, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes is elected in the general election. However, run-off elections are held usually three (3) weeks after the general election required for non-partisan judicial offices, certain school board elections, and special elections.

General elections are conducted by county election commissions or municipal election commissions. Voter registrars and the Secretary of State's Office assist in the conduct of elections. Local election commissions file certified election returns with the Secretary of State's Office.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE VOTES

Section 140 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 states, in order to be elected Governor or to any of the other seven statewide elected offices, a candidate must receive a majority of the popular vote in the general election and a majority of the electoral vote.

The electoral vote totals are determined by state House of Representatives districts. The candidate who receives the most votes in an individual district is awarded the electoral vote for that district. With 122 House Districts in the State, a majority of electoral votes is 62.

The electoral vote for the 2015 General Election is presented below:

STATE OFFICE ELECTORAL VOTE TOTALS

Governor

Phil Bryant	85
Robert Gray	37

Tim Johnson	40
Tate Reeves	82
Rosa B. Williams	0

Secretary of State

Charles E. Graham	40
Delbert Hosemann	82
Randy Walker	0

Viola V. McFarland	2

Addie Lee Green	40
Cathy L. Toole	0

Mike Chaney	122

If a candidate does not receive both a majority of the popular vote and a majority of the electoral vote, Section 141 of the Mississippi Constitution provides members of the House of Representatives shall choose the Governor from the two persons who received the highest number of popular vote.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE DISCLOSURE AND ORGANIZATION

Candidates for public office in Mississippi must follow state law regarding disclosure of their political contributions and expenditures. Political committees, groups that raise and donate money on behalf of candidates or balloted measures, also must follow the State's disclosure laws.

Any candidate who spends or receives more than $200.00 in the aggregate must file all required campaign finance reports, even if qualifying papers have not yet been filed. Likewise, any group or political committee which spends or receives more than $200.00 in the aggregate must file all required campaign finance reports and, in addition, must also register their political committee within ten days of receiving or spending more than $200.00.

Candidates for state, state district, and legislative office file campaign finance disclosure reports with the Secretary of State's Office. County and county/district candidates file campaign finance disclosure reports with the appropriate Circuit Clerk's Office, and candidates for municipal office file campaign finance disclosure reports with the appropriate Municipal Clerk's Office.

All judicial candidates, except justice court judges, are required to establish candidate political committees to accept campaign contributions and make expenditures in furtherance of their campaigns. Candidate committees for judges are prohibited from soliciting donations earlier than 60 days before the candidate qualifying deadline and later than 120 days after the last applicable Election Day, according to Canon 5 Code of Judicial Conduct.

Candidates for federal office should contact the Federal Election Commission for campaign finance disclosure requirements.

Campaign Finance Report Requirements:

Five types of campaign finance reports are required of all candidates, candidate's committees, and political committees. These reports are filed at different times.

1. Pre-election reports—Aggregate from January 1 through the tenth day before each election. Due date: the 7th day before any election. Candidates, candidates' political committees file before any election in which the candidates' names are on the ballot, and political committees file before any election in which the candidate or measure supported or opposed by the committee is on the ballot.

2. Periodic reports—Aggregate from January 1 through the due date. Periodic reports are due in gubernatorial and judicial election years. Due dates: May 10, June 10, July 10, October 10, and January 10.

3. Annual reports—Aggregate for the period from January 1 through December 31. Due date: January 31 except following gubernatorial election years, during which periodic reports are filed and judicial candidates in years they file periodic reports.

4. 48 Hour reports—Applies only to candidates. Reportable contributions received after the tenth day, but more than 48 hours before 12:01 a.m. on the Election Day, must be reported to the appropriate office within 48 hours of receipt.

5. Termination reports—May only be filed when contributions are no longer accepted, expenditures are no longer made, no outstanding debts or financial obligations are associated with the candidate or committee and the cash on hand balance is zero. A termination report contains all reportable activity since the last filed report. Unless and until a termination report is filed, every candidate and committee must file every required report.

Political initiative committees supporting or opposing any proposed constitutional initiative must file monthly initiative committee reports with the Secretary of State's Office.

Report Contents:

All reports must include:

1. Aggregated year-to-date totals—Total year-to-date amount of contributions received and expenditures made must be reported by all candidates and committees.

2. Cash on hand—All cash on hand must be reported and carried from year-to-year.

3. Contributions—An itemized listing must be reported of each contributor who has contributed in the aggregate over $200 year-to-date, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of each contribution, amount of each contribution, and year-to-date aggregate contribution.

4. Expenditures—An itemized listing must be reported of each person or entity which has received in the aggregate over $200.00, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of expenditure, amount of expenditure, and year-to-date aggregate expenditures.

Campaign finance disclosure forms may be obtained from the local voter registrar's office, the Secretary of State's Office, or downloaded from the Secretary of State's website at www.sos.ms.gov. Beginning in 2016, campaign finance disclosure forms may be found and filed electronically by all candidates and political committees obligated to file with the Secretary of State's Office.

Statement of Economic Interest:

Candidates for public office must file a "Statement of Economic Interest" with the Mississippi Ethics Commission. The form may be obtained from the Mississippi Ethics Commission.

Technical Assistance:

Candidates, candidate's committees, and political committees are advised to review the appropriate statutes and state laws regarding the regulation and disclosure of campaign finances and other obligations and responsibilities. Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-801 et seq. (1972).

The information printed in this edition of the Official and Statistical Register regarding voter registration, voting, absentee voting, candidate qualifications, dates of elections, qualifying deadlines, and campaign finance disclosure is subject to change due to legislation or action by the Courts. Always refer to the current language in effect for the appropriate statutes and contact your Circuit Clerk's Office or the Secretary of State's Office before relying on the information in this book.

MISSISSIPPI FIRSTS

- In 1963, the University of Mississippi Medical Center accomplished the world's first human lung transplant and, on January 23, 1964, Dr. James D. Hardy performed the world's first heart transplant surgery.

- Borden's Condensed Milk was first canned in Liberty.

- The first bottle of Dr. Tichener's Antiseptic was produced in Liberty.

- H.T. Merrill from Iuka performed the world's first round trip trans-oceanic flight in 1928.

- In 1884 the concept of selling shoes in boxes in pairs (right foot and left foot) occurred in Vicksburg at Phil Gilbert's Shoe Parlor on Washington Street.

- The first female rural mail carrier in the United States was Mrs. Mamie Thomas. She delivered mail by buggy to the area southeast of Vicksburg in 1914.

- Historic Jefferson College, circa 1802, was the first preparatory school established in the Mississippi Territory. Located in Washington the educational institution is also the site where tradition holds Aaron Burr was arraigned for treason in 1807, beneath what became known as Burr Oaks.

- William Grant, of Woodville, was the first African American to conduct a major American symphony orchestra.

- Burnita Shelton Mathews of Hazelhurst was the first woman federal judge in the United States and served in Washington, D.C.

- Dr. Emmette F. Izard of Hazelhurst developed the first fibers of rayon. They became known as the first real synthetics.

- The first nuclear submarine built in the south was produced in Mississippi.

- Mississippi was the first state in the nation to have a planned system of junior colleges.

- Leontyne Price was the first African American to become a leading prima donna at the Metropolitan Opera in New York City.

- The first football player on a Wheaties box was Walter Payton of Columbia.

- Natchez was settled by the French in 1716 and was the first permanent settlement on the Mississippi River. Natchez once had 500 millionaires, more than any other city except New York City.

- Pine Sol was invented in 1929 by Jackson native Harry A. Cole, Sr.

- Root beer was invented in Biloxi in 1898 by Edward Adolf Barq, Sr.

MISSISSIPPI STATE CAPITOL

400 High Street, Jackson 39201
(601) 359-3114

The Mississippi State Capitol is located between Mississippi and High Street in downtown Jackson. The current structure is the third building to serve as the Capitol. The first building no longer stands and was completed in 1822. The second building was completed in 1839 and served as the Capitol until 1903. Today it is known as the Old Capitol Museum. The current Capitol building, which sits on the site of the old state penitentiary, was finished in 1903. Theodore Link from St. Louis, Missouri was the architect who designed the building. Construction costs totaled more than $1 million and were paid for by back taxes from the Illinois Central Railroad lawsuit settlement.

From 1979 to 1983, the Capitol underwent a complete restoration. It cost $19 million and renovators tried to preserve and maintain as much of the original building and design as possible.

The building was created to hold all branches of Mississippi state government, but only the Legislature and the executive branches currently operate in the capitol. The judicial branch is housed in the Carroll Gartin Justice Building located on High Street.

The Capitol is 402 feet wide and the dome is 180 feet high. The walls of the rotunda are Italian white marble and the base is New York jet-black marble. Balustrades are made of cast iron and original to the building. Eight large columns are made of art marble known as scagliola.

The inner rotunda dome contains 750 lights that illuminate the blind-folded lady and four important people in Mississippi history. The lady represents “Blind Justice” and the four figures consist of two Native Americans, a European explorer, and a Confederate soldier. The gold leaf coated copper eagle that sits atop the dome is eight feet high and 15 feet wide.

The Hall of Governors occupies the first floor. Portraits of all the State’s governors adorn the hallways. The photos date back to as far as 1798, when the Mississippi Territory was created. The Secretary of State also has an office on the first floor near the main, southern-facing entrance. The second floor holds the State Library and the Supreme Court chambers, which are both now used as committee meeting rooms. The third floor consists of the Legislature, as well as offices for the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Speaker of the House. Public viewing for both chambers is located on the fourth floor.

The Senate chamber is made of art marble and the base is Belgium black marble. The columns are Breccia violet with Corinthian caps. The dome is stained Bohemian glass and is protected by another dome on top. The saying printed in the center of the dome reads, “The people’s government was made for the people by the people and answerable to the people.” Theresa Whitecloud, a full-blooded Choctaw Indian princess, covers six of the wooden panels. The desks for the 52 senators were replaced in the 1940s.

The House of Representatives chamber dome is the original Bohemian stained glass and has another dome on top for protection. The walls of the chamber are art marble and the base is Belgium black marble. The Mississippi Coat of Arms sits atop each arch. The desks for the 122 representatives are the originals from 1903.

One of the 53 replicas of the Liberty Bell can be found on the grounds of the Capitol. Also on the Capitol grounds, a statue stands in memory of the ladies, mothers, wives, and daughters of the Confederate soldiers. The trees around the Capitol consist of the magnolia state tree and two Japanese magnolias. The battleship figurehead is from the second USS Mississippi and was presented to the state by the United States Navy in December 1909.

The Mississippi State Capitol is not only listed in the National Register of Historic Places, but is also designated a Mississippi landmark

GOVERNOR’S MANSION

300 East Capitol Street, Jackson 39201
(601) 359-6421

The Mississippi Governor’s Mansion is the second oldest continually occupied governor’s residence in the United States. In 1842, the first residents moved in. The mansion was chosen as a National Historic Landmark in 1975. It made history at the time as one of only two governor’s residences to receive this honor.

The state Legislature budgeted funds to build the Capitol and a "suitable house for the Governor" in January 1833. The Capitol was completed in 1839, but construction of the Governor's Mansion did not begin until 1839. These delays resulted from the depression caused by the Panic of 1837. Governor Tilghman Tucker and his family were the first to move into the building in January 1842. Final construction costs for the building totally approximately $50,000.

The Old Capitol and the Governor's Mansion were both designed by William Nichols. A native of England, Nichols designed the mansion to have a Greek revival style. Many historians consider the Governor's Mansion to be one of the best examples of Greek revival style in the United States.

The mansion started to deteriorate at the end of the nineteenth century, and people wanted it to be demolished by 1900. Governor Edmund Noel moved his family into the Edwards House in 1908. He and his family initially refused to live in the mansion in its current state. Governor Noel and his family then decided to briefly move into the mansion with hopes to bring attention to the condition of the property. After this, patriotic ladies' organizations and First Lady Alice Noel convinced the Legislature to appropriate $30,000 for a renovation that was directed by local architect William S. Hull.

In 1908-1909, the renovation consisted of the construction of a two-story family annex that was added to the back of the mansion. The older windows were replaced with a double-pane style to look more contemporary. The three-part window on the back of the mansion was bricked in, as well. A center staircase was added to give access to the new annex and the original staircase was removed. New entrances were created from the hall to the State Dining Room and from the hall to the Back Rose Parlor. These openings matched the size and look of the original entrances between the State Dining Room and Gold Parlor, as well as the double Rose Parlors. A new beveled glass door replaced the original front door, and hardwood flooring was positioned on top of the old pine plank flooring. Yellow pressed brick was added to the exterior of the Governor's Mansion to match the two-story annex. The mansion kept the yellow brick until it was painted white during the 1940-1943 term of Governor Paul B. Johnson Sr.

The mansion's structure was deemed unsafe for occupancy in July 1971, and Governor John Bell Williams had to vacate the mansion. The safety inspection determined only a major restoration could make the Governor's Mansion livable again.

Governor-elect William Waller met with the State Building Commission in December 1971. At this meeting, a resolution was adopted that recommended to the Legislature the mansion be "completely restored, refurbished, and refurnished." The Board of Trustees of the Department of Archives and History was put in charge of advising the project's architect and Charlotte Capers was named the principal executive for the project. Soon after Governor Waller's inauguration in January 1972, funds were set aside by the Legislature for the 1972-1975 restoration and renovation of the Governor's Mansion.

Charlotte Capers acquired two prominent consultants for the project: Charles E. Peterson and Edward Vason Jones. Peterson, an architectural historian and restorationist, was best known for his restoration of Independence Hall. Jones was not only an architect and interior designer, but also a consultant to the White House. Both men worked alongside the project architects, Lewis-Eaton Partnership, Inc., on the historic and original parts of the mansion. The family annex built in 1908 was deemed unsafe in 1971. A new annex was built to provide more living quarters and office space.

The $2.7 million restoration and renovation of the Governor's Mansion was completed and dedicated on June 8, 1975. The mansion was deemed a National Historic Landmark for its "architectural and historical significance" in 1975.

OLD CAPITOL MUSEUM

100 South State Street, Jackson 39201
(601) 576-6920

The Old Capitol was the location of some of Mississippi's most important legislative actions. The passage of the 1839 Married Women's Property Act, Mississippi's succession from the Union in 1861, and the creation of the 1868 and 1890 state constitutions are a few significant events that occurred at the Old Capitol.

The Old Capitol was reopened by the state as a free museum after being restored. The museum focuses on the notable history of the building and the important events that have taken place there. Various multimedia displays show the roles of elected officials and the high court. The museum also showcases the importance of historic preservation to the state and the activities that occurred after the new Capitol was built in 1903.

The Old Capitol is a National Historic Landmark, as well as one of the country's best examples of Greek revival architecture. In 1839, the limestone exterior, copper dome, and large interior spaces made the building the most distinguished building in the state.

The architect for the Old Capitol was William Nichols. Nichols was born in 1780 in Bath, England and immigrated to the United States in 1800. Nichols came to Mississippi in 1835 as the new state architect. His first job was to tear down the building the previous architect had started. He also had to use limestone, even though he knew it was of lesser quality. Construction had to be slowed repeatedly because of problems with the brick suppliers and blocks of stone had to be carried by wagon to Jackson. Even though it was not an easy project, Nichols never gave up.

Besides small details on the interior of the building, the Capitol was completed by February 1840. In June 1840 a chandelier arrived and the final expense for flagging the rotunda was made on October 13, 1940. The total cost of the Capitol totaled $400,000, a very large amount for that time. Nichols also designed the Mississippi Governor's Mansion and the State's first penitentiary. The penitentiary was located where the current State Capitol building now stands.

The Old Capitol Museum finished its last major renovation in 2009. The Old Capitol was the State's history museum from 1961 until 2005. Hurricane Katrina damaged the building and forced its closure. In 2006, the Legislature provided most of the $16 million to fund the project. Work began in January 2007 and the museum opened in early 2009.

The 2009 restoration brought major changes to Mississippi's most historic landmark. New changes and additions include the following: faux-limestone façade, wrought iron fence, historic Governor's office, state library, senate chamber, glass doors to legislative chambers, new draperies and carpets, light fixtures in the rotunda, and new staircase balusters.

The Old Capitol Museum is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesday through Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. The museum is closed on Monday. Admission to the Old Capitol is free, but please call ahead to schedule tours for groups of ten or more.

E. T. WOOLFOLK STATE OFFICE BUILDING

501 North West Street, Jackson 39201

The E. T. Woolfolk Office Building stands immediately to the west of the Mississippi Capitol. The building was completed in 1949 at a cost of almost $3.7 million. The original 259,000 square feet, 15-story building formed an appropriate backdrop to the new Capitol building. This building housed up to 28 State agencies at one point, making it a major hub of activity. At the time of construction, the Woolfolk building was the largest in the State.

In 1946, the Legislature authorized the building of a state facility to relieve the financial burdens of rents for State agencies. Architects E. L. Malvaney and Associates, Emmett J. Hull, Cary Jones, and Frank Gates were selected to design the building. The general contractor for the building was J.A. Jones Construction Company.

Governor Fielding L. Wright and other members of the Building Commission were responsible for the rapid progress in getting the project started and completed in the most timely and cost effective way.

The Woolfolk Building not only met the functional need for consolidating state agencies to one building, but was designed to reflect and highlight Mississippi's rich culture and heritage. For this reason, a portion of the building showcased Mississippi's industrial, recreational, and agricultural advantages in attractive displays and exhibits.

The building was named for Senatobia native Ellis Trigg Woolfolk (1877–1946), a state senator and representative who chaired the House Appropriations Committee. A 500-car parking garage was added in 2000 and an annex was added to the State office building in 2001.

CARROLL GARTIN JUSTICE BUILDING

450 High Street, Jackson 39201

The Carroll Gartin Justice Building is home to the Mississippi Supreme Court and the Mississippi Court of Appeals. In 1993, planning for a new justice building began. Construction began in 2001 and the courts started moving in 2008. The building is named after former Lieutenant Governor Garroll Gartin. Gartin was also a two-term mayor of Laurel. He died while completing his third term as lieutenant governor in December 1966.

The remodeled building was designed to match the State Capitol across the street. The four-story building is 162,000 square feet and topped with a copper roof. The exterior consists of more than 10,000 pieces of Indiana limestone.

The State Supreme Court has been located in various buildings since its beginning in 1818. Originally, the court met at the Adams County Courthouse in Natchez. After moving to Monticello from 1826 to 1828, the Supreme Court relocated back to Natchez. From 1839 to 1903, the court met inside the Old Capitol in Jackson. The court moved from the current Capitol building to the original Gartin Justice Building in 1974.

HEBER LADNER BUILDING

401 Mississippi Street, Jackson 39201

Constructed in 1924, the building now houses the Secretary of State's Office. The building started out as a library designed by architect N.W. Overstreet. The neoclassical Italian Renaissance-revival building was renovated in 1980. The two-story building contains 12,520 square feet of office and meeting space.

WAR MEMORIAL BUILDING

120 South State Street, Jackson 39201

The War Memorial Building was designed by E.L. Malvaney and completed in 1940 as a tribute to Mississippi veterans. The exterior of the building is very restful and austere, but the interior is full of art deco style. Several veteran's associations and a military museum are located inside the building. A replica of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is located in the courtyard.

WALTER SILLERS BUILDING

550 High Street, Jackson 39201

Currently, the Sillers Building houses the Offices of Medicaid, the Attorney General, and other State Agencies.

WILLIAM F. WINTER ARCHIVES AND HISTORY BUILDING

200 North Street, Jackson 39201

The William F. Winter Archives and History Building was dedicated in November 2003. It serves as the main administration building and home to Mississippi's archives collection. The building shares a bluff in downtown Jackson with three prominent historic structures, including the War Memorial Building, the Capers Building, and the Old Capitol Building. The architecture of this facility mixes well with its historic neighbors and forms a suitable backdrop for the Old Capitol. The facility's major divisions are public areas for the study of state archives, administrative office spaces, archivists work areas, and archival stack storage areas.

ROBERT E. LEE BUILDING

239 North Lamar Street, Jackson 39201

The Italian Renaissance-style building was built in 1930 as a luxury hotel designed by Jackson architect Claude H. Lindsley. In 1969, the building was sold to the state and remodeled for government offices. It was again renovated in 1981 and 2011.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

359 North West Street, Jackson 39201

Parts of this building date as early as 1888-1889. Its present Collegiate Gothic appearance is due to major remodeling in 1925. Currently, it houses offices for the Mississippi Department of Education.

OFFICE OF CAPITOL FACILITIES

The Office of Capitol Facilities executes the responsibilities required to guarantee all buildings under this Office's jurisdiction are kept operable and maintained. This Office also performs custodial duties and maintains grounds. Another responsibility of this Office is parking at the state buildings.

The Office of Capitol Facilities currently has 24 buildings under its jurisdiction: Central High Building, New Capitol Building, Burroughs Building, Carroll Gartin Building, Governor's Mansion, Heber Ladner Building, Robert E. Lee Building, 700 North State Street, Walter Sillers Building, Charlotte Capers Building, GM&O Depot Building, 515 Amite Street, Old Capitol Building, Manship House, Manship Visitor's Center, War Memorial Building, 301 Building, Carpenter Shop, State Records Center, E. T. Woolfolk Building, E. L. Bolton State Office Building (Biloxi), and State Service Buildings #1 and #2 (Hattiesburg). The 660 North Street and the 620 North Street Buildings are also under the jurisdiction of Capitol Facilities.

1119 Pinehurst Street, Jackson 39202
(601) 353-7762
www.mdah.ms.gov/welty

The Eudora Welty House is a National Historic Landmark and one of the nation's most intact literary house museums, reflecting Welty's life there over 76 years. Welty left her house and collection of thousands of books to the State. The Welty family also donated furniture and art. Visitors will see Welty's house as she lived in it.

JIM BUCK ROSS AGRICULTURE & FORESTRY MUSEUM

1150 Lakeland Drive, Jackson 39216
(601) 432-4500
www.msagmuseum.org

Celebrating Mississippi's proud agricultural legacy, the museum invites visitors to park their vehicle, walk across a rustic bridge, and enter a bygone era. Guides reveal how agriculture and forestry molded the history and heritage of the State. Various museums of the Ag Museum include the Heritage Center, Forestry Auditorium, Ethnic Heritage Center, Fitzgerald Collection, and more.

MANSHIP HOUSE MUSEUM

420 East Fortification Street, Jackson 39202
(601) 961-4724
www.mdah.ms.gov/new/visit/manship-house-museum

The Manship House was built on a four-acre lot in a sparsely settled area of Jackson when it was a city of about 3,000. Although the city has grown up around the house, it stands in its original setting of native trees and shrubs, some of which may have been planted by Manship himself.

MISSISSIPPI MUSEUM OF NATURAL SCIENCE

2148 Riverside Drive, Jackson 39202
(601) 576-6000
www.mdwfp.com/museum

Located in LeFleur's Bluff State Park, the Museum's buildings and group feature a 73,000-square-foot exhibit complex overlooking a 300-acre natural landscape, 2.5 miles of nature trails and an open-air amphitheater.

MUSEUM OF MISSISSIPPI HISTORY

200 North Street, Jackson 39201
(601) 576-6850

The Museum of Mississippi History opens in celebration of Mississippi's bicentennial. The museum explores the entirety of the State's history.

MISSISSIPPI CIVIL RIGHTS MUSEUM

200 North Street, Jackson 39201
(601) 576-6800

The Mississippi Civil Rights Museum is the first State-sponsored civil rights museum in the nation and opens in celebration of Mississippi's bicentennial. The museum focuses on the years 1945 to 1976 and aims to tell the story of extraordinary struggle to guarantee equal rights for all.

MISSISSIPPI ARMED FORCES MUSEUM

CSJFTC - Museum Building 850, Hattiesburg 39407
(601) 558-2757
www.armedforcesmuseum.com

The Mississippi Armed Forces Museum is the only State-operated museum in Mississippi dedicated completely to military history. The museum honors the service and sacrifices of people from all branches of the military and houses over 15,000 artifacts.

In 1926, an act of the Mississippi Legislature created the Mississippi Library Commission. Today, the Agency offers a wide variety of direct and indirect services to libraries, government agencies, and the citizens of Mississippi. The Mississippi Library Commission's mission statement is to be "committed—through leadership, advocacy, and service—to strengthening and enhancing libraries and library services for all Mississippians." The vision for the Agency is "that all Mississippians have access to quality library services in order to achieve their greatest potential, participate in a global society and enrich their daily lives."
